W.N. Boy First of Male Sex To Win Graphic Baby Derby

A boy finally did it! After three years of female supremacy, a boy has won the honor of being the first baby born at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital in the New Year.

The 1954 winner of the Graphic Baby Derby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell D'Argento of 98 Waltham street, West Newton. He came into the world at 5:16 a.m. New Year's morning, breaking the string of female "firsts" at three and becoming the first male winner of the Derby.

A fine array of prizes donated by progressive Newton merchants, awaits the young gentleman's return from the hospital. There are also gifts for the child's parents, who now have a fair of children. Their other pride and joy is another son, Russell.

The Graphic inaugurated its "first baby of the year at the Newton - Wellesley Hospital" contest in 1951, and little girls have been crowned winners up to this year. Little Miss Holly Jean Hawkesley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hawkesley of Waban was the 1951 winner.

The following two years the prizes went to a pair of little girls from Natick, Miss Susan Farist Butler, daughter of Mr.

Rawson Challenges Dem. Claim of GOP Drop in Newton

A Democratic state representative's claim that Republican voting strength in Newton has dropped about six per cent was discounted in a statement this week to The Graphic by Rep. George E. Rawson of Newton.

Rep. Rawson declared, "The statement of Rep. Robert L. Murphy of Malden, Democratic House leader, as reported in the December 17 Graphic, that the Republican party has suffered a six per cent loss in strength in Newton sounds interesting at first glance. It would be important if it were actually true. He was speaking about the special election of December 8 as compared with the 1952 state election.

"Rep. Murphy were as well-informed regarding election statistics as he should be, he would know, or at least he should know, that special elections follow an entirely different pattern from state elections.

"In a special election, the party which is in the large majority in the district always is faced with a light vote because its members usually feel that their candidate is a sure winner, and they do not go to the polls to the extent that they do

POLITICAL OVERTONES

Herter Rated as Stronger Now Than in 1952 ... Believed to Have Entrenched His Position ...

Tests of public sentiment that have been made and polls that have been taken indicate that the Republican party in Massachusetts isn't as strong today as it was at the time of the 1952 Presidential election.

They have been interpreted to mean that Congressmen Laurence Curtis and Angier Goodwin may face stiff fights next November, if their districts are not bolstered by the proposed G.O.P. Gerrymander.

That might also be construed as indicating that the storm signals are up for Governor Herter in view of the slim margin by which he won election a year ago last fall, while President Eisenhower was sweeping the State. However, that might be a dangerous assumption.

Even though the G.O.P. generally may have lost some strength, the political evidence indicates that Governor Herter is in a much more potent position today than when he launched his uphill battle to unseat Gov. Dever.

CHARTER REVISION, GREATER "HOME RULE", IS AIM OF MAYOR WHITMORE

Set March 9 For Election In 3 Wards

February 16 and March 9 are the dates set for the special primary and special election in Wards 4, 5 and 6 to fill the state representative seat resigned by Mayor Howard Whitmore, according to a notice received Monday at Newton City Hall.

A meeting of the new board of aldermen has been called for tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 to pass orders on the election. Mayor Whitmore resigned from the 5th Middlesex District state post the day before his inauguration as the city's chief executive.

The precept sent the city by Speaker of the House Charles Gibbons sets the deadline for filing nomination papers at City Hall at 5 p.m. on Tuesday, January 19. Papers must be filed with the secretary of the Commonwealth by the following Tuesday, January 26.

The last day that voters may register before the primary is Wednesday, January 27. On that day, City Hall will be open to 10 p.m. for late registrants. On Wednesday, February 17, City Hall will again be open to 10 p.m. for registration.

Newton Red Cross Joins Eight Chapters to Improve Service

The Newton Red Cross Chapter is one of nine which have banded together under the name of the Parkway Council to give the best possible service to hospitalized veterans and servicemen in this area. The other cooperating chapters are Needham, Wellesley, Weston, Natick, Framingham, Hingham, Walpole and Boston Metropolitan.

Thousands of volunteer hours, including scores from this community, are devoted to this work at the Jamaica Plain and West Roxbury Veterans' Administration Hospitals, Brighton Marine Hospital and Chelsea Naval Hospital.

Volunteers who serve the hospitals come from practically all Red Cross services, Gray Ladies, Nurses' Aides, Canteen, Entertainment and Supply, Production, Motor Service, Arts and Skills and Staff Aides.

Newton National Bank Opens New Nonantum Branch at 433 Watertown Street Today

Replacing temporary quarters formerly located at 429 Watertown Street, the Newton National Bank today opens modern branch banking facilities to serve the Nonantum area at 433 Watertown street, Nonantum. Participating in the ribbon cutting ceremonies at the branch opening will be Howard Whitmore, Mayor of Newton. Also present will be officers and directors of the bank.

Conveniently located for shoppers and motorists, the new branch has ample parking facilities at the side of and to the rear of the bank. Constructed in record breaking time by the Farina Construction Company, the new office will replace temporary facilities which have been in use for the past three and one half months. More than one thousand people have opened accounts at the new branch since its opening, proving that Nonantum residents and businessmen welcome the establishment of banking services in their own shopping area.

Of striking exterior design, the new office of the Newton National Bank is finished in white glazed brick with dozens of large steel slash windows. The interior is attractively finished in handsome, light-colored Philippine mahogany. There is a spacious lobby and the whole banking area is designed for comfort and efficiency with air conditioning and acoustic ceilings making for ideal operations.

Complete Safe Deposit Box facilities with adjacent spacious private inspection rooms are available to all bank customers. The branch thus will offer complete banking services to the Nonantum area. Serving branch customers under the direction of Manager John L. Martin, Jr., will be Miss Virginia Mathews and Miss Angelina Marini.

Currently under construction for the Newton National Bank is a large new Maine Office at Newton Corner. It is expected that the new main building

Dr. R. B. Cattell Takes Over Late Dr. Lahey's Post

New England Baptist Hospital trustees announced late Monday, the appointment of Dr. Richard B. Cattell as surgeon-in-chief of the hospital to take over the post left vacant by the death last June of the world-famous Dr. Frank H. Lahey. Dr. Cattell is a resident of Newton and resides at 87 Highland street.

Dr. Cattell was born in Martins Ferry, O., and attended Mt. Union College, Alliance, O., and Harvard Medical School. He is also on the staff of the Lahey Clinic and the New England Deaconess Hospital.

Dr. Cattell is a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons and honorary consultant of the

"Responsibility Rests Solely With Parents" Says Dist. Atty.

The intense crackdown on illegal narcotics traffic, which has netted 70 persons and $400,000 worth of dope in the past few months has only "scratched the surface," Dist. Atty. Garrett Byrne of Suffolk County declared Sunday at a breakfast meeting of Temple Shalom Brotherhood held in West Newton, 22 of the peddlers arrested have been sentenced to State Prison terms, he said.

The roundup of dope peddlers and addicts in the Greater Boston area was touched off by the death of a Chelsea juvenile allegedly addicted to narcotics. "I don't think we've scratched the surface," he asserted, pointing to the recent arrest of a man who used a high school boy to sell marijuana cigarettes and other narcotics to teen-aged classmates.

Illegal dope traffic is one of the major causes of the recent upswing in juvenile delinquency and youthful crimes, as young

Civil Service Row in Court Trial Jan. 20

Newton's battle with the State Civil Service Commission over the reinstatement of a Newton police officer who twice faced court charges of drunkenness is temporarily at a standstill pending a trial in Suffolk Superior Court Wednesday, January 20.

After the Civil Service Commissioner declined to review its ordered reinstatement of patrolman Ernest W. Prescott, the city asked the court to quash the action. The Commission has until next Wednesday to complete its pleadings in answer to the suit brought by Newton.

Patrolman Prescott was scheduled to report for duty Friday following a six-month suspension. It was during this suspension that he was convicted of drunkenness in Concord District Court and later fired by the city. His dismissal was overruled by the Civil Service Commission.

The patrolman reported for duty Friday morning, but was informed by Capt. Charles E.

Complete Text of Mayor Whitmore's Address Appears on Page 9

Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., in his inaugural address before more than six hundred citizens at City Hall last Friday, stressed the need for "more home rule" for cities and towns in the Commonwealth and also stated that he would "continue to resist the present West-East toll road proposal even though it appears to be a lost cause."

The address of Mayor Whitmore was perhaps one of the most concise and comprehensive inaugural addresses which has been delivered in this city for many years and it left no doubt as to the course the new administration would follow in the months to come.

The mayor outlined the growth of the city and cited the present expenditures of the local government as well as

Mr.-Mrs. Walker Win Silver Medal For Waban Garden

A silver medal for their garden has been awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Walker of 711 Chestnut street, Waban, by the Massachusetts Horticultural Society.

The medal was voted to the Walkers at a meeting of the Society's Board of Trustees early last month. The report of the committee recommending the award read, "Their neighborliness has made of the bordering public sidewalk and their own retaining wall a path of beauty and horticultural education for the passer-by, where birches shade the perfectly-kept gravel edged with lawn, and the sloping wall down which alpine plants and pockets of flowers."

The garden is along Wyman street near the corner of Chestnut street. It is a spring garden and is at its best early in May and continuing through May and June.

New Members Sought to Aid Newton's Community Museum

A drive for members has been launched by the "Friends of the Jackson Homestead," a voluntary association formed for the purpose of participating in the development of a Newton Historical Center and Community Museum.

The organization is seeking new members for their year which begins May 1. The three classifications of members are annual membership, $1; annual sustaining membership, $5; and life membership, $100.

The Jackson Homestead, located at 527 Washington street, Newton, is the property of the city by the gift of a ninth-generation descendant of Edward Jackson. The first house, a salt-box type, was built in 1670. In 1809 the present and lovelier home was built, and much of the good material from the old house was used in its construction.

giving a clear outline of what the needs of the future might be, and he cautioned that the present "surplus cash" of the city was in his opinion at a dangerously low figure.

Perhaps from a local angle the mayor's address dwelt with a revision of the city charter which he termed "outmoded" and the need for the establishment of a "Personnel Board" to deal with salaries, wages, hours and other conditions affecting city employees. Newton's 2440 city employees are paid a total of $8 million annually, a figure representing 65 percent of the city budget.

Mayor Whitmore referred, without stating specifically, to the controversial case of Ernest W. Prescott, suspended patrolman, whose reinstatement by the Civil Service Commission is being opposed by city officials in the Superior Court. This matter was one of the points stressed as a need for "more home rule" by cities and towns of the Commonwealth.

He stated also that at a recent meeting of mayors with President Eisenhower in Washington, he was told that Newton, because of its proximity to Watertown and that town's arsenal, is considered a critical target area. Civil Defense methods and organization will have to be improved, he cautioned.

Charles Gibbons, speaker of the Massachusetts House, presented Mayor Whitmore a gift from the legislature and read a letter accepting Whitmore's resignation from the Legislature.

Mayor Whitmore was given the oath of office by Judge Paul G. Kirk of the Superior Court.

At a brief meeting following the inaugural ceremonies, the Board of Aldermen voted an appropriation to cover a 7 percent cost-of-living adjustment for city employees to be incorporated into their permanent salaries.

Also sworn in Friday were 21 members of the Board of Aldermen, including its first woman member, Miss Adelaide B. Ball; and seven School Committee members. Wendell R. Bauckman was re-elected president of the Board of Aldermen, and William R. Mattson, vice-president. Dr. Gordon B. Russell was re-elected chairman of the School Committee.

Aldermen-at-large sworn in by Mayor Whitmore were: Leo M. Cannon, William A. Diman, William R. Mattson, John W. Whitmore, Joseph B. Davis, John P. Nixon, V. Stoddard Bigelow, Earl R. Wood, Wendell R. Bauckman, Edwin A. Terkelsen, Lawrence B. Damon, William P. Ripley, Winfield C. Anderson and Richard H. Lovell.

Ward aldermen sworn in were: Adelaide B. Ball, Stuart M. Spaulding, Charles H. Cosgrove, Harry J. Ham, Jr., H. Eugene Jones, Hirsch Sharf and William M. Powers.

Members of the School Committee sworn in were: Francis P. Frazier, Genevieve R. Oncley, James B. Palmer, Guernsey Camp, Jr., Henry W. Keyes, Haskell C. Freedman and Gordon B. Russell.

The range of work covers a Sunday afternoon coffee hour for 20 patients to give stationery to men able to write their own letters. Newspapers are provided for a hospital day-room and muslin bags are made for bedside articles. Entertainers from the Broadway stage to the amateur are "booked" for hospital shows.

The chief aim of the volunteers from the Red Cross Chapters in the council is to chase gloom and provide friendly services for the patients. The schedule, to cover each of the hospitals, is as intricate as a railroad time-table. But the work is done cheerfully and Red Cross volunteers are on the job seven days a week.

The volunteer ranks are comprised of office girls, housewives, club members, college girls and husbands who often drive for the Motor Service in the evening. Each is filling a special assignment to continue not only the Red Cross policy of "People Helping People" but to maintain the chief Red Cross responsibility which is service to the armed forces and veterans.

The Council chairman is Mrs. Morton Smith of Wellesley. Newton is represented by Mrs. Philip K. Brown of Waban as coordinator and Mrs. Robert W. Moore, Jr., also of Waban.

addicts turn to violence to secure money for narcotics, he said.

"The vicious youngster, unlike the innocent prankster of another era, is a new phenomenon and a dangerous element who can influence decent youngsters," the district attorney told his audience.

"If they commit adult crimes, they must get adult punishment," the prosecutor declared, citing strong-arm extortion methods of juvenile gangs which force innocent youths into crime.

Calling on parents to pay closer attention to their children's activities, he warned that the responsibility for their actions "rests solely with the parents."

Byrne answered publicly what he termed "numerous queries" about closing the Old Howard and Casino burlesque theatres by revealing that police reports indicated groups of under-age girls had been at-

"The welfare of the children is among my most important responsibilities. I am happy to have done it and will do it again, if necessary," he warned.

Newton Junior College has announced the evening college courses for adults which will be offered in the winter semester. There are no formal admission requirements for the classes which are open to non-residents as well as to people who live in the Newtons. Classes meet in Junior College rooms in the high school, Technical Building, Elm road, Newtonville.

Classes begin in the week of January 18 and interested persons should register by January 12. Registration can be completed by phone, LA 5-76267, or by visit to the college office. Classes meet one evening a week for eleven weeks. College credit is given where desired.

Great Philosophies is offered by Dr. Richard Millard, Head of the Department of Philosophy, Boston University. Thursdays, 7:30 to 9:30. Main Topics: The nature of self — you as a person. When can we, as persons, consider ourselves to be free? The structure of Nature: naturalistic — materialistic philosophies. Our belief in God: theistic philosophies. In this course, you will learn about certain basic philosophies and discuss these great ideas.

Conversational Spanish will be given by Mr. Francesco Argento of Newton Junior College. Tuesdays, 7:30 to 9:30. This is the second term of the course; an excellent entry for those who know a little Spanish and for those who need a review. The course, begun last October, is for beginners in the language.

Real Estate Fundamentals is taught by Mr. John Kunhardt, Vice-President, Hunneman and Company. Thursdays, 7:30 to 9:30. This elementary course puts principal emphasis on the selling of residential property. Sample topics: estimating market value; what to look for in a house; real estate as a career; income — producing properties; site selection; architecture; securing clients; salesmanship; the time to buy.

Income Tax Reporting is a class meeting on Mondays, 7:30 to 9:30. Do you need help in reporting your income tax? Learn to prepare your tax return with accuracy and to your own financial advantage. Class sessions will include both general introductory periods and those built upon your express needs. Individual tax returns; exemptions; deductions; determination of gain or loss; interest, taxes, contributions, and medical expenses; depreciation; bad debts; tax withholding; present laws.

'Lux and Bagles' Breakfast Held At Temple Reyim

With President Dr. Herbert Shepard presiding, the Brotherhood of Temple Reyim, West Newton, held its monthly meeting recently in the form of a "Lux and Bagles" Breakfast.

Over a hundred members were on hand including several guests from other nearby congregations. Rabbi Harold D. Kastle delivered the opening prayer both in Hebrew and in English, after which the meal was served by Mac Greenberg and his committee.

Past President Nat Goldstein spoke briefly on the Buick Ticket Campaign and its importance to the Building Fund. A tape-recorded skit, produced by Herb Shepard, similar in format to TV's Dragnet series and pertaining to the Ticket Campaign, was presented to the group.

On the serious side, Guest Speaker Edward Bershak, well-known Boston attorney and official of the Massachusetts Civil Liberties Union, discussed in every-day language the Fifth Amendment, its abuses and original intent. He took us on an historical trail showing the evolution of the Amendment and its true meaning.

Mr. Bershak mentioned the various reasons for the current rash of people taking refuge behind the Fifth Amendment and the legal, moral and social implications of doing so. Touched on were the several Congressional Investigating Committees, their procedures and net worth.

By Mary Lee Taylor

Turkey Patties

1 Tablespoon fat
2 Tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
few grains pepper
1 cup Fat Milk
1 cup finely cut turkey or chicken, cooked or canned

Melt fat in saucepan. Blend in flour, salt and pepper. Stir in gradually 1/2 cup milk. Cook until very thick, stirring all the time. Stir in turkey, onion and bread crumbs. Chill. Shape into 8 small patties. Roll patties in corn flake crumbs. Dip into 1/2 cup milk. Save any milk that is left. Roll patties again in crumbs. Brown on both sides in 1/4 inch hot fat. Mix soup and milk left from dipping patties. Heat until steaming hot, but do not boil. Serve over patties. Makes 4 servings.

Political Overtones

One thing that must be remembered about Mr. Herter is that he was not particularly well known outside his own Congressional district when he announced his candidacy for Governor in 1952.

He was extremely popular and widely respected in his district, but his sector covered only a comparatively small portion of the State.

Today he is known and respected as a man of ability and integrity from one end of Massachusetts to the other, and even though Ike's popularity apparently has slipped somewhat, there is no reason to believe that the Governor has done the same. He appears to have entrenched himself against the drive that will be made to dislodge him.

Representative James A. Burke, Hyde Park Democrat, is apparently shocked and dismayed by the discovery that Governor Herter and ex-Governor Dever will be able to come pretty close to dictating the makeup of the tickets which will be endorsed by the State conventions of their respective parties next June.

Mr. Burke doesn't put it quite that way, but he declares that he was startled to learn that the Democratic bosses will be able to handpick 500 delegates to their convention and the Republican chiefs about 300 delegates to their conclave.

Most political observers have realized for some time that Messrs. Herter and Dever could write their own tickets for their State conventions, if they choose to do so, and it has been generally anticipated that they would do exactly that, but in a deft and polite manner, of course.

Representative Burke, however, came upon information in a convincing, if rather novel fashion. As a prospective aspirant for Lieutenant Governor, he set about the task of trying to line-up some delegates in support of his candidacy.

He discovered that there aren't any Democratic delegates in Dedham, Needham and 211 other towns, almost all of which customarily vote Republican, but where Democratic State Committee Chairman John C. Carr will appoint 325 delegates.

And in 26 cities where the Democratic organizations are not complete, Carr also will name the committees which will appoint 175 other delegates.

Burke figures with some justification that this is going to give Chairman Carr a tidy block of 500 hand-picked delegates for the convention.

The writer adds the observation that since Mr. Carr was placed in his job by ex-Governor Dever and is responsive to Mr. Dever's wishes, the latter will be in a position to control the votes. We hasten to add that we realize he would not dream of doing such a thing, but the possibility is there nevertheless.

The same situation on a slightly smaller scale exists on the G.O.P. side. Republican State Committee Chairman Elmer Nelson, who was put in his post by Governor Herter, will be able to appoint close to 100 delegates from 59 towns where there are no local committees organized and will dictate the selection of more than 200 delegates from 24 cities whose ward committees are not in operation.

This isn't going to be particularly crucial from Governor Herter's standpoint because it's already pretty well known that the Republican slate will be headed by Christian A. Herter for Governor, Leverett Saltonstall for U. S. Senator, Sumner G. Whittier for Lieutenant Governor and George Fingold for Attorney General.

The only prizes the G.O.P. convention will have to pass out will be the endorsements for State Treasurer, Secretary of State and State Auditor.

It will be a little different, however, at the Democratic convention where a number of free-for-all fights will be waged for endorsements of varying importance and where Chairman Carr will be able to serve as a traffic cop and flag down those who don't get the official nod.

The fact is, of course, that Governor Herter and ex-Governor Dever probably could control their respective conventions even if they didn't have large numbers of hand-picked delegates waiting for word on what to do, and both presumably will employ their influence in an effort to bal-

ALONG THE WAY of life one encounters many interesting people, facts and things. The immediate observations are soon, all too soon, to pass from one's memory unless recorded. Life in itself is interesting and presents an ever changing picture, sometimes happy, sometimes sad. But the over-all picture is well worth the effort to record, to memorize and to accentuate.

For instance, I was recently waiting at Newton Corner for an acquaintance. The traffic at the moment in the street was quite heavy. While standing there, an elderly, very distinguished looking old gentleman came along and soon started a conversation with me, probably for the purpose of discussing pleasant memories. He was quite concerned with the amount of traffic and the hazards which it created. Going back to his boyhood days, which surely must have been around 1880, he compared the serenity of life then with the present day nerve-racking conditions. He soon began to dwell upon his boyhood days, the pleasures of his youth and the contentment which was predominant with the people of those happier days. Although I must confess my days on this earth did not go back that far, not by many a year, nevertheless I could visualize what he was so eagerly talking about because I too, can remember with many happy thoughts, some of those tranquil years of an earlier day when all was not hustle and bustle as it is today. Then too, there were no radios, no television, few automobiles and certainly no Communists. Instead there were base-ball games in the lot, swimming at the beach, healthful games and parties, and of course, visits from relatives or acquaintances on Sundays when the order of the day was to discuss events, people, life and death. It was those days when a dollar was a dollar and one needed not the high wages which prevail today because the cost of living was considerably, yes very considerably less, than it is today. Somehow then, a penny in the possession of a youngster bought a lot of candy or other goodies. People then, somehow, were much happier. I do believe, that they are today despite all the modern inventions, conveniences and labor-saving devices. True, the chores of yesterday were more laborious than they are today but I never heard anyone complain. True, the working hours in business and factories were much, much longer than they are today, but I never heard anyone complain. True, folks did not travel around in cars in their spare time as they do today, but I never heard anyone complain. True, events were not moving as swiftly as they are today, but I never heard anyone complain. Yes, there may have been much less activities, much less modern devices as we know them today, much less so-called social activities as are afforded today, but I sometimes wonder if the young folks of today, when they become the older folks of tomorrow, will be able to retain such vivid, wholesome and happy memories of today as the older folks of today retain of youth. Why am I dwelling on such thoughts as these? All because, by chance, a kindly, intelligent and highly educated old gentleman happened to stop and talk with me, to pass the time of day as it were, which brought back to me many memories of those happy, youthful days which I had almost forgotten. I am glad that old gentleman stopped and talked to me that day, all because the traffic was heavy at Newton Corner.

Some progress has been made and there is prospect for further changes.

Congress recognized the importance of the subject when it directed the new Hoover Commission to make a special study of government invasion of the field of private enterprise.

A special House Government Affairs Sub-committee headed by Rep. Cecil M. Harden, Indiana Republican, also is studying the subject.

The Eisenhower administration succeeded in selling the Mississippi River Barge Line, has authorized a commission to seek sale of synthetic rubber plants, and by abolishing the depression-born RFC has eliminated some competition with financing institutions.

Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson, who heads the greatest single agency in the world, is firmly committed to giving private initiative and ingenuity full play in helping build an impregnable national defense.

Having risen from a humble start to head one of the world's greatest business establishments, Wilson believes firmly that American business skill provides the surest way to achieve a sound and elastic economy so essential in security planning.

He has directed the armed services to use privately-owned or government-owned industrial type facilities to the greatest extent practicable. One of the first of such orders was to discontinue processing iron and steel scrap.

There are many reasons for the leading figures of the present administration and Congress to favor private enterprise.

Aside from increased efficiency, one of the most cogent reasons is that it is difficult to get rid of a government agency even after the reason for its establishment has disappeared. For example, a government business to produce spruce for airplanes during World War I remained in existence for a score of years.

Another reason is the unfair basis of competition by government businesses, because they neither have to pay taxes nor provide profits. The lack of incentive for producing a profit often results in costs of production running higher than those of private business.

The Hoover Commission on Reorganization of the Executive Branch of the Government is seeking case histories of government competition with private industry, so that a searching inquiry can be made if the facts justify such action. It will submit recommendations based on its study. So you probably will be hearing about this subject for a considerable time.

White House conferences: Republican Senators say that Mr. Eisenhower's meetings with them marks the first time in years that a president has sought teamwork between the Executive Department and the Congress. President Truman made political capital out of his fights with Congress.

Government employees: while the problem of big government remains, the latest Byrd Committee figures show a reduction of civilian employment in government by 196,941 in one year. There still were 2,371,113 employees at the time of checking.

By WALTER CHAMBLIN, Jr.

The average American—if allowed to do so—can do more for himself than the government can do for him.

This is one of the basic beliefs of the Eisenhower administration and it is attempting to remove some of the government-erected hurdles to individual accomplishments that have appeared in the last 20 years.

The administration realizes that the basic strength of the United States lies in individual initiative. This is what sent the pioneer trekking westward to open up vast new areas of the continent. This is what developed the United States into the world's greatest industrial nation.

And the administration also realizes that what Russia respects most is strength. And it knows that this nation's present industrial strength (the ability to produce weapons for modern war) resulted primarily from individual initiative and not from government rules and regulations and restrictions.

One of the major government-erected hurdles to individual accomplishments is government competition with industry. Not much is being heard about it as yet, but intensive efforts are being made in Washington to lessen this government competition.

Some progress has been made and there is prospect for further changes.

Congress recognized the importance of the subject when it directed the new Hoover Commission to make a special study of government invasion of the field of private enterprise. WHO SAID THAT?

Editor, Graphic:

I was wondering if one of the readers of The Newton Graphic could tell me who is the author of the following piece:

"A gentleman is a man who is clean inside and outside; who never looks up to the rich or down on the poor; who can lose without whimpering; who can win without bragging; who is considerate to all women, children and old people—or those who are weaker or less fortunate than he is."

"A man who is too brave to lie; too generous to cheat; whose pride will not let him loaf, and who insists on doing his share of work in any capacity; a man who thinks of his neighbor before he thinks of himself, and asks only to share equally with all men the blessings which God has showered upon us."

THANK YOU!

Editor, Graphic:

May we of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association take this opportunity to thank you and everyone on The Newton Graphic for bringing the story of our 1953 Christmas Seal Sale to the people of Newton.

Your awareness of the fact that TB is everyone's concern and that the sale of Christmas Seals is the only method of financing our rehabilitation, health education, case finding, and medical research is laudable.

Best wishes to everyone of the Newton Graphic staff for a happy, healthy and prosperous New Year.

The Governor's Day

By HELEN HALL MAHONEY

Chairman George F. Booth and Most Reverend Bishop John J. Wright of the Central Massachusetts Disaster Relief Committee had luncheon with Governor Herter in the Office last week. There was apple pie for dessert but the Bishop and Mr. Booth, evidently watching their calories, declined it. . . . As they talked, the pie remained in sight with both Mr. Booth and the Bishop casting occasional wistful glances at it. Finally, Mr. Booth spoke: "Bishop, would you SHARE one piece of that pie with me?" The Bishop quickly assented, they cut one of the pieces in halves and each ate his half with great satisfaction.

Speaking of food, while Governor Herter has a good appetite and enjoys eating he's not at all "fussy" about his menus. For several months, every day he was in the office he ate a chicken salad sandwich and apple pie for lunch. . . . until the office staff couldn't stand it any longer. . . . they changed the menu to lobster salad, and a piece of melon. . . . and he's been eating that ever since, with the occasional addition of a piece of apple pie.

An interesting letter from Oscar Perkins of Gloucester told of a two-hundred year old needlework piece of art depicting Christ answering the Pharisees as to the value of the penny. The writer's mother was offered $200 for this piece but refused to sell it.

Arthur J. Lambert of Dodge, Mass., visited the office the other day with his pretty fiancée, Doris Hazzard. He was the 60,000th Korean veteran to receive a bonus check and said that he planned to spend the money ($300) on a honeymoon to Florida in June. He and Doris evidently are not superstitious since he gave his fiancée her engagement ring on Friday, November 13th, he said.

Mimi Gloria Cozens of Emerson College, chosen "Massachusetts State Campus Queen" was crowned by Governor Herter recently. A modest, charming person, she related that when she received the summons to the School Office (where she learned of her award) she died a thousand deaths on the way there, wondering what offense she had committed. Incidentally, in the National competition in New York last week, although Miss Arkansas won the "American Campus Queen," our Mimi won the National award for "Poise and Personality."

After Henry Glossky of Beverly was sworn in as senator the other day, Governor Herter gave him a formal introduction to the various members of the Governor's Council. As the Governor followed the course of the Council circle he pronounced each name and the new senator shook the councillor's hand. Councillor Thompson was absent but as they reached his desk, both the Governor and Senator were amused to discover five-year-old Mark Glossky seated in the absent councillor's chair, with his hand stretched out to greet his father.

That anything can happen in a governor's office can be tested to by assistant secretary Vincent Celeste.

A lady in her seventies visited the office recently. . . . Celeste did his best to help her. . . . and his best was so good that when she was about to leave she turned suddenly and said: "Oh, you're just a darling. I don't care who's looking, I'm going to kiss you right on the lips." Vinnie feigned, and stepped back quickly. . . . leaving us all to wonder if Vincent would have stepped back so quickly if the lady had been 20.

Mr. Gordon Walker, Assistant Foreign Editor of the Christian Science Monitor, will be presented through the courtesy of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company to the members of the Auburndale Woman's Club on January 13, following a regular club business meeting at which Mrs. Malcolm N. Jackson will preside. Mrs. Howard P. Converse is the day chairman and has for a number of years introduced the speaker on "Bank Day." The clergymen of Auburndale and the wives of the bank officials are the invited guests for the occasion.

Mrs. Harold B. Smith is hostess for the coffee hour which will precede the business meeting. Assisting her will be Mrs. James K. Glaser, Mrs. William F. Markey, Mrs. Frank Meyer, Mrs. Thomas J. Noone, Mrs. George M. Rowland, Mrs. James E. Sawyer, Miss Marion Shepard, Mrs. Harry E. Thompson, Mrs. Frank J. Tibert, Mrs.

Temple Shalom Dinner Dance Plans

The Sisterhood of Temple Shalom of Newton is planning an informal Dinner Dance the evening of February 13 at the Hotel Statler in honor of the installation of Rabbi Murray I. Rothman. An unusual program is being arranged for an evening of celebration with the new Rabbi and his wife. Mrs. Bernard Grossman is chairman of the dance, and Mrs. William Lebowich is the co-chairman. The active committee for the affair includes Mrs. Milton Schneider, treasurer; Mrs. Frank Cottle and Mrs. Louis Alpert, hostesses; Mrs. Nathaniel Kates and Mrs. Max Dobkin, reservations; Mrs. Daniel Miller, Mrs. Arnold Rosoff and Mrs. Arnold Toftas, publicity, art and printing; Mrs. Ralph Karol, mailing; Mrs. Samuel Stearns, program book; Mrs. Irving Mann, arrangements; Mrs. Aaron Rosenberg and Mrs. Sidney Simmons, program; Mrs. Steven Resnick, gift drawing; Mrs. Charles Bluestein and Mrs. Bernard Stoneberg, decorations.

CLCS

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will meet Monday afternoon, January 11th at 2:30 with Mrs. H. H. Howard at 1161 Boylston street.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The Literary Committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Peter Turcotte, 59 Wachusetts road, Chestnut Hill at 1:00 p.m. today. Mrs. Gustav Breitke will give the book review.

The Club will hold an Open Meeting tomorrow, Jan. 8, at the clubhouse. Coffee will be served at 1:30 p.m. and will be followed at 2:30 by a business meeting. At 3 o'clock the General Membership Program Committee will present Mr. William Harris, who will speak on "Lands of the Mediterranean." Mr. Harris comes to us from the American Express Company, which has chosen him because of his outstanding color photography and his gift of translating what he observes to his listeners in such a live manner that one feels that they actually are traveling from place to place with him.

Avery Lecture In Wellesley

Miss Eunice Avery will resume her lectures at the Community Playhouse in Wellesley Hills, Wednesday morning, Jan. 15th at 10:30 o'clock. Her subject "Germany" is most pertinent in view of present day happenings. As a world traveler and news analyst, Miss Avery has unusual ability to appraise undercurrents of news. Her capacity to choose the significant enables her to give a new understanding of world events. The meeting is open to the public.

Women's City Club

Miss Helen E. Cleaves of 129 Moffat road, Waban, will be the speaker at the regular Sunday evening program at the Women's City Club, Boston on January 10 at eight o'clock.

She will discuss design principles used in making pictures, decorations, etc.

For about four years Miss Cleaves and Miss Margaret D. Stone, who are co-chairmen of the Brush Welders Committee have conducted a clinic for club member artists once each month and some of the paintings of this group will be hung at the club from January 10 to February 7.

Newton Council of Church Women

Dr. Emory Stevens Bucke, New England Representative of the Methodist Publishing House, will be the speaker at the Mid-Winter meeting of the Newton Council of Church Women. It will take place at 2 o'clock Monday, January 11, at the First Unitarian Society in Newton, 1326 Washington street, West Newton, with Mrs. E. Tylor Parkhurst, president, presiding. The program is open to the general public as well as to the delegates of the twenty-four member churches.

Dr. Bucke will speak on the subject "Stretch Forth Thy Hand," dealing with the effectiveness of the ecumenical movement throughout the world. As present chairman of the Public Relations committee of the Massachusetts Council of Churches, a member of the Protestant delegation to Yugoslavia in 1947, and delegate to the Methodist Ecumenical Conference in 1948, as well as representative at many inter-faith meetings and conferences, Dr. Bucke is well qualified to speak of the world-wide trend toward Christian unity.

The theme of the Mid-Winter meeting will be based on the Call to Prayer for Christian Unity issued by the Committee on Faith and Order of the World Council of Churches. The annual Week of Prayer will be observed from January 13 to January 20, and, in recognition of this week, members of the 1,800 Protestant churches in the state were asked by Dr. Forrest L. Knapp, executive secretary of the Massachusetts Council of Churches, to pray for closer unity among Christians and for the success of the United Nations in its attempt to bring harmony to the nations of the world.

Greetings to the Newton Council of Church Women will be extended by Mrs. Harry Raymond, president of the Women's Alliance and by the Rev. John Ogden Fisher, minister of the host church. The tea following the program will be in charge of Mrs. Marshall I. Stone, chairman of the Nominating Committee of the Council.

Newton Centre Banks Exhibit Paintings

At the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company, Sophie Morrill is showing six watercolors. The artist uses this popular medium with skill and assurance having studied with some of our most sought-after teachers here in the East: Wayman Adams, Paul Sample, Bernard Keyes, Kay Peterson-Parker and others. A Yassar graduate, her painting career did not begin until after marriage. She has, however, achieved a technical mastery that has made her work acceptable in many juried shows including those of the Rockport and North Shore Art Association, Jordan Marsh's and the current exhibit of the de Cordova Lincoln Museum.

This present bank showing may be seen in Newton Centre from December 29 to January 12.

Sherwood Blodgett, one of our local well-known watercolorists has a collection of paintings on view at the Newton National Bank. His facility in the use of this elusive medium should give him the necessary authority in the "Science of Color" classes he is now offering. December 29 to January 12 are the dates for this show.

A group of paintings by Ruth M. Fonseca, gifted young Newton Centre artist are making gay the window and walls of the Newton Centre Savings Bank on Union street. This exhibit scheduled for earlier in the season will carry through January 12th.

All Newton Music School to Hold Family Night Dance at Norumbega

On Friday evening, January 22nd, at 8:00 p.m., the Parents' Auxiliary of the All-Newton Music School will present a varied program for its Family Night Dance, to be held at the Normandie Ballroom at Norumbega Park. There will be a Modern Dance contest for youngsters, a waltz contest for parents, square dancing for everyone, mixer dances, Mexican Hat Dance, Bunny Hop, and a half-hour rumba lesson for all by Dick Champagne, TV and Studio Dance Instructor.

The Association is also planning to show its new film about the All-Newton Music School, entitled "Music for All," in which about one hundred students of the school demonstrate its many activities.

Six junior hostesses, selected from the school, will facilitate the running of the program. They are: Jane Arnold, Brigitta Balos, Judy Bereson, Anne Barrs, Carol Douglas, and Dorothy Swanton.

Tickets for this family evening of fun may be obtained at $1.25 per family from Mrs. Henry Balos, 119 Park street (Telephone—LA 5-6252).

Lucy Jackson Chapter, D.A.R.

The Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R. will hold its regular meeting on Monday, Jan. 11 at the Chapter House in Newton Lower Falls. Mrs. Frederick J. Warren, regent, will conduct the business meeting at 2 p.m. Desert will be served at 1 p.m. by the hostesses, Mrs. Frederick H. Caswell and Mrs. Arthur G. Hoadley and their committee. The speaker will be Lt. Lawrence Clark from the Newton Fire Department.

Community Club

The third lecture of a series will be given on January 15th on "This Chaotic World" by Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor. This promises to be one of the most interesting lectures of the season. Mrs. Taylor will have no dearth of material, with the President's "State of the Union" message to analyze and the events of a new year to foretell in her opinion.

These lectures are held on the third Friday of each month at 10 a.m. in the First United Presbyterian Church, Newton. Single tickets are always available at the door.

Chairmen of the rummage sale are Mrs. Raymond Stoddard and Mrs. Edward Raphael.

Quaint Old Lamps to Be Shown at Jackson Homestead Sun. for Month

The history of lighting will be portrayed by an unusual collection of old candleholders and lamps, for one month beginning Sunday, January 10. At the Jackson Homestead, 527 Washington street, Newton, Mrs. Frank H. Dillaby of 17 Puritan road, Newton Highlands, has arranged selected items from her extensive collection which last year was on display at the Boston Museum of Science.

This exhibit will show chronologically the various lighting methods used from 1800 on. It is particularly appropriate that this subject be featured at the Jackson Homestead because candle-making was the family business of the Jacksons over a hundred years ago. William Jackson built a factory for the making of candles east of the Homestead, the sign for which is still to be seen in the old shed. According to the family history, "he carried on a good business sending candles all over the United States and exporting them to foreign countries."

Mrs. Dillaby's collection includes both foreign and American lamps. Among the more interesting are the so-called Ufford lamp which burned lard. The patent for this lamp was applied for in 1851. Another more unusual one is called the Sinumbra lamp and was made by the New England Glass Co. in Cambridge and used before 1848.

A special opportunity to view this exhibit will be given at a Family Open House on Sunday afternoon, January 10, from three to five. Hosts and hostesses assisted by Girl Scouts in old-fashioned dresses will be on hand to greet all visitors. Mrs. Dillaby will also be present to answer questions.

Regular visiting hours continue from two to four on Tuesdays through Saturdays. Admission is free.

Miss Patricia Joan Crane Bride Of Merrill Carpenter Nutting Jr.

Before an altar decorated with red and white poinsettias, Miss Patricia Joan Crane, daughter of Mrs. William Anderson Hammond of Brookline and the late Mr. Arthur Henry Crane, became the bride December 27th of Mr. Merrill Carpenter Nutting, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill C. Nutting of 30 Chase street, Newton Centre, at St. Aidan's Church, Brookline.

The Rev. Leonard Coppentrath officiated at the 4:30 a.m. ceremony, and a reception followed at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Charles E. Ryan, wore a gown of ivory slipper satin, fashioned with a square neckline embroidered with pearls, long pointed sleeves with pearl trim and a bouffant pleated skirt which ended in a circular train. Her imported French tulle fingertip veil fell from a Chantilly lace Dutch cap trimmed with rhinestones, and she carried white orchids and lilies-of-the-valley with a white prayer book.

As maid of honor, Miss Nancy Jackson Edwards of Newton Centre, wore a princess style full length gown of red faille taffeta and a velvet shrug jacket. She carried white poinsettias and silver eucalyptus leaves and wore a crown of miniature white flowers with silver tulle. In identical fashion were the bridesmaids, Miss Mary Ellen Nutting, a sister of the bridegroom; Miss Joan Ryan of Boston, a cousin of the bride; and Miss Jean K. McDonald of Newton Highlands.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hammond chose cotillion blue Chantilly lace gown with a matching hat of blue velvet trimmed with sequins and wore a baby orchid corsage. Mrs. Nutting wore an iridescent blue and rose silk taffeta sheath dress with gray accessories and baby orchid corsage.

Best man was Mr. Charles T. Donovan of West Roxbury and the ushers included Mr. Robert O'Connell of Needham, Mr. Roland Hopkins of Waban, and Mr. Thomas Wray of Springfield, a cousin of the bridegroom.

The bride was graduated from Boston University, where the bridegroom also studied. After a wedding trip to the Laurentian Mountains in Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Nutting will make their home in Chestnut Hill.

A rehearsal dinner party honoring the bride and groom and bridal party was bestowed by the Nuttings the evening before the wedding ceremony at the Simpson House in Newton Highlands.

Miss Jean Hill Becomes Bride

At a quiet family wedding, Miss Jean Hill of 12 Newland street, Auburndale, daughter of Mrs. Robert Hill, was married to Charles F. Ford of Littleton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ford of 126 Princeton avenue, Waltham, on New Year's Eve at the Auburndale Congregational Church. Rev. Chauncey E. Blossom officiated at the 6:30 double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Albert Waugh of Auburndale was matron of honor, and Aubrey G. Allen of Waltham was best man for his brother-in-law.

Miss Hill was given a shower before her wedding by Mrs. Edward Nugent of Auburndale at Mrs. Aubrey Allen's home, 45 Caughy street, Waltham, with about 35 present.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford will make their home in Littleton.

Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Webster of Waban and East Brewster announced at a luncheon last Saturday the engagement of their daughter, Miss Betsy Caroline Webster, to Mr. Robert Lyons Rockett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Rockett of Newtonville and Centerville.

Miss Webster was graduated from Dana Hall and from Mount Holyoke College with the class of 1953. Mr. Rockett attended Northeastern University. A June wedding is planned.

MRS. LEWIS PAUL SIMONS

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Miss Nesson and Mr. Simons

In a candlelight ceremony before the fireplace garlanded with white chrysanthemums and mantled with smilax, lilies and snapdragons, Miss Carol Nesson was married, on Saturday, December 28th, to Mr. Lewis Paul Simons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Simons of South Brookline, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Nesson of Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore an antique ivory satin gown, embroidered with pearls, with a full cathedral train. A tiny cap of white satin leaves held in place her grandmother's Belgian Princess lace veil, and she carried a cascade of white orchids and stephanotis. She was attended by her sister, Miss Ivy Nesson, and Miss Gail Simons, sister of the bridegroom. Both bridesmaids wore gowns of pale blue tulle, and carried bouquets of flame colored African daisies.

The bride's brother, Mr. Charles Rothwell Nesson, home from Exeter Academy, acted as an usher, as did Mr. Richard Simons, brother of the bridegroom. Mr. Lawrence Glovin of Brighton attended the groom as best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Nesson (Marjorie Rothwell) wore a beaded gown of dusty rose with Cypripedium orchids. The bridegroom's mother was attired in teal blue taffeta with a corsage of brown orchids.

The bride graduated last June from Wheaton College and is now teaching in the Sharon schools. Mr. Simons, since being in service in the United States Marines, has been studying for a Master's degree in Public Relations at Boston University.

The couple are honeymooning in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, and on their return will make their home in Sharon.

Miss Alice Turner To Become Bride

Miss Alice Elizabeth Turner's engagement is announced by her mother, Mrs. Hazel Crawford Turner of Auburndale, to Mr. Alan Campbell McIntosh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Henderson McIntosh of Needham.

Miss Turner, daughter of the late Mr. John H. H. Turner, was graduated from Vermont Jr. College in 1951 and from Boston University in 1953. Her fiancé, who was graduated from there in 1951, attended Clark University and served with the U. S. Navy for three years in the Pacific theater during World War II.

Miss Carol Moore To Wed in June

June is the month chosen for the marriage of Miss Carol Sweet Moore, whose parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. Carlton Moore of Newtonville, are announcing her engagement to Mr. Alexander Gray MacLennan, son of Mr. Alexander D. MacLennan of Harvard and the late Mrs. MacLennan.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Boston University, College of Liberal Arts, and her fiancé was graduated from Tufts College, School of Engineering.

To Mr. and Mrs. Thomas T. Brooks, Jr., of Wellesley Hills, a fourth child, third son, Peter Saunders Brooks, Dec. 30, at the Newton Wellesley Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas T. Brooks of Newtonville and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Spencer of Antigua, British West Indies.

MISS SYLVIA BERNARD

Sylvia Bernard To Wed Mr. Larson

Prof. and Mrs. Kenneth A. Bernard of Newtonville announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Sylvia Bernard, to Mr. Robert Nelson Larson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Larson of Watertown.

Miss Bernard was graduated from Newton High School in the Class of 1949, and from Bates College in the class of 1953. She is at present a Research Assistant in the Bureau of Public Administration at Boston University.

Mr. Larson, a graduate of Columbia University, Tufts College and Boston University, is a Teaching Fellow in the Department of Government at Boston University. He served in the European Theatre with the 8th Air Force during World War II.

Inaugural Address of Hon. Howard Whitmore, Jr.

Eighty years have passed since the first mayor of our city, the Honorable James F. C. Hyde, delivered his inaugural address to the aldermen and councilmen of the newly incorporated city. We have assembled on this New Year's Day to inaugurate a new government under which the affairs of the city shall be administered during this year and the year 1955. For those of us who enjoy the study and review of past events there is an urge to cite and describe the occurrences of a civic history which is rich in municipal accomplishment and citizen achievement. To do so would be educational and inspirational, but such an indulgence at this time would constitute an unwarranted interference with the more important discussion of current affairs and the presentation of some of the more important plans and aspirations for the future development of our city and the advancement of the common good for all its citizens.

Prior to entering upon the general discussion of the existing condition of the city's affairs, I wish to express briefly but sincerely my heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the honor which has been conferred on me by the citizens. Only twenty-two predecessors have been similarly honored. As the city matures the necessity for maintaining the traditionally high character of its government becomes greater. The leadership in such an effort becomes more challenging. I am deeply conscious of the confidence which has been placed in me. I am fully aware, also, of the duties and responsibilities associated with the office of the mayor. It has been my conviction that no man should enter or be in public life unless he is willing at all times to dedicate his thoughts, words and deeds to the enhancement of the public good. In the discharge of his assumed obligations he should act in accordance not only with the letter but also the spirit and the intent of the law. This briefly, has been my philosophy during ten years of public service and to the best of my ability it will continue to guide me.

It is a pleasure to congratulate the members of the Board of Aldermen and the School Committee at this time as they assume office. Especially do I welcome the several freshmen members who today join their experienced and illustrious colleagues who have given, as have their predecessors, so freely of their time and talents without financial compensation. In the discharge of your legislative and school committee duties you have traditionally high standards of performance to meet. There is no doubt that the character of your service will be of the same high calibre as that which has been so conspicuous in the past and which has given Newton such an enviable reputation and proud record in the national community of municipalities.

This administration has already made a noteworthy and charming contribution to our city's history, even though it has served only a few minutes. It is a unique privilege and a distinct honor to have as one of our colleagues Newton's first "Madam Alderman," Miss Adelaide B. Ball. I am sure I speak for all when I say we are very proud and happy to serve with such a distinguished lady.

While the executive and legislative branches of our government have individual and separate functions, only through a spirit of cooperation and a combined effort can the common objective be attained. I offer you my wholehearted cooperation and assistance and hope in return to receive yours.

Since the end of World War II the population of our city has increased by approximately 9,000 persons—from 77,000 to an estimated 86,000 and today Newton ranks eleventh in population in the Commonwealth.

The impact of this population growth on operations, finances and management has not been fully realized or understood by many people. The services and functions performed by a municipality are, for the most part, associated with and provided for homes and families. The construction and occupancy of a house sets in motion a series of costly activities for which the city, in many instances, will not be reimbursed by the owner for many years, if ever. Since 1948 some 3,000 residences have been built. Fifteen miles of streets have been constructed, in addition to many miles of reconstruction, since 1945. Seventy-three miles have been accepted under the Betterment Act, the average per mile cost of which is approximately $150,000—the city contributed about fifty-five percent. The balance is generally received over a ten-year period. Some twenty-four miles of unaccepted streets remain and many petitions for acceptance are currently before your Honorable Board.

During the same period approximately forty miles of sewers were installed at costs varying with location and land conditions. For an eight-inch sewer the cost is about $60,000 a mile, of which the city contributes the same percentage as for Betterment Streets. Funds for these capital expenditures are usually obtained from the proceeds received from the sale of bonds.

Coinciding with the twelve percent growth in population since 1945 we have witnessed a twenty-eight percent increase in our school population. We now have the fourth largest school system in the state. Such an increase has necessitated, of course, a great expansion of school housing facilities. Consequently, since 1947 approximately $7,000,000 of capital funds have been borrowed and expended to erect nine new buildings, four building additions, all of which have provided one hundred and thirty-one classrooms, kindergartens, several all-purpose rooms, auditoriums and other modern facilities and conveniences.

These new facilities are illustrations of the effects of our population growth since World War II. More people, more homes, more streets, more children require more police and fire protection, added recreational areas, increased health services, welfare assistance, library facilities, assessing, street maintenance, rubbish and garbage collection, water and many other additional services. General management and fiscal problems in turn become greater. Many of these requirements have been met and facilities provided. But the job is far from finished. The period was a demanding one and problems of great complexity were faced realistically and solved in a practicable manner. To further complicate the picture, especially from the financial viewpoint, was the fact that inflation was rampant and the purchasing power of the dollar declined steadily and severely.

Now let us turn to a brief examination of the resultant current financial condition. In view of recent expansion demands and activities our Funded Debt has increased substantially. In 1947 it was approximately $4,700,000. At the close of the year yesterday, it was 285 percent greater—$13,500,000 including $527,000 in water bonds, which are outside the so-called debt limit as defined by general law. An analysis of the composition of this debt according to purposes for which bonds were sold indicates about 48 percent is for school purposes, something less than 40 percent for streets and sewers, the balance being for various purposes, including veterans' housing, miscellaneous public buildings and water. The debt per capita rose from $59 to $158 and there was an accompanying real estate and personal property valuation increase. The $51,000,000 valuation increase is equivalent to an additional community with the value of present-day Chicopee. Although eleventh in population, Newton ranks fourth in assessed wealth in Massachusetts.

A city's borrowing power is determined by the provisions of general law, which establish a debt limit. This limit may be exceeded for special purposes such as the laying of water mains. It may also be exceeded by special acts of the Legislature. During 1953 our ability to borrow within the debt limit was reduced to $1,722,000. This I consider to be a dangerously low figure, particularly in view of the fact that it cannot for some years be appreciably increased. Capital needs are still urgent. Replacing sewers, which the State Department of Public Health is now urging the city to do as a health measure, will cost about $1,500,000. Additions to existing schools to relieve already over-crowded conditions and to provide for an even greater load during the coming years will involve an expenditure of some $75,000 in 1954, and more necessary in 1955. The normal construction of streets and sewers which should continue if we are not to fall behind in our development program will cost $700,000 per year for the next two years.

Within the next few months the city will be connected for the Metropolitan District water. Our existing water mains, however, are not capable or large enough to carry sufficient pressure to insure an adequate supply at all times throughout the city. A program of replacement of mains should commence soon to improve protection against fire and provide a full supply for household and commercial use. The cost of this undertaking will approximate $500,000 to be financed through the sale of water bonds outside the debt limit.

Relative to school construction needs, the School Department estimates that the peak elementary student load will be in 1958, when it will reach 10,000 pupils, which compares with a present elementary enrollment of 8,737.

The overall peak load in all schools is estimated to reach 17,206 in 1962, compared with 14,084. A new Junior High School on the South side of the city is scheduled for next year and will cost somewhere in the vicinity of $1,800,000 during the next two years. In view of the relatively small borrowing power, extreme care must be exercised in determining need and in authorizing bond issues. A request to the Legislature for permission to borrow under a special act should be avoided if possible. For each of the next three years the annual debt retirement and interest requirements will amount to approximately $1,500,000 all of which must be provided from the tax levy. This annual amount is the equivalent of about $7.00 in the tax rate. It represented 10% of total city expenditures in 1953. If we are ever to reduce our heavy debt load, the first step is to cease adding to it.

Serious as the current debt picture may appear, the city continues to enjoy the highest rating in financial circles, which is demonstrated by the fact that it recently enjoyed one of the lowest interest rates awarded to any borrowing municipality in Massachusetts during 1953. This reflects the historically high caliber of municipal management, the outstanding character of its citizens, the substantial nature of its industries, the stable earning power of the people, the favorable tax rate over many years, and the fine national reputation of its schools.

Just as the post-war period of reconstruction and expansion has required sharply increased capital expenditures, so has it also affected materially the operating expenditures.

Total gross expenditures in 1947 were $10,648,000 compared with an estimated $15,700,000 last year. Per capita they amounted to $134 in 1947 compared with $185 in 1953. Costs for services, supplies and equipment have moved steadily upward. Living expenses for the city have moved in line with those of individuals. All departmental expenditures reflect this condition. In particular, however, as might be expected because of the backlog of work which could not be performed during the war years, and the new real estate developments, the Street Department budget increased from $1,280,000 to $2,300,000 during the period. The School Department in the year of 1945, with an enrollment of 11,032 pupils, had a budget of $1,732,000 in 1953, with an enrollment of 14,100, the budget amounted to $4,330,000. The cost per pupil for the regular schools was $155 in 1945 and $288 in 1953. The cost of education per pupil ranks fifth among the larger communities of the state. The increased operating cost of education in Newton has been comparable to the increase experienced in the Commonwealth as a whole during the same period.

Innumerable statistics could be presented and much explanation given in the analysis of costs and expenditures during the last few years. At the moment, however, I believe we are more concerned with the coming year. The Mayor will, I assure you, prior to submitting his first budget in February, scrutinize most carefully and thoroughly all proposed expenditures and endeavor to eliminate any possible waste and inefficiency. Every effort will be made to adhere to a policy of sound and sensible economy. The taxpayers are entitled to and should have no less a consideration.

The three principal sources of funds to meet expenditures are one, the general receipts which are primarily charges made for particular services rendered and fees; two, reimbursements or distributions from the Federal and State and County Governments; and three, local taxes imposed on property—real and personal, and the motor vehicle excise. In addition, funds from surplus are often appropriated.

Locally imposed taxes generally account for between 70% and 76% of total receipts. By far the greatest amount of local taxes is derived from real estate. In 1953, real estate taxes produced $9,426,000. The tax rates on real and personal property together with the relatively small amount from the poll tax pay for approximately two-thirds of the city's annual expenditures. The balance of receipts is from the distribution of State-collected income, corporation and meals tax, which amounted to approximately $1,375,000 in 1953. Reimbursements to cover partially the imposed costs for vocational educational and welfare purposes are received from the Federal and State governments. The total of reimbursements and distributions account for between 16% and 21% of total receipts. General departmental income and fees account for 6 to 9% as a rule. In brief, the fluctuations in operating expenditures are primarily reflected in the tax rate, real and personal property is really the only substantial tax base provided for cities under the provisions of general law. Many services and activities are required of the cities by State and Federal law, but the cities must raise much, if not all, of the money to pay for them.

Inasmuch as real estate is the primary source of tax income, the matter of assessment becomes most important. Assessing is not an exact science. It involves many variable factors and much human judgment. In our city, unlike most cities, there are three full-time assessors who engage in no outside business activities. They are honest, highly-trained, competent, experienced men, familiar with the city and property values. They are appointed by the Mayor but operate under State statutes and the supervision of the State Tax Commission. Some individuals and groups have expressed the opinion that they believe they are being unfairly assessed and are therefore

The BIG CHANGE you've been hoping for!

the beautiful buy

THE instant you see these 1954 Buicks, you'll know that something sensational has happened in automobile styling. Here is vastly more than the usual model changeover. Here is vastly more than could be done just by warming over what Buick had before. Here is something accomplished by going far beyond artful face-lifting. Here is that rarity of rarities—a completely new line of automobiles.

But Buick didn't stop with the bolder, fresher, swifter-lined beauty you see in raised and lengthened fender sweep—in the huge and back-swept expanse of windshield—in the lowered roofline—in the host more glamor features of exterior modernity. They upped all horsepowers to the highest in Buick history. They engineered a new V8 for the SPECIAL—and in the process came up with new Power-Head Pistons that boost gasoline mileage in every engine.

They brought to market a sparkling newcomer with a famous name, the Buick CENTURY—a car with phenomenal horsepower for its weight and price—a car with more pure thrill per dollar than any Buick ever built.

And they did all this without change of the price structure which, for years, has made Buick the most popular car at its price in the world.

We invite you to come in and inspect these great beauties, these great performers, these great buys. Then you'll see why the Detroit previewers are already saying, "Buick's the beautiful buy!"

When better automobiles are built Buick will build them bearing a disproportionate share of taxation. I have stated that I shall review in general this problem. That I shall do in the near future within the limits of the powers of the Mayor and bearing in mind that ethically the Mayor cannot and should not interfere with assessment problems.

MORE MORE MORE MORE

The city is fast approaching 100,000 population; its corporate valuation is nearly a quarter of a billion dollars; the city's business is big business; therefore, planning for the orderly development of the city, particularly as it reaches maturity, is especially critical—a revitalizing of the city's planning in its broadest sense is in order. Particular study should be given to the maintenance of an effective balance of business, industry, and residence. While Newton must ever remain a city of homes, we would do well to balance the city's economy through the prudent development of non-residential areas to the end that general taxation will fall less heavily on the home-owner.

It was my privilege some twelve years ago to serve on the board of aldermen. During that enjoyable experience I gained a general knowledge of the organization of our city government and the workings of the various departments. From subsequent experience in the legislature I have learned that if a city is to be operated in the most efficient and effective manner, it must have a charter, the provisions of which provide for a streamlined organization of departments and centralized administrative authority. If such a basic vehicle is provided, new and improved municipal management practices can be installed and effectively applied. No government can be managed or administered just as efficiently as private business, because fundamentally, the two are dissimilar. But business principles can be applied to city management. Outstanding progress is being made in such application with demonstrated resultant benefits to taxpayers and employees.

To end that we may give to our people every possible benefit, I recommend our somewhat outmoded charter be reviewed and revised. Any change in a special charter requires approval by the great and general court and then by the people of the city. I shall make more specific and detailed recommendations in regard to this proposal to your honorable board.

A thorough detailed knowledge of the operations of the twenty-three departments, boards and commissions can be acquired only through a complete study of them and intimate contact on a daily basis. Therefore, I do not feel properly qualified at this time to make specific recommendations relative to the many operations being carried on or as to existing management practices. I realize I have a great deal to learn. I shall endeavor to acquire knowledge and understanding as quickly as possible. I hope in the near future to have some constructive suggestions and recommendations for your consideration.

There are, however, some miscellaneous matters to which I wish to refer. First, as to the matter of personnel and personnel management although much work formerly performed of necessity by people is now performed by machines, personnel is still the key factor in the performance of services and functions. Today the city employs in various capacities approximately 2440 persons. The payroll exceeds $8,000,000 or approximately 65 percent of last year's budget, and more than half of last year's gross expenditures. At present there is no agency or official responsible for the welfare and assistance of the employees, no centralized detailed information concerning them, no salary plan based on a scientific, up-to-date study of classifications, and no assurances for the reward of efficient, capable and faithful service. In short, there is no personnel administration. The city definitely needs a personnel agency to recruit the best possible people in accordance with the provision of general law; to establish and maintain a fair and equitable salary and wage scale; to survey continually the city's man-power needs and keep staffing patterns up-to-date; to provide in-service training; to administer a system where promotions are earned by merit, transfers are possible in the interests of efficient service, and harmonious and productive employer and employee relationships are promoted. To build a sound structure of personnel administration will take time. We should start at once. Shortly, I shall present to the board initial recommendations in regard to this matter.

I recently attended a conference of mayors in Washington, called by the President of the United States to consider Civil Defense. Opening the conference the President said: "I know of no other time when the President of the United States felt it necessary to invite a conference of mayors of our cities in order that they might together discuss—National Security"—"For the first time in history, cities have become the principal targets for an enemy seeking to conquer a nation. The city has moved from a position of support in the rear. It has moved out in a very distinct way into the front line." The city of Newton has been officially declared to be a critical target area, chiefly by reason of its proximity to the Watertown Arsenal, to the City of Boston and industries, around us engaged in the production of war materials.

As a people we are not ready at this moment to face the test of thousands of homeless and helpless survivors of a major disaster in any form, natural or deliberate. We cannot be made truly ready to face that test without the complete cooperation of our people in this city. We must be prepared, with a comprehensive organization, to meet a dual purpose—disaster or attack. All of us must plan now for our individual and collective welfare, indeed our survival, with deliberate haste without hysteria, while we have the chance. We must continue to develop a sound and efficient civil defense program and organization. The impending threat to national survival is a federal and state concern as well as a concern of the city. Every indication is for greater federal and state assistance, in planning, guidance and financial aid. In the meantime we must not relax our efforts to meet a possible crisis.

For many months I have personally and with others, both in this city and in neighboring cities, endeavored to safeguard Newton property and persons from the destructive impact which will result if the authorized toll road either passes through Newton or halts temporarily on its outskirts. I am convinced that either the highway itself or the traffic from the highway will have a permanently detrimental effect on property values, zoning and tax rates. The effects cannot be localized—it is a city-wide problem—a concern of all. I am still of the opinion that the successful planning for the solution of the state's traffic problems requires first the proper coordinated planning to solve the Greater Boston traffic problem. This has not been done. Instead, coming from west to east, the traffic problem hereabouts will be greatly complicated. Going into or out of Boston via the original so-called Readville route would spare much overall property damage and permit the entire road to be built more economically. I shall continue to resist the present proposal, even though it may appear to be a lost cause. Let us not forget that every million dollars lost in property values is the equivalent of 20c on the tax rate, and for every $225,000 expended by the city, $1.00 is added to the tax rate.

The growth of recreation facilities and activities should keep pace with population growth. Not only should young people have the health, pleasure and character-building advantages provided by modern recreation programs, but additional thought and planning should be given to the needs of elderly people. Cities in this area are generally far behind cities in other parts of the country relative to the construction and maintenance of expanded recreational facilities. In cities of considerably less population and wealth than our own, in the south and west, as many as six swimming pools and at least one artificial skating rink have been provided.

Under present law in the Commonwealth, municipalities cannot borrow to erect swimming pools or skating rinks. A thorough investigation should be made of the possibilities of revenue bonds or some assistance by cities to private capital and initiative in order to construct these facilities. I firmly believe that investments for the benefit of youth will provide a handsome return in years to come, from both a physical and a moral standpoint. Just as soon as the city can afford it, a swimming pool and skating rink should be provided.

I urge the Honorable Board, the School Committee and all citizens to join with those of us who for many years have been advocating more Home Rule. Interference at the state and federal level with purely local affairs is unjustified and unwise. Cities and towns in the Commonwealth are the children of the state, but the paternalistic attitude has persisted beyond the point of reason or benefit in many respects. The emancipation movement is gaining headway. Recently the Governor called a most successful and enthusiastic conference, of city officials and many constructive ideas and suggestions were made for the return of the determination and control of local affairs to those who know these problems most intimately. Citizen interest and participation should be further stimulated if local government is to improve. Home Rule would, among many other things, provide this incentive. Currently the City of Newton is engaged in a controversy with a state agency which has imposed its will on the city far beyond the original intent and objectives of the law under which it operates. In this particular instance I trust that the State Legislature will amend the law so that local governments will have the same right of appeal to the courts as do the individuals whom they employ.

The federal government has recently entered upon an unprecedented consideration of the federal-state-local government relationship. The Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, appointed recently by the President, is already holding public hearings and unquestionably will make constructive recommendations. The seven major areas of conflict between federal, state and local governments are:

- (1) Overlapping and Conflicting Taxation.
- (2) Intergovernmental Tax Immunities.
- (3) Formulae for Distribution of Grants-in-Aid.
- (4) Inconsistency of Fiscal Policies among Governments, Particularly in Time of Crisis.
- (5) The Struggle for Political Power.
- (6) What Functions and Activities Should be Carried on by Each Level of Government.
- (7) The State Conflict Over Municipal Home Rule.

Within the last two years great progress has been made in educating the public and stimulating the Home Rule Movement. In the very near future these efforts should begin to produce tangible results which will be of considerable benefit to all of us.

I have dwelt at length on the growing complexity of the Municipal Enterprise. But the dynamics of our city cannot be expressed alone in budgets, bonds, buildings and business. Most of all our city is a human enterprise. However well we manage the physical and fiscal aspects of local government the ultimate gauge of our goodness as a city will be found in the way we live and work together. Recognizing this fact the previous administration in its wisdom has submitted the appointments of a human relations committee whose purpose, "shall be to promote understanding and amicable relations between persons and groups, juvenile and adult, in the city and to advise and assist other agencies, both public and private, concerned with such matters."

I view this action as an important step toward the maintenance of sensitive and personal government characterized not only by cooperative good will among adults, but sensitive especially to the community life of our youth. Let this new venture be a channel of free communication among us all.

Our citizens have evidenced over a period of years great interest and willingness to lend their efforts and abilities to the worthy purposes and objectives of civic and charitable organizations. They have shown a real community spirit. The organizations are too numerous to mention, but the good that they have accomplished has, to a great degree, made Newton the attractive and friendly city it is. Also, the service clubs and the Chamber of Commerce have provided sound advice and aid in the wise planning of the city and location of industry, which is so valuable to us as we mature, because it helps to take some of the load off the overburdened home-owner-taxpayer.

A City Government is part of and truly belongs to the people. I shall encourage the promotion of broader public relations to the end that it may stimulate greater understanding and appreciation of what city officials and employees are planning and doing. We have within the city many persons who have achieved considerable success and outstanding reputations in their own particular lines of endeavor. I am sure that many of these persons would willingly lend their services and help us in the consideration of matters concerning which they have specialized knowledge and experience. I suggest we contact them as appropriate occasions arise.

In behalf of all the citizens I wish to express appreciation and thanks to all who have worked faithfully and constructively as employees of the city and those persons who have during the past year left the employ of the city. They are too numerous to mention here, but their contributions have been of inestimable value.

One man who retired recently has left an indelible mark on Newton's history. Frank M. Grant, City Clerk, came to work for the city in 1911 and throughout his 42 years of faithful, friendly and constructive service has had a major part in the conduct of the city's business. We cannot thank adequately a man who has contributed so much. We wish him health and happiness in his well-earned years of retirement.

The names of other faithful and reliable public servants who have been retired recently will be published in the printed edition of this message.

To the present employees of the city we wish to extend our thanks for their help and assistance over the years. I look forward with pleasure to service with them and I assure them of my every cooperation and assistance in our mutual efforts. I have received much aid and assistance already from many persons at City Hall. The department heads have been most kind, cooperative and understanding. The retiring Mayor has spent many hours with me bringing me up to date on current matters. I am deeply grateful to all.

We who are so fortunate as to live in Newton share many precious benefits, tangible and intangible. For these we thank our predecessors who worked so faithfully to provide and protect them. Let us not think only of ourselves today. Let us consider and strive to provide equally well for the future citizens—our most precious possessions—our children. To the many young people here today, I say "Hi! Please come again to City Hall and bring your friends. We want to meet and know you. Don't forget to come to my office when you are here."

We who have been elected to the trusteeship of public office pick up today the thread from previous years. It is a sobering thought that through the years the City of Newton has become synonymous with honest, clean, good government. I know I speak for every one of us who took his oath of office today when I say that we shall serve this city faithfully and to the best of our abilities in order to make Newton a better place in which to work, play, live and worship.

I extend to you best wishes for a healthy and happy new year.

Stanetsky Opens Ultra Modern Chapel

The Stanetsky Memorial Chapel, Inc. has announced the completion of its newest Memorial Chapel. The stunning new building, located at 1668 Beacon street, Brookline, is the newest addition to a long list of ultra-modern buildings now being constructed in New England.

The Stanetsky Memorial Service was founded by Jacob Stanetsky in 1892. This newest chapel is the culmination of a long standing desire to extend its services and facilities. It was decided in 1950, to build a new chapel, contemporary in design and offering the most modern facilities available. Thus, there are now two chapels available—one in Dorchester, and one in Brookline.

To interpret their requirements, they commissioned the world famous team of architects, Isidor Richmond and Carney Goldberg, winners of the Harleston Parker Gold Medal in 1949, for the Temple Emeth, in South Brookline. This was judged to be the most beautiful building erected in the Greater Boston area from 1943 to 1949.

Commenting on the ultra-contemporary style of the building, Mr. Goldberg stated that the style that finally evolved was dictated by the specific function of the building.

Using simple unpretentious materials, the chapel presents a dignified, but stunningly distinctive setting for religious services. Built of brick, painted white, it contains a portico where off-street parking and convenience. Facing Beacon street is a semi-circular garden, with an open facade, roof open to the sky, thus achieving a magnificent classic effect.

Entering through six huge doors, one enters a large foyer, expressly designed to handle large crowds with ease. On the center wall is an oak paneled Memorial wall on which is inscribed "May the Lord lift up His countenance upon thee and may He give thee peace." (Numbers 6:26).

This foyer affords immediate entry into the large chapel which has a seating capacity of 600. It is designed in clean, simple long straight lines, giving a feeling of ease, comfort and graciousness. The side panels and pews are constructed of solid oak wood, modern in style, blonde in tone. The walls are in soft pastel tints, with indirect lighting to soften the entire effect. One side are 17 clear-story temple windows done in stained glass effect. Relieving the simplicity of interior design, is the drapery and furnishings designed by one of Boston's leading decorators. The focal point of the chapel is the stage panel, an enormous mural, painted in gold, which is a background for the 23rd Psalm of David (The Lord is My Shepherd). This stunning mural provides an ethereal and rich background for the bier.

In addition to the chapel, there are a number of intimate family rooms, where families may receive visitors in privacy. The chapel lights are controlled for lighting effects and for heightened dramatic quality. It also contains the finest high fidelity sound system, which is available when speaking and/or music is desired.

The lower level contains a lobby and lounge area, including smoking rooms.

This new Memorial Chapel by Stanetsky is a magnificent addition to the smart Beacon street architecture, which already contains many fine examples of outstanding architectural design.

Mayor Whitmore Backs Peak Drive to Prevent Polio

Pledging 100 per cent support to the 1954 March of Dimes, Mayor Whitmore today called on all citizens to open their hearts and their pocket-books and give generously.

"The year 1954 may well be the turning point in the fight against polio. We all must help in the battle to banish this crippling disease from our city and our nation," he said.

"The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has embarked on a large testing program of a trial vaccine that may some day spare our children the dread effects of polio. In addition, the National Foundation is preparing to provide for an expanded program of mass gamma globulin inoculations in 1954, in order to give every possible protection while waiting for the results of the vaccine tests.

"This polio prevention program is tremendously expensive and it will require more dimes than ever. But these dimes and dollars are the best investment we can make for the future security of our most precious asset—our children.

"With our contributions we also guarantee that every victim of polio—past or present—will get the best available medical care regardless of financial status. Our Newton Chapter of the NFIP stands ready with a helping hand for all polio victims. In 1953, fifty-three polio patients were aided in our city because you gave so generously in the last March of Dimes. Today there are more polio patients requiring aid than ever before.

"Until this dread scourge is defeated, we cannot relax our valiant fight. Our dimes and dollars provide the ammunition needed to gain an eventual, glorious victory. Let there be no shortage of ammunition in our city.

"I officially declare January to be March of Dimes month. Let us all march together to victory."

Holy Name Society

The regular monthly meeting of Our Lady's Help of Christians Holy Name Society, Newton, will be held on Sunday, January 10th following attendance at the eight o'clock Mass.

The guest speaker at the meeting will be Mr. Francis X. Morrissey, a prominent attorney and a member of the Catholic Speakers Bureau. Mr. Morrissey is a former member of Our Lady's Parish, and is very well known to the members of the Holy Name Society. As a speaker he is very much in demand throughout the Archdiocese and the Society considers itself very fortunate in being able to have him present. In his address to the membership he will cover topics which are of vital interest to every citizen, and it is the wish of The Spiritual Director, Fr. Prudzenski, that every man in the parish will make it a special point to attend.

The Bowling League of the Society renews its contests tonight, January 7th, following the annual holiday vacation. Most anything can happen to the team standings they are so closely matched.

St. Mary's Church, Newton Lower Falls, Sunday, January 10, is the first Sunday after Epiphany. Holy Communion will be at 8 a.m. The Family Service and Church School will be at 9:30 a.m., and Morning Prayer and Sermon at 11 a.m. The Junior High Young People's Fellowship will meet at 6:15 p.m. Monday at 8 p.m., Rector's Night will be held. There will be instruction on Confirmation. On Tuesday, the Fellowship of Prayer will be at 9:15 a.m. and Holy Communion at 10 a.m. Order of St. Galahad, Lads and Pages, will meet at 6:55 p.m. and the Knights and Esquires at 7:30 p.m. A meeting of the Vestry is also scheduled for 7:30 p.m. On Thursday, the Junior Choir recreation period will be held at 3:30 p.m. The Junior Choir will rehearse at 4:40 p.m. and the Senior Choir at 7:45 p.m.

games in the Northwood School Tournament Friday and Saturday at Lake Placid, N.Y. Co-Capt. Bobby Connors played a magnificent game in the nets to earn plaudits as one of the outstanding players in the tournament. The Arrows downed Westminster School of Hamilton 6-1, and then lost a 1-0 heartbreaker to Hebron Academy. Newton High's hoopsters will open their league season tomorrow (Friday) at Arlington, defending champions. Reginald Smith's boys will have to settle down to a steadier pace if they hope to go anywhere this year, as their performances to date have been as ragged as a two-day old beard.

Although this may seem like peering into the mouth of a gift horse, Newton's romp over Boston College High in the first round of the Metropolitan Track League in Boston was not too encouraging despite the 49½-27½ victory. The reason was that the winnings times and distances were not as good as was hoped. The best performance was by Ken McAdams, who won the 300 in 36.4 seconds, only .7 off the meet record. Considering that this was the first competition of the season, Coach Lem Boyle still has plenty of prospects for a good indoor season.

D. L. Daniels Named General Agent for Newton District

Announcement was made this week by Harlow G. Brown, Vice-President in charge of the Eastern Department of the Continental Assurance Company, of the appointment of Donald L. Daniels, C. L. U., of Waban, as General Agent for Newton and vicinity. Establishment of this agency brings to Newton for the first time a major Life Insurance Company whose sales organization is geared to cooperation with established local Brokers.

In pioneering the development of a Suburban Agency in this area, Mr. Brown stated: "We are convinced that Newton is one of the most progressive communities in the Greater Boston area. Chamber of Commerce statistics of the rapid expansion of industrial firms into the Newtons have impressed us with the commercial growth prospects of your city. The high valuations of your residential properties demonstrates the calibre of the increasing numbers of families who are selecting this city as their permanent home.

Don Daniels brings to the Continental sixteen year experience in the life insurance field as agent and group supervisor of the Equitable Life. During World War II, while a Captain in the Air Force, he served as advisor on insurance affairs for over 15,000 military personnel at Wright Field, Ohio. Qualified for the C.L.U. (Chartered Life Underwriter) degree for several years, he is also licensed by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts as an Insurance Advisor. Formerly a partner in the firm of Canner & Daniels at Newton Centre, Daniels' Insurance Agency will continue its offices at 755 Beacon street.

SPORTS

Newton High School's hockey team moved into a second-place tie with Cambridge Latin in the fourth round of games in the Greater Boston Interscholastic League Saturday afternoon on the wings of a 3-goal performance by center Art DeStefano against a weak Medford entry. Art flashed the red light for the first three Newton scores as the Orange and Black skaters overcame an early deficit for a 4-1 victory. The game was remarkable in the aspect that one team could dominate territorial play so heavily and still not win by a more imposing total. The Newton icemen buzzed about the Medford cage from the opening whistle, but were unable to score until Art took personal charge. Medford, sluggish and disorganized after last week's impressive showing, couldn't seem to figure out where the puck was half the time, and they were slow in picking up shots which bounced along the sideboards in their own zone. As a result, all five Orange and Black skaters moved up within the attacking zone and kept Medford pinned down while trying to set up its plays.

Newton was just missing connections on the finishing touches, however, and it took a score by Medford to draw an accurate shot out of the Orange and Black. A Medford forward broke out of his own zone, fired a shot which was blocked, but the rebound stayed in front of the Newton cage. Goalie Tucker McLellan and defenseman Jim Wiper tried to smother the puck. A Medford shaker touched the disc, though, and the puck had barely enough steam to trickle into the net.

Then Newton returned to the attack, with DeStefano taking personal charge. With only 13 seconds left in the first period, Wiper slashed a long shot in on the goal. Newton and Medford skaters milled about the cage as the rebound bounced out front, and Artie calmly dunked it into the net while the goalie lay flat and helpless on the ice. The second period duplicated the first as Newton charged to the attack. Strangely enough, it was one of the few rushes that Medford was able to organize that resulted in the tie-breaking Newton tally. Stealing the puck in his own zone, DeStefano roared down ice with a teammate skating beside and only one defenseman in front. Electing to carry in himself rather than pass, Artie let go a 20-footer that was blocked on a pretty save. Artie picked up the rebound, started behind the Medford net, thought better of the move and fired a weird billiard shot into the cage off the goalie's skates from an almost impossible angle. The tie-breaking tally came at 4:01, and DeStefano put the game on ice (no pun intended) at 5:10 with a similar goal. This time he placed a beauty of a shot from 25 feet out to the opposite side of the net, only about five inches within the pipes. At 6:21 of the final period, Bill Reilly was sent in clear on a feed from Kenny Hayes for the final goal. Reilly's shot went by the Medford goaltender like a bullet before the goalie could even move.

DeStefano looked like he will turn out to be all-scholastic on ice, as he was on the gridiron, if he continues to improve at his present rate. Artie, like several other members of the squad, had trouble shedding his "football legs" and consequently got off to a slow start. He showed unexplained speed in this latest outing, was not afraid to take a bump, and possesses one of the sharpest shots in the G.B.I.

As on the football field, Arthur does not look too impressive when he comes out with the squad. He is not the soul of gracefulness, neither does he seem too clever with a hockey stick, yet the results show he will probably be the mainstay of the hockey team. Just as DeStefano to Kahlenbeck was the mark of the football team, so DeStefano and Wiper will be the top men on ice. Friday night the Orange and Black skaters will try to advance its standing at the expense of Rindge Tech, a comparatively untalented but stubborn squad which has only one win to date. St. Sebastian's skaters broke even in a pair of consolation

"MISS HELEN"

Beauty Salon

For the first time in the history of the beauty business the Beauty Garden, New England's most glamorous beauty salon at 1916 Beacon street, Brookline, is opening evening between the hours of 6 p.m. to 11 p.m. every day except Saturdays.

This plan was conceived by Miss Helen, reputed to be one of the country's foremost beauticians and owner of the Beauty Garden.

Miss Helen says, "it is high time for someone in the beauty business to recognize the problem of milady who unfortunately is unable to visit her beauty shop during the day. There are thousands of women who work all day or are tied down to the house with small children and need the evening hours desperately."

"Because of these women and in keeping with our plans to give the women the best possible service consistent with a one low price policy, we have inaugurated these new hours."

The Arrows downed Westminster School of Hamilton 6-1, and then lost a 1-0 heartbreaker to Hebron Academy. Newton High's hoopsters will open their league season tomorrow (Friday) at Arlington, defending champions. Reginald Smith's boys will have to settle down to a steadier pace if they hope to go anywhere this year, as their performances to date have been as ragged as a two-day old beard.

Although this may seem like peering into the mouth of a gift horse, Newton's romp over Boston College High in the first round of the Metropolitan Track League in Boston was not too encouraging despite the 49½-27½ victory. The reason was that the winnings times and distances were not as good as was hoped. The best performance was by Ken McAdams, who won the 300 in 36.4 seconds, only .7 off the meet record. Considering that this was the first competition of the season, Coach Lem Boyle still has plenty of prospects for a good indoor season.

Backyard Gardener

By ALFRED W. BOICOURT

Everytime I mention something you can do in your spare time at home I feel a bit guilty. Seldom is there any spare time left. Nevertheless, here are several little, short jobs which, if done now, will insure a better garden in 1954.

Check Your Dahlia Roots
We have received several Dahlia roots that were diseased. Either they have been stored in too moist peat moss or sand, or stored in too moist a cellar. Sometimes the rotting is due to an infestation of Fusarium which can be recognized by a pink mold forming on the surface of the root. Whatever the cause, sever infested parts and dip the root in a liquid solution of semesan. If the roots are drying out, the storage is too dry and too warm. Store in dry peat moss and sand at a temperature between 40 and 45 degrees F.

Use Your Christmas Trees
Christmas trees that still have their needles may be used to mulch roses or to shade broad leaved evergreens. Break the branches off and arch them over the plants to protect them from drying winds and from the full rays of the sun.

Christmas trees can also be placed near a bird feeder to serve as a retreat. Unless the birds have such protection they will seldom use the feeders.

If you plan to set delphinium, petunia and snapdragon seedlings in your garden this coming spring, I suggest you place your order immediately with your local plantsman. All three should be sown in late January, or not later than the middle of February, in order to have thrifty plants to set out in May.

January is a good month to construct garden features such as a trellis, arbor or window box. The University of Massachusetts has a Special Circular Number 206 on Window Boxes. This free circular may be obtained simply by mailing your request to the Mailing Room, University of Massachusetts in Amherst.

THEY CAN TAKE IT!

Electric light bulbs for pinball machines have been developed to withstand the wallop-on-the-sides by players who enthusiastically try to boost their scores. Lamp filaments are hand-mounted on supports specially designed to withstand shock.

INTERNATIONAL UNITY
The nations of the world should be standing shoulder-to-shoulder, instead of toe-to-toe.

March of Dimes Assisted 88,000 Patients in 1953

In 1953, less than 2000 polio cases were reported in the United States. In 1953, more than 88,000 polio patients received financial aid from the March of Dimes.

It is why 68 cents of the March of Dimes dollar goes to the nation has been spent to direct financial aid to polio patients, according to the Newton chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. John Baldwin, county director of the March of Dimes, explained that approximately 60,000 of the 1953 patients were stricken in prior years. They include the serious, long-term cases, hundreds of whom are in iron lungs.

The one thing they all have in common, Mr. Baldwin said, is that they cannot assume the total cost of treatment without lowering their standard of living. "This the March of Dimes does not permit to happen," he said.

Mr. Baldwin went on to say that much of the remaining 28 cents in the March of Dimes dollar went for indirect aid to patients. "In fact," he said, "there are very few patients who do not receive some benefit from the March of Dimes."

"All this is in addition to the benefits derived from research and education (professional and public) financed by the March of Dimes. More than 15 cents of the March of Dimes dollar is invested in these phases of the fight on polio," he said.

May Print Gayer, More Attractive Postage Stamps

The United States may get more attractive and colorful postage stamps as a result of a study being made by the Post Office Department in cooperation with the Bureau of Printing and Engraving.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield announced that he has requested the Bureau of Printing and Engraving to explore the possibilities of producing multi-colored postage stamps by photogravure or some other method rather than the hand engraving process being presently used.

The Postmaster General said, "We want our United States stamps to be as artistic and colorful as possible, consistent with the need of the postal service. Although hand-engraved stamps have proven satisfactory for postal requirements, possibly new printing techniques can be used, at no added expense, to make our stamps more attractive."

The present method of producing stamps by the hand engraving method has been used since the first United States postage stamps were produced in 1847. During the first World War, a few stamps were produced as an emergency measure by the off-set printing method.

The hand engraving method is slower and more expensive than photo-engraving methods and, because it is more complicated, limits the number of stamps that can be used.

POLITICAL OVERTONES

Democratic Politicos Await Statement From Dever...
Expected to Disclose Plans at Banquet Next Week...

Either State Treasurer Foster Furcolo or Middlesex County Sheriff Howard Fitzpatrick will be the Democratic candidate for Governor, if ex-Governor Paul A. Dever decides not to seek the office he held for four years.

That is the considered appraisal of competent political observers who have been carefully studying the Democratic scene. It is also their judgment that neither Furcolo nor Fitzpatrick could come close to defeating Governor Herter, if an election were being held now.

Whether the same political climate will prevail nine and a half months from now is, of course, another matter. An economic recession, which resulted in big layoffs, could quickly change the political trade winds.

Both Furcolo and Fitzpatrick have been waiting for some pronouncement by Mr. Dever as to what he intends to do, and both are chafing a bit over the delay in getting their campaigns into action.

Newton P.T.A. Council Plans Concert for Children Jan. 16

The renowned Civic Symphony Orchestra of Boston, under the direction of Mr. Paul Cherkassky, will present a concert for the young people of Newton's schools at the Newton High School Auditorium on Saturday at 2 p. m.

Their program will feature Miss Margaret Moreland as soloist in Gershwin's Concerto in F, and the Chanson Creole, an orchestral work written by Mr. Lucien H. Thayer, a resident of Waban.

Mr. Thayer, who is well-known as managing editor of the Boston Globe, and also widely recognized and respected for his interest and ability in the field of music, will appear at the concert to comment briefly on his program piece.

A brilliant interpretation of the Gershwin selection is anticipated from Miss Moreland, the beautiful, 21 year old piano soloist, for she has won high acclaim for her fine performances before Boston audiences.

Mr. Paul Cherkassky, famed conductor and leader of the talented group of musicians who make up the Civic Symphony, now in its 28th season, will offer commentaries on other works on the program which include the Handel-Harty Suite from the Music for the Royal Fireworks, and Si-bellus' Finlandia.

The concert is sponsored by the Newton Council of PTAs and is the first of this season's series of entertainments for Newton's children. Mr. James Remley, Supervisor of Music in the Newton Schools, is working closely with Mr. Cherkassky in the preparation and presentation of this program.

Memorial Vesper Services Held for William Ellis Weston

Dr. Palfrey Perkins, minister of King's Chapel, Boston, officiated with the Rev. John Oden Fisher, minister of the First Unitarian Society in Newton, at memorial vesper services held at 3 o'clock last Sunday afternoon, at the West Newton Unitarian Church for William Ellis Weston, organist-choir director for 27 years. About 300 persons attended the funeral service.

With a full vested choir of past and present members, augmented by ten members of the Meistersingers, long-established male choral group for whom Mr. Weston had earlier served as accompanist, the professional hymn was "O Day of Rest and Gladness" by Christopher Woodworth, music by Samuel S. Wesley. Paul Anderson, organist of the Newtonville Methodist Church, was at the console. The choir also sang Washington Gladden's hymn, "O Master, Let Me Walk with Thee," set to Henry Percy Smith's music. The Meistersingers sang "Still, Still with Thee," written by Harriet Beecher Stowe, set to Mendelssohn's "Consolation." For the recessional, the large mixed choir sang the familiar Frederick Lucian Homer's hymn, "Forward Through the Ages," set to Arthur Seymour Sullivan's "Onward Christian Soldiers" tune.

Mr. Fisher conducted the prayers and Dr. Palfrey Perkins read a selection from Robert Browning's poem, "Abt Vogler," beginning "Well, it is gone at last, the palace of music I reared."

Mr. Weston had been organist at the First Unitarian Parish in Weston during Dr. Perkins' ministry there.

Mr. Weston died Thursday.

President of Dillard Univ Speaks Sun.

Dr. Albert W. Dent, President of Dillard University in New Orleans, will speak at Central Congregational Church in Newtonville on Sunday morning, January 17. Dr. Dent is a Fellow of the American College of Hospital Administrators, and previous to assuming the presidency of Dillard University in 1941, he was superintendent of Dillard's Flint-Goodridge Hospital for nine years. He is a former vice-president of the National Tuberculosis Association and served as a delegate to the first World Health Assembly in Geneva in 1948.

Dr. Dent is also a member of the Fellowship Committee of the Ford Foundation, the Negro Program Committee of the National Tuberculosis Association, the Board of Directors of the Southern Regional Council, and was appointed by the American Hospital Association to study the nation's hospital resources and needs. He is also a former director of the Commission on Interracial Cooperation and of the National Organization for Public Health Nursing.

Dillard University was organized in 1930. It is a coeducational school with an enrollment of over six hundred and is affiliated with the Congregational Christian churches.

Dr. Dent will be attending the meeting in Boston of the United Negro College Fund, in which thirty-one institutions participate.

The service of worship will be conducted by the minister of Central Church, the Rev. Randolph S. Merrill.

Herter Jr. to Speak at GOP Meeting Here

At a meeting this week of the Executive Board of the Newton Republican Club plans were made for a Lincoln Eve Celebration.

Christian A. Herter, Jr., Administrative Assistant to Vice-President of the United States, Nixon, and former Representative of Newton from the Fourth Middlesex District of Massachusetts, will be the featured speaker of this occasion. The event is scheduled for Thursday evening, February 11th, at 8 p. m. at the Clafin School on Lowell avenue in Newtonville.

The Committee in charge of arrangements includes Stanley S. Lewenberg, Chairman; Wilfred Chagnon; Mrs. George J. Elbaum; Frederick G. Fisher, Jr.; Robert F. Lovett; Mrs. William R. Mattson; and Mrs. John B. Stetson.

The meeting will be a public one and everyone is invited to attend.

The new class for Gray Lady Volunteers will be held jointly with other Chapters at the headquarters of the Boston Metropolitan Chapter, 17 Gloucester street, Boston. Classes will begin Monday, January 25th at 1:30 p. m. and will continue on Mondays and Wednesdays through February 10th—a total of six two-hour sessions.

Termed as one of the most enjoyable and significant of Red Cross services, dating back to its origin at Walter Reed Hospital in World War I, the Gray Lady duties are essentially of a morale building

NEW BRANCH OF NEWTON NATIONAL BANK OPENS ITS DOORS. Seen here cutting the ribbon to the doors... of the new Nonantum branch of the Newton National Bank is Mayor of Newton Howard Whitmore. ## Rep. Thresher Believed First Woman on Ways, Means Com.

Setting a precedent in Massachusetts history, Speaker Charles Gibbons of the House of Representatives has appointed Representative Irene K. Thresher of Newton as the first woman member of the powerful Ways and Means Committee.

The Newton Republican, now serving her second term in the House, filled the vacancy created by the resignation of Chairman Howard Whitmore, Jr., to serve as Mayor of his home city of Newton.

The important assignment came as a surprise to the Newton mother of four children, two of whom are married, but she is confident that studying the Commonwealth's multi-million dollar budget will not be too unlike her task of many years in handling home finances.

Speaker Gibbons stated that the appointment of Representative Thresher was in recognition of the increasingly vital part played by women in both the National and State governments.

"Women are in most instances today not only the center of the home sentimentally but also from a financial point of view," he said. "By necessity they learn how to shop economically, how to manage their families under a budget, and they are well equipped to assist in framing the budget of the Commonwealth and helping to keep its finances sound for the benefit of all of its citizens."

Mrs. Thresher is believed to be the first woman member of the House of Representatives to be assigned to a committee as important as Ways and Means, where she will sit with 14 associates in the House and five Senators in passing upon all financial matters confronting the Legislature.

A graduate of Vassar College, she served as a member of the Newton School Committee for nine years prior to her election to the House of Representatives in 1950. She has been a member of the Republican City Committee of Newton for 20 years. Her husband, B. Alden Thresher, is director of admissions at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the couple make their home at 667, Chestnut street in Waban.

Last year she served as vice chairman and clerk of the Committee on Public Welfare, and her legislative duties also included service on three recess commissions, Educational Television, Public Welfare, and a study of State Teachers' Colleges.

Allyn K. Suttell to Address Newton YMCA Officials

Committee and Board members and officers of the Newton YMCA will hear Allyn K. Suttell, Pawtucket business leader and vice-chairman of the Two State Committee of the YMCA at their fourth annual Committee's Dinner, to be held at 6:30 p. m., Tuesday, January 19, in the auditorium of the Newton YMCA building at 276 Church street, Newton.

Mr. Suttell's subject will be "Your Place in Our YMCA." In business life, Mr. Suttell is controller of the Collyer Insulated Wire Company, a nationally known Pawtucket enterprise. He has served in several important volunteer present is president of the Pawtucket YMCA.

President Frederick S. Bacon will receive program plans from all regular committees of the Newton YMCA at the meeting. A smorgasbord dinner will be served by members of the Women's Auxiliary. A guest at the meeting will be Orville H. Emmons, associate secretary of the executive committee of the YMCA's of Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

Members of the Board of Directors of the YMCA will meet after the "sociability" period to follow the dinner. Invitations to the dinner have been mailed to all members of regular committees of the Newton YMCA. Wives and guests have been invited.

Muther States Judicious Plan Can Prevent It

Although Newtonians are carrying a higher per capita debt than the taxpayer of any other Massachusetts city, Newton's debt, if held within the framework of a judicious capital improvement program, need not cause any increase in the 1954 tax rate, stated Lorez F. Muther, Jr., Executive Director of the Newton Taxpayers' Association, as he discussed the Mayor's inaugural address this week. (An erroneous report of the address in the daily press had predicted a $5 to $7 rise in the local tax rate.) "The debt problem is serious," said Muther, "but if it is handled properly, while exercising vigilance, need not take alarm."

"As for the seriousness of the situation," Muther continued, "the debt has nearly tripled—from $4.7 million to $13.7 million—in the post war period. Debt service and debt retirement now take fully 10 per cent of the city's current budgets, about $1.5 million each year, equivalent to about $7 on the tax rate. The borrowing capacity of the city under present law is about $15 million, so there remains but something over $1 million between our present debt and the top figure now allowed."

"Moreover, some of our fellow citizens want more things quicker," said Muther. "At a recent meeting of a school group representing Parent Teachers Associations, a school committee member indicated his willingness to see the city ask for permission to legally increase its borrowing capacity still further. The new Oak Hill Junior High School alone is expected under present plans to cost more than the city spent for the Oak Hill Park veterans' development of over 400 homes."

In an entirely different vein, Mayor Whitmore's inaugural

Plan Economy Move In Combining Polls

A study of possible revisions of precincts and polling places before the fall elections was authorized last Thursday night at a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen called to set up voting machinery for the election of a new state representative from Wards 4, 5 and 6.

Four precincts will be combined for the primary election on February 16, but not at the final balloting March 9. The combining means that two precincts will be handled by the same wardens, clerks and inspectors. Under the present system, two wards may vote in the same building, but each has its separate staff.

The consolidation was urged by City Clerk Monte G. Basbas for the election in the Fifth Middlesex District to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mayor Howard Whitmore. Wendell R. Bauckman, president of the aldermen, suggested that the change should wait until the fall to avoid confusion. After Mr. Basbas explained that the city could save about $1000 by combining some precincts and switching others to public buildings, the aldermen voted to study the proposal and to seek the aid of various improvement associations in the change.

Plans for the February 16 primary call for the combination of Precincts 1 and 3 of Ward 4 in the Burr School, Ash street, Auburndale. In the March election, however, only Precinct 1 will vote in the school, and Precinct 3 in the Branch Library at 375 Auburn street, Auburndale.

This is the only combination of precincts which will actually affect the voters. Three other consolidations will take place where two precincts already vote in the same place.

The other consolidations are Precincts 2 and 6, Ward 5, in

Parents Are Urged to Caution Children on Coasting Dangers

Chief Philip Purcell of the Newton Police Department stated today that in view of the current snowfall it would be wise for parents to caution children against coasting on streets, sidewalks or driveways. All coasting should be done in areas that are suitable and safe.

There are many hills and playgrounds which provide SAFE coasting areas. In addition to the many private hills where coasting is permitted, the following areas are suggested by the Recreation Department: Newton Centre Playground, Edmonds Park, Cold Springs Playground, Auburndale Playground, Boyd Park, Eden Avenue Playground and Stearns School.

The law forbids coasting on public streets. This law was specifically designed for the safety and protection of the child.

Parents: Play Safe. Know Where Your Child Coasts!

Rep. Robt. Murphy To Speak Tonight To Democrats

State Rep. Robert F. Murphy, Democratic floor leader of the House of Representatives, will speak at a meeting of the Newton Democratic Committee today (Thursday) at Filene's Sky Room, Chestnut Hill, at 8:15 p. m.

Following the talk by Representative Murphy, the business of the meeting will be the consideration and possible adoption of by-laws, and a discussion of the Democratic Pre-Primary Convention to be held February 4 and 5 in Worcester.

Certain Ward Committees will hold a special ward meeting to elect delegates to the Pre-Primary Convention. The general public is invited to attend Mr. Murphy's talk without charge.

Study Plan to Cut 'Red Tape' From Claims Against Newton

An ordinance revision to cut "red tape" from claims against the city amounting to less than $200 is currently being studied by the aldermanic finance, and claims and rules committees.

The new ordinance allows payment by the city of claims not exceeding $200 with the approval of the city solicitor and the head of the department which is responsible for the damages. If the measure is approved by the committees and voted by the aldermen, $1000 will be placed in a General Claims Appropriation under the Law Department budget for such claims.

At present, claims against Newton must be handled by the claims and rules committee and later by the full Board of Aldermen, no matter how small the claim may be. Placing of the decision in the city solicitor's hands would do away with a great deal of "red tape" and would leave the aldermen time to study more important matters.

The last aldermanic meeting of 1953 was largely taken up with minor claims against the city. Under present rules, each claim must be considered by the claims and rules committee, reported on by the chairman, read aloud twice by the city clerk, and then voted by the entire board before payment can be made. Not only does it take much time, but claims are often delayed by the process.

In the preliminary docket issued for Monday night's aldermanic meeting, $1200 has been recommended by Mayor Howard Whitmore for the erection, removal and maintenance of voting booths.

Before the meeting, a number of hearings will be held at 7:45 p.m. Joint pole and wire locations are being sought by the Boston Edison and New England Telephone and Telegraph Company on Wheeler road, Oak Hill, five poles near Meadowbrook road; Pine Grove avenue, Newton Lower Falls, one pole near Cornell street; and Westland avenue, West Newton, six poles near Manhattan road.

Boston Edison is also asking permission to erect a pole on Boylston street, Newton Highlands, near Delmore road. The telephone company is asking for one pole on Needham street, Newton Highlands, near Easy street.

The Shell Gasoline Station at 1099 Beacon street, Newton Centre, is seeking a permit to increase its gasoline storage capacity by 3000 gallons to 9000 gallons with an additional pump. The station also hopes to store 2500 gallons of various oils and alcohol above ground, and underground 1000 gallons of fuel oil and 550 gallons of waste oil.

Also heard will be a petition by John P. Gootos and Helen J. Gootos for a license to erect a gas station with a three-car capacity lubricatorium at 804 Boylston street, Newton Highlands. Their petition lists capacities of 9000 gallons of gasoline; 1000 gallons of motor oil; 500 pounds of grease; 350 gallons of anti-freeze; 120 gallons of kerosene; 1000 gallons of fuel oil; and 550 gallons of waste oil.

A third service station petition on the docket is that filed by the Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, Inc., for a license to tear down the existing station at 1094-1100 Beacon street, Newton Highlands, and replace it with a two-car capacity lubricatorium. Maximum capacity of the gasoline storage will be 7000 gallons underground.

The Boston Consolidated Gas Company is asking a permit to install recording gauges and breather posts and connections on the following sidewalks: northeast side of Florence street, Chestnut Hill, near Boylston street; west side of Walnut street, Newton Centre,

The likelihood is that Dever will disclose his plans at the big Democratic Jackson-Jefferson dinner a week from next Saturday. He will be one of the main speakers at the banquet, and the question in minds of many of the guests will be what the ex-Governor will do. It seems improbable that Mr. Dever will let it go unanswerd beyond that date.

Dever's followers appear to be divided into three groups.

One is pressing him to launch an all-out drive to regain the Governorship. The motives of most of the members of that faction are not altogether altruistic. They would like to climb back into power on Beacon Hill on Dever's coattails.

A second wing of the Dever camp is urging him to run for the U. S. Senate. They point out that next November will offer him the last opportunity to bid for a seat in that body in at least six years, since John F. Kennedy undoubtedly will stand for reelection in 1958, and there'll be no opening for another Democrat until 1960.

Still a third group seriously questions whether the time is yet ripe for Dever to undertake a political comeback and if he might not be marching back into the political wars too soon.

If Dever himself has decided which of the three courses he will follow, he has given no inkling as to his decision, and the guessing by the best informed observers is that he hasn't yet made up his own mind as to what he will do.

Should Dever choose to remain on the sidelines, a terrific free-for-all battle would develop for the control of a leaderless Democratic party.

Boston's Mayor John B. Hynes has shown no disposition to yield to pressure that he seek State-wide office next autumn, although he unquestionably would be the strongest standard-bearer the Democrats could push forward and Mr. Dever, if he were to attempt a comeback, understandably would like him for a running mate.

If Dever and Hynes both stay out of the picture, Furcolo and Fitzpatrick automatically will move pretty close to the top of the list of available gubernatorial prospects, and Congressman Philip J. Philbin and ex-Governor James M. Curley quite likely would battle it out for the Democratic nomination for the Senate.

Political experts who have endeavored to estimate the respective strength of Furcolo and Fitzpatrick suspect that Furcolo might be the stronger candidate in a final election but that Fitzpatrick might have an edge in a primary fight for nomination.

Of course, the Democrats will be holding a State convention next June, and the candidate who receives its endorsement would have a psychological edge in the primary, even though it would not necessarily assure him of nomination.

But until Mr. Dever divulges his intentions, the Democrats really won't know who's running for what. Except for the redoubtable James M. Curley who insists that he won't get out of the Senate race for anyone, there aren't any candidates in the Democratic party likely to challenge Mr. Dever.

Governor Herter's standing at the moment is not such as to encourage any onsurge of Democratic adversaries, even though there always is a possibility of a shift in the political tide.

The 25 percent reduction in the State income tax certainly isn't going to injure Mr. Herter's popularity with most wage-earners. It should, of course, reap him a harvest of votes that he did not get in 1952.

As the average person figures out how much he owes the State in taxes and then slices a fourth from the amount he would have paid last year, it's going to be brought home quite forcibly to him what the Herter administration has meant to him in dollars and cents.

If Mr. Herter can come up with a route for the Boston Central Artery that will not destroy Chinatown and portions of the leather and garment districts and can provide even a partial answer to the financial dilemma of the MTA, he should be in pretty good shape for next November's election battle.

A coming court development is expected to explode a bombshell in Republican circles, but it will not involve anyone holding State-wide office.

This session of Congress promises to be an historic one in many ways.

Many of the Republicans and most of the Democrats in Congress find themselves in a troublesome dilemma as to what to do about President Eisenhower's domestic legislative program.

There is little doubt but that the President's foreign program will be approved. The Democrats will back it almost to a man, probably with greater unity than will the Republicans.

The big battle on Capitol Hill will be fought over domestic issues, and it will be in this fight that the political cross currents will run in several directions.

A good many Republicans, including some in powerful positions, are not at all satisfied with like's program. Yet, they are confronted with a tricky political problem. The president has implied quite plainly that the storm signals may be up next November for a substantial number of G.O.P. Congressmen unless a major part of his program is adopted.

Even those Republicans who are strongly entrenched and certain of reelection themselves aren't quite ready to defy their leader, if it means that the G.O.P. will lose control of the Congress and they themselves will be ousted from committee chairmanships and places of power.

Democratic Congressmen also are in an awkward predicament, particularly those from tight districts and States. On the one hand, they don't want to place themselves in the position where they can be blamed for the defeat of the Eisenhower program, and on the other hand they are wondering if they can afford to go before the voters next fall and campaign for reelection on the ground that they supported a Republican President.

Most of the Democrats probably will try to strike a happy medium by supporting the President on some matters and opposing him on others, trying not to incur the public wrath by their opposition and not to help build with their votes a G.O.P. program that might spell the Democratic downfall.

TELEVIEWING THE NEWS
By LEE LOUMOS
More and more motion picture personalities are succumbing to the lure of television. The latest is lovely Ginger Rogers, who has signed with the John Guedel organization of a filmed series. Guedel lured the reluctant charmer into the TV fold with a new idea, utilizing the talents of the more than 1800 Little Theater groups scattered around the country. Each week a new group will be flown to Hollywood to showcase their talents with Miss Rogers as the star. CBS has already taken an option on the show.

Producer Guedel is known as the partner and producer of Groucho Marx, show, "You Bet Your Life," and the Art Linkletter "Houseparty." "People Are Funny," and the Kim program. That should give him the experience to make his new venture successful. Bob Crosby is credited with today's laugh-line. "I know a kid out of college who worked his fingers to the bone and made a million dollars. Now he's unhappy. He inherited 7 million." Red Buttons isn't laughing so much these days. His trouble is that people are laughing at him too much. Sadly overworked, Red asked for one week off for every six weeks of work, but was turned down. He'll probably get a rest when he lands in a hospital. If your set is showing signs of breaking down under the daily strain of constant use, call on our video doctors for accurate analysis of its ailments. . . . and for an expert repair operation.

Youth, 17, Winning Fight For Life after Stabbing

A 17-year-old West Newton youth, stabbed in the back Sunday by a 14-year-old Newtonville boy during a fracas at a West Newton theater, seems to be winning his fight for life at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

The stabbing victim, Thomas B. Duffy, one of nine children of Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Duffy of 323 Cherry street, West Newton, was reported to have improved following an emergency operation shortly before noon Monday to tie a severed artery.

The boy who is accused of the stabbing is slated to face an assault and battery with a dangerous weapon charge tomorrow (Friday) in Newton District Court. He was held in $2000 bail after being arraigned Monday morning.

According to a police report of the incident, several boys were engaged in an argument with the 14-year-old when Duffy entered the controversy. The boy then drew a hunting knife and stabbed Duffy in the back, inflicting a 4-inch-deep wound, police said.

Duffy was rushed to the hospital, and an emergency operation was performed at 2 a. m. Monday morning. A second operation was necessary when bleeding continued. At first the knife wound was thought to have punctured a lung, but later this was found untrue.

About 50 Percent Respond to '54 Seal Fund Drive

The Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association has announced that of the 17,928 Christmas Seal letters sent to residents of Newton, 8,838 replies have been received. This figure shows that about 50 percent of those who have received seals have not sent in their contributions nor returned their seals.

The Association hopes that those who have not answered their seal sale letters will not forget the anti-tuberculosis work going on in Newton. The Association carries a year round program of case-finding, rehabilitation, health education and contributes to medical research programs of the National Tuberculosis Association.

Promoted in ROTC

Florence Crittenton League

Members of the Newton Circle of the Florence Crittenton League will meet Monday, January 18 at the home of Mrs. Kenneth S. Nugent in Waban.

Luncheon will be served at one o'clock by Mrs. F. Gilbert McNamara and Mrs. James H. Morton, assisted by Mrs. Clifton H. Curtis, Mrs. Henry W. Hudson, Jr., Mrs. Halvor R. Seward and Mrs. Fred G. Stritzinger.

Mrs. Gordon M. Morrison, president, will conduct the business meeting, following which Mrs. James H. Orr, vice-president, will introduce the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Christine Panek, whose subject will be "War Experiences in Poland."

Art Association

At the regular meeting of the Newton Art Association held on Thursday evening, Jan. 7 at Library Hall, Newtonville, a large group enjoyed Loring's demonstration in oil painting. Although Mr. Coleman is known largely for his water colors, he used the oil medium as being more adaptable to his purpose. He is widely known as a teacher and painter, being on the staff of Cordova Museum, supervisor of art for the Sudbury schools and the Middlesex school. He paints slowly and carefully, stressing design, texture and mood.

At the annual water color show of the Copley Society of Boston, the following members of the Newton Art Association are exhibiting their work, Helen Cleaves, Sophia Morrill, Amy Jarvis, Ruth Palmer, Audrey Soule, Rosalie Murphy, Sherwood Blodgett, Elizabeth de Vico and James K. Bonnar.

The next meeting of the Association will be held Jan. 21, with Kay Peterson as guest artist.

Friendship Guild To Celebrate 25th Birthday, Jan. 19

The Friendship Guild of the Second Church will celebrate its 25th birthday on January 19 at 6:30 p.m. Chairman, Virginia Hayden, will preside over a short business meeting, after which the festive event will begin. Bernice Bowen and Luella Hartbower together with their committee have made special arrangements for the celebration of this affair.

The speaker for the evening will be Dr. Donald Bowen, who has chosen for his topic, "Current Problems in Mental Health."

All past presidents are being invited to attend the party, and the hostesses, Virginia Hayden and Florence Butterfield, are looking forward to greeting many members.

Auburndale Woman's Club

Miss Helen Fogg, Director of Child and Youth Projects for Unitarian Service Committee who has recently returned from Europe, will be the guest speaker at a program tea to be held at the home of Mrs. William D. Wellock, 22 Islington road, Auburndale, on January 15 at 2 p.m.

This is the second meeting of the season for the Literature and International Relations Committee of the Auburndale Woman's Club of which Mrs. William F. Atwood is chairman. Mrs. William P. DeWitt and Mrs. Thomas J. Noone are to be cohostesses with Mrs. Wellock.

The subject of Miss Fogg's talk will be "Voluntary Agencies on America's New Frontier." This will be followed by a discussion period.

Miss Nancy MacGillivray, Newton High School Library Staff, will take "TV As It Affects Reading Habits."

"What Changes Can We Expect in TV?" will be the subject matter of a member of the Boston University School of Television and Radio.

An open question period will follow. It is hoped that many parents will come prepared to ask questions, or present their problems concerning television.

Branches Commence American ORT "Honor Roll Membership Day" Wed.

Mrs. Lee Myers, Newton, Regional Honor Roll Coordinator and Chairman of "Honor Roll Membership Day" for the New England Region, Women's American ORT (Organization for Rehabilitation through Training) announces that invitations are now in the mail to hundreds of women in this area and that plans are completed for the program scheduled for next Wednesday, January 20th.

"On our 'Honor Roll Membership Day,'" said Mrs. Myers, "all efforts will be coordinated by a series of brunches to be held at 11:30 a.m. at homes throughout the area. At 12:20 over WNAC all members and friends of ORT will have an opportunity to hear Mrs. Ludwig Kaplan, National President, Women's American ORT, who will be interviewed concerning 'ORT in the World Today.'"

At one o'clock transportation for all guests will be arranged from the brunches to the Hotel Sheraton Plaza for a joint meeting of all chapters. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Ludwig Kaplan, National President, who has returned recently from a visit to ORT schools. Fashions, with music by Sammy Eisen, will be presented.

"Continued support and expansion of the ORT program depends upon an enlarged Honor Roll Membership," continued Mrs. Myers. "A contribution of $25 in funds and/or in service will qualify a woman for Honor Roll Membership."

Service may be given to the Value Center, ORT's Resale Shop at 995 Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge; to the Bonds of Israel Government program, or to any of the local ORT projects. To this end ORT women throughout the New England Region are working to insure the success of Honor Roll Day.

Mrs. Alfred Sharenow, Newton, who is Honor Roll Chairman for the Newton Chapter of ORT, has designated that brunches will be held at the following Newton members' homes: Mrs. Harry Braude, 315 Lee street, Brookline; Mrs. Milton Gordon, 63 Mandalay road, Newton; Mrs. Herbert Rubin, 25 Manor House road, Newton; and Mrs. Sumner Stroyman, 20 Drew road, Newton. Mrs. Sharenow will be assisted by the following women:

ORT-O-Meters, Mrs. Lester Geist; Special Projects, Mrs. Edward Goldfine; Scholarship, Mrs. Herman Snider; Value Center, Mrs. Alfred Reiss and Mrs. Alan Tichnor; Bonds, Mrs. Harry Marks; and Membership, Mrs. Richard H. Sonis and Mrs. Herbert Nollman.

ORT is the largest single private vocational training agency in the world.

Mrs. Myers of Newton in speaking further of this program said, "As a result of the working of this program, we in Women's American ORT supply the machines, the tools and the practice material upon which our more than 20,000 students learn their trades in 19 countries in which the World ORT Union has established trade schools. By supplying the required equipment for these schools, we have assured a growing body of trained workers, each of whom, by his skill, assures productivity to the world and the practical application of our basic philosophy that a skilled man is a man freed from charity and dignified in the eyes of his fellow man. This Honor Roll Day will climax weeks of effort on the part of ORT workers to fulfill its Honor Roll Membership quota in support of ORT's overseas program of rehabilitation through training."

Banks Display Paintings of Newton Artists

The Newton National Bank at Newton Centre is showing an exhibition of paintings by Priscilla Ordway. Her subjects are wild animals and birds and she uses the case in medium showing much originality and feeling for color.

She is well known in Newton as a teacher of art and is on the staff of the Walnut Hill School in Natick. The display runs from Jan. 12-26.

At the Newton-Waltham Bank at Newton Centre, George and Mary Bigelow are showing their oil paintings of New England. This delightful pair are very popular in Newton as their sales of paintings prove. They have studied with many artists, including Frank Rines, Marion Sloane and John Enser. Their show also runs through Jan. 26.

At the Wellesley branch of the Newton Savings Bank on Washington St. in Wellesley Square, James K. Bonnar, past president of the Newton Art Association, the Boston Business Men's Art Club and now president of the Copley Society of Boston, has a very fine show of landscapes in oils through January.

At the Newton Center Savings Bank on Union Street, Whitney Cushing, a graduate of Dartmouth college and a flyer in World War II, has an exhibition of portraits and marines. Mr. Cushing has studied under the G. I. bill in the Museum School of Boston, the New England Art School at Sarasota, the Norton Gallery at Palm Beach and the Perry Art Institute of Miami. His show may be seen Jan. 12-22. Do not miss these shows.

Named G.O.P. Lecturer

Dr. Gov. Sumner J. Whittier has appointed Rep. George E. Rawson of Newton as one of the lecturers for the school being conducted for Republican party workers. His subject will be "Election Laws as They Concern Party Workers."

Dr. Pusey to Address Alumnae Of Seven Women's Colleges

The Alumnae Clubs of the Seven Colleges Association will hold their 28th annual meeting on January 23rd at 11 a.m. in the Ballroom of the Hotel Bradford. Dr. Nathan Pusey, president of Harvard University, will address more than 1,000 Greater Boston Alumnae of Barnard, Bryn Mawr, Mt. Holyoke, Radcliffe, Smith, Vassar and Wellesley.

The gathering, which has been held since 1926, is the simultaneous alumnae meeting of the seven member colleges for the New England area. Former speakers have included the incoming presidents of the seven colleges, notably, in recent years, Miss Sarah Blanding of Vassar, Miss Mildred Clapp of Wellesley, Dr. Wilbur Jordan of Radcliffe, Dr. Benjamin Wright of Smith, as well as other leaders in education. A luncheon for the speaker, the presidents of the colleges and of the alumni groups, and for the committee will follow the address.

Mrs. James Donovan of Cambridge, a graduate of Radcliffe, heads the committee organizing this meeting. Miss Charlotte Brayton of Boston, an alumna of Smith is in charge of the luncheon. Mrs. Robert Foster of Newtonville, a graduate of Wellesley, has made the arrangements for the auditorium. Printing and tickets are the responsibility of Mrs. Sydney Shureliff of Boston and Miss Mary Willett of Needham, respectively. Mrs. Shureliff graduated from Bryn Mawr and Miss Willett represents Mt. Holyoke. The remainder of the committee is comprised of Mrs. LaRue Brown (Barnard) of Boston, who is in charge of finances, and Mrs. Evan Calkins (Vassar) of Arlington, who has arranged the publicity.

Pledge at UMass
Phi chapter of Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity at the University of Massachusetts announced recently the pledging of Richard D. Fritz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Fritz of 20 Cotton street, Newton. He is a freshman at the university.

Bigelow Parent Teacher Association

The Executive Committee of the Bigelow Junior High School P.T.A. met on Monday evening and the program for the mid-winter P. T. A. meeting on Wednesday, January 20, was outlined. This is to be an evening with two main features. First, there is to be a concert of familiar music by the Bigelow Junior High School band, under the direction of Mr. Dante J. Ippolito. The second part of the program is to be somewhat of a change from the customary program, a play. This was decided when it was learned that the membership included some people with a great deal of theatrical experience, and a play was selected which presents a normal family life, with normal teenage children and problems. Mrs. Earl Douglas, chairman of the Program Committee is directing this play which is an American Theatre Wing Community Play, entitled "High Pressure Area," written by Nora Stirling. The members of the cast are Mrs. Leopold Beckwith, the Rev. Archibald MacMillan, Mrs. Margaret Nicholson and Mrs. Leon Sternfeld. Refreshments will be served after the meeting by Mrs. Sidney Wish and her committee.

The chairman of the Nominating Committee was announced, Mrs. Clifton H. Emerson, and she will start soon on her work with the representatives from the four districts.

The Constitution and By-Laws were presented to the Executive Committee and it was recommended that they be given to the P.T.A. for approval.

The committee decided to establish a committee to make a study of a suitable "Weekend Dating Time Table" for Junior High School students. Mrs. Ivan Geiger, president of the P.T.A. and Mr. Edgar Pray, principal, will be ex-officio members.

A most entertaining program featuring T. W. A. films showing a "Flight to Romance, Flight to Ceylon, and a Flight to Spain" was presented by the chairman, Mrs. Phillip Houle. The Guild is planning a Silver Tea for Monday, February 15th, at 2 p.m. in Library Hall. Father Beuler, one of the parish curates will lecture on and show his slides of the Mass. All are invited to attend.

After the meeting was over, Mrs. Arthur Thivierge and her committee served refreshments.

West Newton WCTU

Mrs. May L. Sweatt of 62 Austin street, Newtonville, will open her home to the regular meeting of the West Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union next Monday evening. The subject for the evening will be "Extracts from the Union Signal." The assisting hostess will be Mrs. Sarah M. Hoven-

Mr. James J. Barrett of Waban Takes Miss Frawley As Bride

On January 3rd the altar of St. Pius Church, Lynn, was decorated with white flowers and ferns for the 10 o'clock nuptial mass, when Miss Helen Marie Frawley became the bride of Mr. James Joseph Barrett, USA, son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Barrett of Waban. The Rev. John D. Day of St. Mary's Parish was celebrant and performed the marriage ceremony. The reception for immediate members of the families followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mayor Arthur J. Frawley and Mrs. Frawley of Lynn.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a candlelight gown, fashioned with a scoop neckline outlined with Brussels lace. A bouffant skirt embroidered with matching lace extended into a chapel train. She wore a fingertip Madonna veil of Brussels lace imported from Paris and carried a prayer book with rubrum lilies and alyssum with trailing frosted ivy and stephanotis.

Miss Dorothy Barrett of Waban, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a waltz-length gown of winter blue velvet and had a velvet clip with silvered ivy leaves in her hair. Her cascade bouquet combined silver ivy, white narcissus, gladiolus and budleia.

The mother of the bride wore an ice blue silk taffeta dress caught with a waistline corsage of a hybrid white orchid. She wore a silver hat and navy accessories. The bridegroom's mother was gowned in a two piece navy Italian silk suit, a dusty pink hat and navy accessories. Her corsage was a purple-lipped white orchid.

Mr. Arthur J. Frawley, Jr. was best man and the ushers included Mr. Richard Barrett, brother of the bridegroom; and Mr. Richard Riley of Lynn. The bride is a graduate of Mount Saint Vincent on the Hudson, N.Y., and the bridegroom was graduated from Boston College and Lowell Textile Institute. He is now stationed at Fort Dix, N. J., awaiting assignment. They went to Bermuda for their wedding trip.

Miss Barbara J. Drake Weds Lt. Alexander F. LoBrano, USA

White roses, lilies and ferns decorated the Second Congregational Church West Newton, January 2nd, when Miss Barbara Jane Drake, daughter of Mrs. John Harold Drake of Newtonville and the late Mr. Drake, became the bride of Lt. Alexander Flick LoBrano, USA; son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Stubbs LoBrano of Chappaqua, N. Y. Dr. Robert Clyde Yarbrough officiated at the ceremony and the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Robert Grant Drake. A reception followed at the Brae Burn Country Club.

Pearl and sequin-embroidered lace outlined the off-the-shoulder illusion neckline and pleated bodice of the bride's blush satin gown. Made with long fitted sleeves and an unpressed pleated skirt, it ended in a cathedral train. A Brussels lace cap held her fingertip veil in place and she carried a bouquet of white camellias, lilies-of-the-valley and pink sweetheart roses.

All the bridal attendants wore ballerina-length peacock silk taffeta gowns made with scoop necklines, and full unpressed pleated skirts. Both the matron of honor, Mrs. Paul R. Copeland of Grosse Pointe Park, Mich., and the maid of honor, Miss Jane M. Drake, of Newtonville, sisters of the bride, carried pale pink camellias, and the bridesmaids combined them with deep red camellias in their bouquets. They were Miss Dorothy LoBrano of Chappaqua, N.Y., sister of the bridegroom; Miss Sarah Cummings of Newton Centre; Mrs. Lawrence Hunter of Hingham; and Mrs. Robert Purdy of Boston.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Drake wore a Dior blue taffeta gown and the bridegroom's mother Mrs. LoBrano, wore steel gray satin.

The bridegroom had his father as best man. Ushers were Mr. Norman Davis of Chappaqua, N.Y., Mr. Norman Kenyon of Mt. Kisco, N.Y., Mr. Lee Henderson of Pleasantville, N.Y., Lt. Walter Munns, USA, of Had donfield, N.J., Lt. Edward Shotwell, 3rd, USA, of Beverly Farms and Mr. Rhys Williams of Charleston, S. C.

The bride was graduated from Tenacre and Dana Hall Schools and from Mount Holyoke College, class of 1951. The bridegroom prepared at Lawrenceville School and was graduated from Amherst College, class of 1951. He was attending Georgetown University, School of Foreign Service, before entering the Army. They will make their home in Augusta, Ga., where Lt. LoBrano is stationed.

Good news for residents of Waban and vicinity is the opening of the Village Del at 6 Windsor road, Waban.

A full line of both imported and domestic delicatessens, appetizers and creameries is carried by the Village "Del," which is operated by A. J. Fox and Bernard Schwechter. Both men have had long experience in the delicatessen field.

Open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. and Sundays from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. the Village Delicatessen offers lunches to take out, as well as seating facilities for 30 luncheoners. There are special rates for parties.

Delicious chopped ham and cold slaw are made on the premises daily, and fresh rye bread, rolls and bagels are delivered every morning from reputable bakeries. Low prices and quality food combine to make the Village Delicatessen

DR. JOSEPH STANTON

The death of Dr. Joseph Stanton, 75, of 114 Shorncliffe road, Newton, on January 2, has removed from this community one of its most respected and beloved citizens.

Dr. Stanton was a member of the staff of both St. Elizabeth's Hospital and the Newton-Wellesley Hospital and for 20 years he was chief of staff at St. Elizabeth's and a member of that institution's board of trustees for five years.

Pope Pius XII honored him in 1949 when he received the "Bene Merenti" medal for "conspicuous activity in civil and religious circles."

Dr. Stanton was a native of Needham. He graduated from Needham High School, from the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy and from the Harvard Medical School in 1903 with honors. He received an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from Boston College in 1941. He was a fellow of the American College of Surgeons and a member of the American Medical Association, Massachusetts Medical Society, Catholic Alumni Sodality, St. Luke's Guild of Boston and the Harvard Club of Boston. He also served on the advisory board of Regis College, Weston.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, January 5, in Our Lady of Presentation Church, Brighton where a Mass was celebrated by his son, the Rev. Edward S. Stanton. Burial was in Holyhood Cemetery, Brookline.

Dr. Stanton is survived by his wife, Mary E., and 10 children, Rev. Edward S. Stanton, S. J., of Holy Cross College;

96th Birthday Of Retired BU Prof. in W.N.

Joseph R. "Daddy" Taylor, Boston University professor emeritus of Greek and Greek literature, celebrated his 96th birthday Monday at his home, 42 Adella road, West Newton.

As usual, "Daddy" Taylor received numerous cards, letters and other greetings from former students now scattered throughout the world, although he is now in his 13th year of retirement. He was a member of B.U.'s College of Liberal Arts for half a century.

Mrs. Taylor, confined to a wheelchair since an accident which broke her hip in 1951, expects to celebrate her 97th birthday on Saturday. Christmas is always a joint observance of another milestone in their lives, their wedding anniversary. This past holiday was their 71st wedding anniversary.

Both "Daddy" Taylor, as he has been known and referred to fondly through the years by his many generations of University students, and his fragile-appearing wife continue to enjoy their favorite avocation, reading. "Young in spirit," both Taylors are adept at foreign languages, nine at least: English, French, German, Greek, Latin, Italian, Sanskrit, Hebrew and Spanish. Bright in former students' memories are "Daddy" Taylor's twinkling blue eyes, white beard—mark of the scholars of old—and the great gusto with which he was in the habit of interspersing the light touch throughout his classroom lectures.

Miss Mary Taylor, their daughter, recently retired from her professional work with the American Red Cross at its Washington, D.C. headquarters, now makes her home with her parents. They have the services of a housekeeper and a nurse who attends to Mrs. Taylor's needs. There are also two grandchildren of another daughter (deceased), Patricia and Robert Cogswell.

Sister Mary Joseph of the Carmelite Monastery, Roxbury; Sister Ann of the Trinity D. C. of the Carmelite Monastery, Rochester, N. Y.; Dr. Richard H. and Dr. Joseph R., both of Boston; Mrs. Harold B. Nash of Weymouth, James F., of Waltham, and Miss Louise M., and Vincent P., both of Newton.

ALVIN S. HOCHBERG

Hochberg to Be Candidate For Nomination

At a recent meeting of campaign leaders Alvin S. Hochberg announced his candidacy for Representative in the General Court from the Fifth Middlesex District. He will seek the Democratic nomination and election in the special election which will be held to fill the vacancy caused by the recent resignation of Mayor Howard Whitmore.

A practicing attorney with offices in Boston, Mr. Hochberg is a graduate of the Harvard Law School and is a member of the Legislative Subcommittee on the Legislation of the Massachusetts Bar Association, he is especially interested in the modernization of the Massachusetts tax structure.

Mr. Hochberg is a member of the Port of Boston Committee of the Greater Boston Area Council, and is a former assistant district commissioner of the Boston Council of the Boy Scouts of America. He has participated in many community campaigns including the Y. M. C. A. Building Fund, Red Feather and Heart Fund.

A private pilot prior to the war, Mr. Hochberg served as a B-25 Bomber pilot with the 13th Air Force during World War II and flew 54 combat missions as pilot and flight leader in the South and Southwest Pacific Theaters.

Mr. Hochberg was one of the founders of the Volunteers for Stevenson in Massachusetts, is Vice Chairman of the newly revitalized Newton Democratic City Committee, and is Chairman of the Ward 5 Democratic Committee.

He resides with his wife, the former Estelle Broude, and their two daughters, at 12 Solon street, Newton Highlands.

Early Return Of Coin Cards Is Urged

Newton March of Dimes, Chairman Jack Baldwin asks early return of Coin Collection cards. Mr. Baldwin explains that the fight against polio is often a battle against time. Rapid diagnosis and quick medical attention raise the chances of recovery immeasurably. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which sponsors the March of Dimes, never has lost time in bringing aid to polio sufferers.

He asks, are you losing time in making your contribution to this worthy cause? Mail in your March of Dimes card today. There are only 16 days left for the March of Dimes to collect enough funds to carry out the vital polio prevention program and the medical and educational programs of the National Foundation scheduled for 1954.

Old Fashioned Square Dance to Aid Exchange

An old-fashioned square dance will be held at the Normandie ballroom at Norumbega Park Saturday evening, January 30.

Tickets may be obtained at the High School from the student committee and the proceeds will help to defray the expenses for the exchange students on their forthcoming trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Gill have donated the use of the Normandie Room to the Exchange Committee and Mr. Wade and Miss Siebert of the Trade School have donated the printing of the tickets for the affair.

The student committee for the dance consists of Bill Kantar, David Albertson, Ross Chapin, Roberta Milender and Judy Boden.

This week-end the students committee will canvas local merchants for their rummage sale which will be held sometime in February.

"Government Service, Inc., which runs most of the Federal cafeterias, reported today that government workers are drinking 23 per cent less coffee than they did under the Truman administration." — N. Y. Herald Tribune.

CARL DeSUZIE

Carl DeSuzie To Give Address Tomorrow Night

Tomorrow evening, (Friday), at 8:30 p.m. in the West Newton Armory the Church Service League of St. John's Church, Newtonville, is presenting Carl DeSuzie, well known radio and TV artist. Carl, who claims he has no sense of direction and gets lost in the subway, began taking off each year after the war, to see what lay beyond Boston. Recently he traveled through England's "Elizabethan country" and then went on to fascinating Majorca and the rugged Costa Brava of Spain taking colored pictures along the way.

Though Carl does not feel that travel always provides a restful change, at least he has something to remember afterwards with laughter and pleasure. He promises to share these adventures hoping that his audience will enjoy hearing of the fun he had while they were happening — even when he was in danger of losing his life, his limbs or his shirt. Raymond Church heads the committee, assisted by Fred Wells, George Briggs, Walter Chase, Herbert Smith, Robert Hull, Mrs. Thomas G. Walters, Mrs. Raymond Church and Miss Eleanor L. Bartlett. Tickets may be obtained by calling the Parish Office, LA 7-8090.

"The Administration and Congress have made a good start cutting down Federal spending. They must keep it up. It has to be done because an unbalanced budget means more inflation, an unsound dollar, and higher living costs for all of us." — Marshall County Banner, Argyle, Minn.

Debt-

address, recognizing not only the needs of the city's schools but also of its health and safety, outlined new street, water and sewer requirements totaling over $2 million. In addition, Muther noted, there is definite need for expansion of the incinerator facilities aside from the garbage cooking problem, and the aldermen recently voted for plans for three new consolidated fire houses and for plans for a new Mason-Rice school in Newton Centre. All told, the situation is serious, he said.

"On the other hand a proper scheduling of capital improvements and a firm financial hand definitely can keep the debt from forcing up the tax rate," asserted Muther. "First, Newton can borrow about $1.3 million a year without changing its total indebtedness, for the city retires about that much each year. Second, Newton still has more than $1 million over its present level of debt before it reaches its full level of borrowing capacity. Third, the tax base per capita in Newton is high, too high for some."

"Fourth, the new Mayor's attitude is 'if we are ever to reduce our heavy debt load the first step is to cease adding to it'... and... a request... to borrow under a special act should be avoided if possible." Fifth the city has a good record of handling the rate of growth of its financial obligations, and a high financial rating, and met its 1953 debt problem at the current level while dropping the tax rate.

"Sixth, we of the Taxpayers' Association can continue to help," said Muther, "by supporting only necessary improvements, by continuing our policy of 'no further increase in the city's borrowing capacity other than through the 'within the limit' formula,' and by furthering our proposal to the capital improvement scheduling in the regular budget procedure."

"If these or similar policies and attitudes continue to prevail," Muther concluded, "the city need not ask to be allowed to go deeper into debt, and the working debt level though with difficulty, can be handled within the scope of the present tax rate without depriving the citizens of any proper improvement really needed."

Weston-

Jan. 7, at the Mass. Osteopathic Hospital, following a heart attack. He had been ill only a few days. Born 55 years ago in Wollaston, Mr. Weston had devoted his entire life to music. After studying at the New England Conservatory of Music, he became organist at the First Unitarian Parish in Quincy.

He was the original accompanist for the Meistersingers, a double male sextet chorus group which toured the B. F. Keith summer circuit regularly from 1911-1930, appearing in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Detroit, Buffalo and Albany and other places. Of this old-time group, five of the seven members still associated with the Meistersingers were in the group of ten men who sang at Sunday's memorial service. They were Alfred A. Gruhn, George H. Wheeler, F. Townsend Coward, Frederick W. MacDonald, Franklin G. Field and A. Cameron Steele.

Mr. Weston served in the U. S. Navy during World War I, after which he was organist-choir director at the First Unitarian Parish in Weston before becoming musical director at the First Unitarian Society in Newton 27 years ago. Since the establishment of Temple Shalom, which held its services at the West Newton Unitarian church before acquiring its own religious quarters, Mr. Weston had also been organist for Temple Shalom services.

At the time of his death, Mr. Weston was also on the faculty of Mt. Ida Junior College in Newton Centre. He had maintained a private voice studio in Boston for 35 years. He lived in Boston at 905 Beacon st., and had a summer home in Duxbury. Other vocal groups which he directed included the M.I.T. Glee Club, the MacDowell Club and the DeKoven Glee Club of the General Electric Company in Lynn. He was a member of the nature. By reading to patients, playing games, chatting, arranging flowers, running coffee parties and other bits of homelike activity, recuperating patients are aided in spending their time more enjoyably. Down through the years Gray Ladies have won the hearts of thousands of hospitalized servicemen and veterans. For further information or to register for the class please contact Mrs. Mentzer, LA 7-4617 or the Newton Red Cross at 21 Foster street, Newtonville, LA 7-8000. Interviews will be arranged.

New England Guild of Organists, the Choir Directors' Guild and the Baton Society of M.I.T. He served as vice-president of the board of directors of the South End Music School in Boston.

Mr. Weston is survived by his wife, Mrs. Marjorie Parks Weston, of 905 Beacon street, Boston; one daughter Mrs. Anne Weston Reading, widow of Lt. John W. Reading, USAF, and a grandson. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Maurice J. Quimby, of Wollaston, and a brother, Winslow B. Weston, of Marshfield Hills.

Thresher-

The attractive Newton Republican, who by Speaker Gibbons' action becomes the first of her sex to serve on the chief financial committee of the Legislature, is also active in many community organizations. She is a former President of the Newton League of Women Voters, Waban Woman's Club, Boston Vassar Club, All Newton Music School, and the Boston Branch of the American Association of University Women.

In assuming her new post, Mrs. Thresher is not unmindful of its responsibilities. Realizing that it constitutes a widening of the former field of public service for women, she says, simply, "All I want is to contribute in every way possible so that we may have a financially sound Commonwealth. I hope that I will be able to bring to my associates the point of view of the women of the State in this most important assignment given me by Speaker Gibbons."

Newton Centre Garden Club

On Tuesday morning, January 19th at 10 o'clock the Newton Centre Garden Club will meet at the Newton Centre Woman's club.

Mrs. Milton W. Heath and her committee will serve coffee, after which Mrs. Charles K. Beatty, president, will conduct the business meeting. The program will be presented by F. deJaeger and Sons, consisting of three films: "Holland Blooms Again" - "They Said It With Tulips" - and "Springtime in Holland."

C. S. Lecture to Be Held Here This Sunday

The healing of sickness and other discords exclusively by prayer based on God's allness, will be the topic of a Christian Science lecture to be given here Sunday, January 17, 1954, at 3:30 p.m. by Jules Cern of New York City.

Mr. Cern, a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, will speak in the church edifice, 391 Walnut street, Newtonville, under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newton. His subject will be "Christian Science: The Understanding and Practice of God's Allness." The lecture is free, and local members have invited the public to attend.

A native of Dallas, Texas, Mr. Cern is on a nationwide lecture tour. He has devoted full time to the practice of Christian Science healing since 1935. Prior to that, he was an advertising executive for a large New York department store. After turning from advertising to the theater, he appeared in three plays on Broadway and toured most of the United States and Canada. During World War II he was a volunteer Wartime Worker at Governor's Island, New York.

1st Weekly Prize In Kiddie Center Contest Awarded

Robert Warsow of 22 Rowena road, Newton Centre, took the top prize in the first week of a craft contest sponsored by Kiddie Center Inc., 34 Langley road, Newton Centre. It was announced Tuesday.

Judges selected a model of a Stutz Bearcat auto as the best model entered in the contest, which is scheduled to run for three more weeks with a prize every week and then a grand prize. Robert won a basketball, hoop and net set.

The contest is open to both boys and girls, and the only entry blank needed is a sales slip from Kiddie Center for a painting kit or a model airplane, ship, auto or the like. Boys may enter models and girls may enter paintings.

Prizes for the boys will be the basketball kits, and girls will receive wall pin-up boards. The grand prize will be a 4-foot toboggan, complete with pads, for the lucky boy or girl whose entry survives the final elimination.

The three judges, acting independently, all selected Robert's entry as the best among the many entered the first week. The judges were Miss Gladys Fuller of the Newton Graphic staff, Wilfred Chagnon, state commissioner of pharmacy, and John Rubenstein, president of the Newton Chamber of Commerce.

The 39'sers

POLITICAL OVERTONES

Many of President Eisenhower's Proposals Will Meet Strong Opposition From Members of His Own Party...

President Eisenhower is faced with far more opposition from Republican members of Congress than is generally realized here in Massachusetts.

Qualified observers on Capitol Hill report that Ike is facing almost certain defeat on his proposal for a gradual reduction in farm supports.

They predict that he will meet an important psychological setback in the battle over the so-called Bricker Amendment, which would limit a President's treaty-making powers, unless Democratic lawmakers step into the breach and save the day for him.

There is strong doubt that the President will be successful in obtaining the adoption of the tax program he advocates. He is running into strong election-year sentiment for heavier tax cuts.

As far as can be ascertained, there are two outstanding reasons for the increasing friction between President Eisenhower and many members of his own party.

Newton-Wellesley Hospital to Participate in Accident Study

Dr. T. Stewart Hamilton, Administrator of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital in Newton Lower Falls, has announced that the Newton-Wellesley Hospital is one of 36 hospitals in Massachusetts selected to participate in a three-year study in home accident injuries.

The state-wide program in home accident prevention is being conducted by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health with the cooperation of the Massachusetts Medical Society and the Massachusetts Hospital Association.

The purpose of the state-wide study will be to determine: (1) the number of non-fatal accidents which occur in the home that may otherwise be prevented; (2) the extent of injury and resulting disability; and (3) the specific cause giving rise to the injury. The results of this research study will provide the basic facts upon which will be developed a program of prevention, control and education in home safety at the community level.

"Recognizing the tremendous costliness of home accidents in terms of human suffering and economic losses," said Dr. T. Stewart Hamilton, "the Newton-Wellesley Hospital is delighted to be able to participate in such a worthwhile research project." "While approximately 1,000 persons were killed in home accidents in Massachusetts last year," he said, "little is known about the number of non-fatal accidents that occur in the State or the specific factors which cause these non-fatal accidents. That is why we are glad to be able to cooperate."

The three-year home accident prevention program aimed at reducing the State's "shockingly high" number of home accident fatalities was launched last August with a $96,600 grant awarded by the W. K. Kellogg Foundation to the Massachusetts Department of Public Health. In making the funds available, Kellogg authorities expressed the hope that experience gained in the Massachusetts study will serve as a guide for the development of home safety programs in other state and local health departments in the nation. The program is strongly endorsed by the National Safety Council and its affiliated local chapters and councils. Local interest and approval have been shown by many civic, service, voluntary groups and agencies that consider accidents an expensive and unwanted "luxury" in the community.

The survey will begin in January, 1954, under the direction of Dr. T. Stewart Hamilton and will be continued for three years.

4-Hr. Canvass Valentine Day By Heart Fund

A four-hour neighborhood canvass on St. Valentine's Day, Sunday, February 14, will highlight the 1954 Heart Fund Campaign in Newton, according to an announcement by John M. Powell of Waban, chairman for Newton.

"Volunteers will visit neighbors' homes on Sunday afternoon between the hours of 1 and 5 p.m. to receive Heart Fund donations," Mr. Powell said. "Heart neighbors will be enlisted during January, and I sincerely hope that each citizen who is called will be willing to give an hour or two of his or her time to help the great Heart Fund cause."

"Heart donations support the Massachusetts Heart Association's year-round program of Research, Education and Community Services of an applied research nature. Only through public support can we hope to conquer heart disease—the nation's number one health problem."

"Great progress has been made in the control of diseases of the heart through the use of medicine and through surgery. It would be sad, but not quite so serious, if heart disease killed only the very aged. But heart disease kills and cripples children, young people, and middle-aged, as well as the elderly. Heart Fund donations on Heart Sunday will give new hope to hearts—all hearts—your heart," Mr. Powell concluded.

Herter to Talk on "A Vice-President Tours the World"

The Newton Republican Club has just been advised by Christian A. Herter, Jr., Administrative Assistant to Vice-President Nixon, that the subject of his public talk on Thursday evening, February 11, will be "A Vice-President Tours the World."

The meeting, which is to be held at the Clafin School on Lowell avenue in Newtonville, is being sponsored by the Newton Republican Club as a Lincoln Eve Celebration.

Refreshments will be served following the meeting. Everyone is invited to attend.

RABBI EARL GROLLMAN

Rabbi Grollman To Speak at Junior College

This Monday Rabbi Earl A. Grollman of the Beth El Temple in Belmont, will speak to the young men and women of Newton Junior College. The special convocation, one of a series held each year, will take place in the Junior College Library at 12:30 p.m. Rabbi Grollman's subject will be, "The Place of Religion in the Modern World." The public is welcome to attend.

Currently, Rabbi Grollman is lecturing on college campuses under the auspices of the Jewish Chautauqua Society, an organization which sends rabbis to educational institutions to disseminate authentic information about Judaism. Programs of the Chautauqua, addressed primarily to Christian students, are academic and non-denominational.

Rabbi Grollman, a native of Boston, received his B.A. degree from the University of Cincinnati. He studied for the rabbinate at the Hebrew Union College, from where he was ordained and also received his Master of Hebrew Letters degree in 1950. Prior to assuming his present post as leader of Beth El Temple in Belmont, —GROLLMAN— (Continued on Page 10)

Porchlight Signals Will Prove You Want to Aid Polio Fight

The climax of the month-long March of Dimes comes next Thursday, between 7 and 8 p.m. when, in most communities throughout the state, some 150,000 women join with a nationwide force of 3,000,000 for the Mothers' March on Polio.

Led by Mrs. Christian A. Herter, wife of the Governor who is Honorary state Mothers' March chairman, women, and in some cases men, will visit every house where a porch light signals a welcome to ask the occupants to make a generous contribution to the 1954 March of Dimes.

Largest single army of women volunteers will be in Boston, where Mrs. Andrew W. Contratto, Suffolk County Mothers' March Chairman, will lead 30,000 women into the biggest Mothers' March effort ever held there.

Purpose of the Mothers' March on Polio, as outlined by Mrs. Arthur S. Hotch, Women's State Advisor for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, is to afford citizens, who have not already given to the March of Dimes, an opportunity to make a contribution without even stepping out of their homes.

"No family will be contacted," she said, "unless a lighted porch light, or in the case of apartment dwellers, a towel or shoe hung from the door, welcomes solicitation."

"Most women volunteers in this great army, will contact only about ten families, and their work will be confined to their own immediate neighborhood."

Mothers this year have swelled the normally large Mothers' March army into the biggest unit in history. Mrs. Hotch points out that the reas-

Health, Fire Hazards Cited In Resolution

Closing of the Watertown dump as a fire and health menace to Newtonville homes across the Charles River was asked by the Newton Board of Aldermen Monday night in a resolution directed to three state agencies.

Alderman William R. Mattson, whose home is in the area near the dump, presented the resolution which calls for action by the State Fire Marshal, State Department of Public Health and the Metropolitan District Commission.

Terming the dump "a serious fire and health hazard, a nuisance and a danger," Mr. Mattson charged that "We have been lulled to sleep by Watertown officials who have been promising stricter controls over the dump for many years."

He read a letter from the Watertown selectmen dated June —DUMP— (Continued on Page 10)

Brines Is New Director of Newton-Wellesley Hospital

Historical Facts Sought for Jackson Homestead Files

Historical facts and anecdotes regarding the older houses of Newton are being sought for the files of the Jackson Homestead, Newton's historical center at 527 Washington street, Newton.

From Mr. Fred C. Alexander, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Homestead, comes a request for such material on properties dating before 1825. It is pointed out by Mr. Alexander that one of the functions of the Homestead is to preserve valuable information about the City of Newton, which if not assembled in one place and properly catalogued will be lost to posterity.

Anyone with facts to contribute about older properties still standing should submit them in writing to Mr. Alexander at the Homestead or telephone —FACTS— (Continued on Page 10)

William S. Brines, currently director of the Malden Hospital, has recently been appointed Director of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital to succeed Dr. T. Stewart Hamilton, who, in turn, will go to the Hartford, Connecticut Hospital as Director, according to an announcement made today by Charles M. Cutler, President of the Newton-Wellesley. Mr. Brines has served as Director of the Malden Hospital since 1948.

Said Mr. Cutler, commenting on the new appointment, "We are very pleased to announce Mr. Brines' selection as our new director. He is thoroughly qualified professionally and has had an excellent background in community hospital work. He comes to us most highly recommended and with an established reputation in the field of hospital administration. His associates tell us that we are gaining a man who is at once popular with those with whom he works and an efficient manager. We welcome Mr. Brines to our hospital family and trust that we will mutually benefit by his presence among us.

"To Dr. Hamilton," Mr. Cutler continued, "we extend every good wish for the future. We are deeply appreciative to him for all the good things that he has done for our hospital and for the spirit of friendly leadership which he leaves behind. We congratulate the Hartford Hospital on their appointment

Red Cross Goal Set at $94,400

Edward C. Michaud, Chairman of the 1954 Fund Campaign of the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, announces $94,400 as the Chapter's goal in its March Drive for members and funds and its part in the total of $85,000,000 needed nationally.

"$94,400 is equal to the amount raised last year," said Mr. Michaud. "It is the amount which will be needed to carry on the many services of the local chapter."

Filling Out Auto Accident Blank Will Make You A Perfect Subject for the Psychiatrist

Anyone who would drive a car so as to be at fault in an accident under the new merit-rating system ought to have his head examined.

And anyone who is so unfortunate as to become involved in an accident will probably need psychiatric help after filling out the new accident report blanks.

The report blanks, which must be used in every accident in which there are injuries or more than $100 damage, trace the progress of an accident inch by inch from the time the two drivers first spotted each other.

Although most government forms are so obscure that a ouija board is needed to help plow through the complex questions, the operator's report of an accident is simple and direct. But filling it out completely will probably take the better part of two hours.

Did the accident happen at an intersection? If not, how many feet north, south, east or west of the "nearest intersection, street, highway, bridge, railroad crossing, other identifying landmark?" Note: be sure to keep a compass handy;

it will be useful later on as well.

If two cars are involved, be sure to get the name, address, license number, restrictions, date of birth, date license issued, owner, address, registration number, make and type of car, date registration issued, parts of vehicle damaged and cost to repair.

By the way, before the grinding of metal fenders has stopped, think of a casual way to bring up another question without getting punched in the eyes. Tact will be strained to the utmost when two drivers stand beside their disfigured cars and ask, "How long have you been driving?"

How many injuries? If the injured person was in one of the cars, you can be satisfied with getting his or her name, address, age, nature of injuries and part of body hurt.

But if the person injured is a pedestrian, follow Sgt. Friday's advice and get "the facts, m'am." Here the operator gets a slight break in that he can merely check the facts from a list, including compass bearings from various points. Note whether the pedestrian was crossing at an intersection with, against or without a signal. Was there a crosswalk nearby, or was the victim walking in the roadway? Other possibilities are listed, including the rare situation of "lying in roadway."

When you hop from your car to exchange pleasantries with the other driver or pedestrian, examine the other person to see whether he is "ill, fatigued, apparently asleep, defective eyesight, effective hearing, apparently normal, condition unknown, other defects, wearing glasses, had not or had been drinking, obviously drunk, ability impaired, unknown whether impaired, unknown whether drinking."

Know anything about the mechanical parts of a car? If not, take a short course in autos until you can describe the condition of the cars. The report asks information of brakes, tail light, lights, tires, steering mechanism, windshield wipers, or other defects.

What were the two operators doing: turning, stopping, starting, passing, skidding, —ACCIDENT— (Continued on Page 10)

To Discuss Clans' Tartans on Public School Broadcast

The Newton Public Schools radio broadcast Wednesday afternoon at 2 over Station WCRB will show how asking a simple question—"What tartan are you wearing?"—can lead to an all-school project.

Those taking part will include Mrs. Mildred Werner, chairman of the Ward School PTA; Eve Epstein and Danny Burman, sixth grade pupils at the Ward School; Nancy Onley, a Day Junior High student who recently returned from a trip to Scotland; and Linda MacKenney, another Day JHS student of Scottish descent.

The program will be introduced by Miss Elvajan Hall, co-ordinator of Library Services for the Newton Public Schools.

Nurses Complete Red Cross First Aid Course

Twenty-three student nurses at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital recently completed a Red Cross Standard First Aid Course conducted by Gilbert J. Champagne, First Aid Instructor. The course was given at the Hospital and the class arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Kathleen Johnstone, Surgical Instructor at the Hospital.

A demonstration of First Aid techniques was presented at the last session which was attended by Dr. T. Stewart Hamilton, Director of the Hospital, who complimented the nurses on their efficient and expert manner of using a triangular bandage, applying artificial respiration, splinting and other important phases of First Aid which were demonstrated.

Three well-known Newtonians were last week elected directors of the Newton National Bank at the regular annual meeting held at the Newton Corner offices of the bank, Tuesday, January 12. The new directors include: Anthony Farina of 15 Ruane circle, West Newton; Thomas King of 28 Bullough park, Newtonville, and Murray E. Sholkin of 12 Evelyn road, Waban. In addition to re-electing the entire slate of officers who had previously held positions with the bank, the board elected William E. Kelley as assistant cashier, to serve at the main office. Mr. Kelley is a resident of Waltham, living at 42 School street.

At the annual meeting it was stated that the total assets of the bank have grown from $10,745,000 at the end of December, 1953, to $11,533,000 as of December 31, 1953. Total deposits advanced from $9,876,000 on December 31, 1953, to $10,662,000 on December 31, 1953. During the past year, 1144 new checking accounts were opened at the Newton National, 818 new savings accounts and 3639 Christmas Club accounts.

THOMAS R. KING

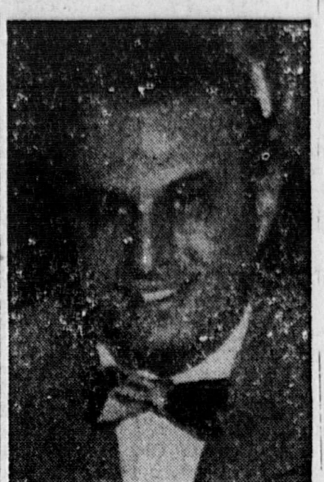

Among the new directors, Anthony Farina, president of Farina Construction Company, has been named as a vice president. Mr. Farina, a native of Atina, Province of Caserta, Italy, started the construction business which bears his name in 1923 and has successfully operated it ever since. Mr. Farina is also president of Farina Brothers Co. Included among the projects amounting to many millions of dollars on which Mr. Farina's company has been active are: Embankment Road Tunnel, Boston; Recreation Center, East Boston Airport, Lime-stone Air Force Base, Lime-stone, Me., and several manufacturing plants and schools throughout the state. At present his firm is building the New State Prison, Norfolk, Mass., the Electrical Test Laboratory for the U. S. Naval Shipyards at Portsmouth, N. H., and hangar buildings for American Airlines at Logan Airport in East Boston.

Mr. Farina is a member of the Associated General Contractors of America, American Road Builders Association, Newton Lodge of Elks and the Engineers Club of Boston. Mr. Farina has been a frequent and generous contributor to philanthropies in the Greater Boston area.

Married to Grace R. Farina, Mr. Farina's four children include Ernest G. Farina, vice president and treasurer of Farina Brothers Co. and Farina Construction Co., Inc.; Irene A. Marini; Virginia M. DeWolf and Anthony Farina, Jr.

Thomas R. King, also a new director, is a native Bostonian who has been associated with the firm of Hartshorn and Walter, accountants and auditors since 1925. Mr. King became a partner of this firm in 1937 and received his C.P.A. certificate in 1927.

Mr. King has taken an active part in civic affairs as a member and chairman of the City of Newton Planning Board and Board of Survey, trustee of the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, executive board member and treasurer of the Newtonville group, Boy Scouts of America, executive board member and treasurer of the Newton Improvement Association, worker and chairman of various divisions of the Community Chest and cancer drives. He has also served the Massachusetts Society of Certified Public Accountants, Inc., on the Public Relations Committee, as a member and as chairman of the Budget and Finance Committee and as a member of the executive committee. Mr. King, his wife and two children have resided in Newtonville since 1933.

Murray E. Sholkin, the third new director, is president of New England Advertising, Inc., Newton Highlands. He also serves as treasurer of Beacon Plastics Corporation, Newton Highlands, as treasurer of Beacon Plastics, Limited, St. Hyacinthe, Province of Quebec, Canada, and as president of the Business Finance Corporation of Boston.

Mr. Sholkin is a past president of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, and is a national director of the Advertising Specialty National Association of Washington, D. C. For many years, Mr. Sholkin has taken an extremely active part in Newton's and Greater Boston's civic and community life. He resides with his wife and five children in Waban.

Re-elected as officers of the Newton National Bank were Thomas Weston, chairman of the board; George W. Sweet, president; William J. Payne, executive vice-president; Louis LeBlanc, vice-president and cashier; Henry T. Fusi, assistant cashier and personal loan officer; Ellen R. Kavanagh, assistant cashier; John L. Martin, assistant cashier; Nonantum; John Balkus, auditor; Robert L. Clinton, assistant cashier, Newton Centre, and Charles E. Smith, assistant cashier and trust officer, Newtonville.

Re-elected as directors were: Thomas Weston, chairman, and George W. Sweet as well as Walter Amesbury, John J. Cahill, vice-president; Wilfred Chagnon, vice-president; Dr. Frank R. Clark, Orville O. Clapper, Philip S. Jamieson, John W. Keller, Grosvenor D. Marcy, Vincent P. Roberts and Fred Sawyer.

Arthur G. Heaney Files Nomination Papers for Rep.

Nomination papers were filed this week by Arthur G. Heaney, candidate for the Republican nomination for State Representative from the 5th Middlesex district.

In discussing the coming special primary on February 10th Heaney said: "Since announcing my intention some time ago to run for this office I have been most encouraged by the constantly increasing number of civic-minded citizens who have become interested in my candidacy. I am confident that my qualifications make me the logical choice as nominee of the Republican Party and that the voters will so decide on primary day."

Heaney is an experienced accountant and administrator and is Assistant Treasurer and Controller of the American Conditioning House, Inc., a wool testing and textile research laboratory. He is a member of Boston Chapter, National Association of Cost Accountants and Boston Wool Trade Association.

Among his local activities Heaney has served the people of Oak Hill for more than 10 years as Director, Secretary and finally President of the Oak Hill District Improvement Association. He has taken part at various times in charitable drives, is Treasurer and Vestryman of St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Church, Treasurer of Pack 4 Cub Scouts and Lieutenant in the Newton Auxiliary Police. He is a member of the Massachusetts Civic League, Newton Civic Association, Newton Republican Club and Newton Highlands Men's Club.

The following residents are a few of those who have been added to the rapidly growing list of supporters of Mr. Heaney: Louis Alpert, Alexander Beal, Eric A. Bianchi, Mrs. William C. Carter, John T. Croghan, Joseph Cucci, Donald L. Daniels, Mrs. Thomas S. Derr, Thomas Fazio, Col. George W. Gibson, Chester L. Heckman, Mrs. Walter J. Kreske, Stanley Lewenberg, Harry M. Myers, Fred Newcomb, Ted H. Oakley, Mrs. John M. Parkinson, Mrs. Henry Plimpton, Archibald M. Price, Warren G. Reed, Thomas E. Shirley, W. Merrill White.

Delta Nu chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority at the University of Massachusetts announced recently the pledging of Mary D. Ransom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ransom, 6 Elsworth road, West Newton. Miss Ransom is a freshman at the university.

Newtonville Youth Business Manager Of College Paper

Ira E. Kanter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kanter of 73 Sheffield road, Newtonville, has been elected business manager of the Haverford College student paper — Haverford News (Haverford, Pa.). A junior and a biological science major, he is a graduate of Phillips Academy in Andover. He has been a member of the Haverford News since coming to Haverford, serving as advertising manager during the first half of this year. The Haverford News has the distinction of being written and edited by students, and sent uncensored to all Haverford alumni. This is possible because of the large measure of self-government which the suburban Philadelphia Quaker college enjoys.

Plans Spring Formal
Frances Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen F. Martin of 203 Greenwood street, Newton Centre, who is a junior at Chandler School for Women, has recently been elected to the Student Activity Committee which is at present planning a spring formal at the Hotel Shelton. Miss Martin is a graduate of Newton High School, class of 1953.

Political Overtones

One is that there is a broad gulf between Ike's political beliefs and the convictions of a majority of the Republicans
in the two branches of Congress, where the G.O.P. thinking is much closer to that of the late Senator Robert A. Taft than to Eisenhower's.

Many persons are disposed to forget that the original pro-Eisenhower Republicans in Congress are in the minority and that if the selection of the G.O.P.
the party members in Congress in 1952, Taft would have been overwhelmingly nominated.

Even now, after President Eisenhower
has been in office a full year, it is not unusual to hear Republicans grumbling that Ike did not register as a member of their party until after he had been nominated for the Presidency, and the question,
"Where's the change?" is repeatedly asked.

Part of the dissatisfaction and discontent stems from the manner in which the Eisenhower administration has handled patronage. Many G.O.P. politicians are quite blunt in their assertion that not enough Democrats have been fired and not enough Republicans hired and that they haven't been able to place enough constituents in jobs.

Even in the national House, where the veteran Joe Martin runs things with a firm and experienced hand and has a small working majority, there is a mood of mounting irritation toward the White House, and Senator William F. Knowland of California, Senate Republican floor leader, has let it be known that he is not necessarily an administration chieftain.

Knowland has refused to go beyond a certain point with the President on the Bricker Amendment and has declined to do anything to sidetrack Senator Bricker's plan or to prevent it from reaching the floor of the Senate.

Many Congressmen of both parties
from the farm belt will battle the President's price support program for purely political reasons.

Some of them openly declare that it might well cost the Republicans the control of both branches of Congress, if Ike makes a party fight on that issue, and many, of course, feel that they would be injured in their own districts, if they were to vote for the plan.

This is a case where Congressmen admire President Eisenhower's political courage but question his political judgment. They privately voice their respect for the stand he has taken, but they publicly criticize it for their own political salvation.

That may seem somewhat mystifying
to those not accustomed to the cross-currents of politics, but it should be remembered that the first factor the average politician usually takes into consideration
is the effect a vote will have on his own prospects of gaining reelection.

It's too early yet to forecast the exact outcome of the battles that will be waged
on many of the President's proposals.
This, however, is how we would sum it up now:

His social security program probably will be adopted. It should receive extensive Democratic support.

His recommendations on the Taft-Hartley law satisfied neither Republicans
nor Democrats, and the present disposition is to leave the law unchanged in an election year. Many Republicans from tight districts are not too anxious to stir up labor opposition.

Both Democratic and Republican Congressmen will support the President in cutting taxes but not in keeping some of the taxes intact which he wants to retain.

The trend of the fight on the Bricker
Amendment may depend on how forcibly
Ike asserts himself, how sharply he cracks
the whip on reluctant party members and the extent of the Democratic support he draws.

His farm price support plan is probably doomed to defeat.

That isn't exactly a bright or hopeful picture. Yet, if Ike rolls up his sleeves and plunges into a knock-down battle, he may find many elements of the voting public rallying behind him.

A vast number of people are impressed by the fact that Ike candidly conceded
he is a novice in politics but earnestly adds that he is trying to do the best he can.

At his press conference last week a reporter quizzed him about the fact that members of his own party were saying that his farm program was not politically feasible in an election year.

President Eisenhower answered that he didn't consider himself too smart politically, that if it wasn't politically feasible
he would find out but that he still thought it was the right thing to do.

It could well be that Ike's attempts to do the things he feels are right rather than those which are politically practicable or feasible, may draw him public support that will give many Congressmen cause to ponder.

Meanwhile, the Herter administration on Beacon Hill is rolling smoothly
along and facing little of the intra-party warfare which confronts the Eisenhower regime in Washington.

Present indications are that the Governor's plans for a 2 percent reduction in the State income tax bills will be enacted into law by the middle of next month.

The Governor was the target for some criticism over the size of the budget he submitted to the Legislature. One reason for it, however, was the fact that he must staff and equip the new chronic diseases hospital at Forest Hills, and another was that he included in his budget bill many items which the Legislature ordinarily adds to the measure in order to relieve the Governor of the onus of doing so.

Mr. Herter characteristically performed the task himself rather than leaving it to someone else, and the budget finally passed may show an actual reduction, despite the opening of the new hospital.

RANDOM CLIPPINGS

A picture of Chinese Communist Leader Mao Tse-tung was printed on the cover of an American news magazine placed on sale last week in Formosa, but across Mao's face on each copy was stamped the word, bandit.

Things we have just learned department: Aspirin was discovered 100 years ago by an Alsatian chemist but remained a laboratory curiosity for 50 years before men learned what it was good for.

Front pages of the newspapers in South Africa are devoting great space to the sport of frog-jumping, and the South Africans now are boasting about a frog named Leaping Lena which jumped 22 feet 10 1/2 inches at the Frog Olympics in Capetown.

Mrs. Honor Landier petitioned for a divorce in Los Angeles, declaring that her husband Felicien called her from the office
one night in 1943, told her he would be working late and hasn't returned home
yet. Maybe he has been busy.

Lincoln police charged that Peter Keane, 25, had turned in 118 false alarms, had sent 200 taxis on phony errands, had taken 300 letters from private mailboxes
and had committed 130 other miscellaneous work. He certainly was a busy individual.

Arrested after leading 11 police cars on 100-mile-an-hour chase through Kansas City and its suburbs, Motorist Donald
C. Mangus informed the judge: "I thought the siren was on an ambulance, and I was just trying to get out of the way." The judge must have thought it would have been simpler for Peter to pull to the curb because he fined him $325 and sent him to prison for 60 days.

Charles Windoffer of Peru, Ind., was arrested for drunken driving after he mistook the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad tracks for the road to his home,
forced an oncoming train to stop and then berated the engineer for not dimming his lights. Now whatever could have made them think Charles had imbibed too liberally.

One month after her husband was locked up in a Quebec jail for threatening
her with an ax, Mrs. Armand Beland pleaded with the city judge to send her spouse home. She also appealed: "Would it be possible to have the ax back, too?"
The St. Vincent de Paul Society has given us some wood, and we have no ax to split it. It might be safer if she saved up and bought a saw.

Arraigned in a Detroit court on a charge of begging, Fred Johnson handed notes to the police declaring that he was a deaf mute. His pride got the best of him,
however, when a judge irritably asked him
if he couldn't say anything. "I can speak English, Spanish, German and a little French," he told the astonished jurist just before he was sentenced to 60 days in the bastille.

Orval Bohlander and Ruth Pence were sentenced to 60 days in jail in St. Charles,
Mo., after admitting that they had stolen
$30 worth of merchandise from four stores
on one morning and returned the same afternoon to get cash refunds for their loot.

ONLY YOU Can Add More Power!

Letters to the Editor

TEACHER PRAISES SCHOOL,
Editor, Graphic:

I am a second-year teacher in the Newton School System. I am leaving it in August for further study. I would like to express some thoughts about the System.

I joined the faculty at the Bigelow Junior High in 1952. My shift from Malden was accompanied by awe and uncertainty.
When I attended the orientation period for new teachers, these feelings became remote.

Supt. Harold Gores set in motion a spirit of friendliness by lunching with the new teachers.
He proceeded to set us at ease
by relating some of his earlier adjustments as a beginning teacher. It was easy to accept the belief from then on that I was a member of a friendly team.

I never cease to be amazed
or delighted when Assistant Supt. Charles Richter addresses me by my 1st name, a faculty that is reassuring to a new teacher. Friendliness is indeed the keynote of the Division of School System, so aptly demonstrated by its top administrative leaders.

My employment at the Bigelow Junior High School has been professionally rewarding. I have had the utmost cooperation from all my colleagues. It has been stimulating working with such a respected group at Bigelow.

My status as a helping teacher has brought me into close relationship with Miss Ruth Maynard of the Division of Counseling Center. Her complete understanding of the problems of my pupils has helped me perform my duties with confidence and insight.

I have been asked by residents
and teachers of other communities "Why does the Newton School System have such a fine reputation?" I have pondered the question. My conclusions are these: Newton has superior facilities, selected and highly-trained personnel plus the support of a school-minded citizenry. These factors are basic. I am impelled to go beyond them.

The reputation of the school system in Newton is an ever-living symbol of continual professional competence and application. It rises from a system which maintains its high standard through searching self-analysis. It rests on the pride each teacher possesses for his position.

I regret leaving such a fine system. I wish to extend to my colleagues and friends sincere regards for making my employment a pleasant one.

DEEP IN THE HEART OF NEWTON

Coming to Newton Centre
from Somerville where taxes
have zoomed to an all time high,
and being a taxpayer there for many years, and at the same time keeping my fingers on the pulse of rising taxation, I now find that the taxpayers in the Newtons expect an increase in taxes during the current year.
There should always be a legiti-mate reason for increased taxes.
The popular theme song in nearly all of our City governments is, SPEND AND SPEND, TAX AND TAX, and keep everybody Deep In The Heart Of Taxes. When will spiral taxation halt? When will budgets go DOWN NOT UP?

I have noticed that Mr. Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., executive director of the Newton Taxpayers' Association clarified our present situation. He also stated that our situation is serious in many respects. The paramount question is - How serious?
Isn't it true that monies borrowed for anything must be repaid
with interest? It is an inescapable fact and who pays for it?

What would be the consequences if the Taxpayers went on strike under the provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act, but on the premise, we have had our election and demand that our elected and appointed public servants commence thinking

that the rising tide of public sentiment against Squanderna-nia" is to be reckoned with.

Never again must our legislators on the Hill vote themselves
a voice vote an increase in salary of $750.00, correctly named a "Salary Grab". When the people elect our State Representatives, we should have the right to vote "YES" or "NO" on salary raises with our "X" on the ballot.

Many Massachusetts Taxpayers' Associations are doing an excellent job. Their offices and Directors are alert to creeping taxation schemes.

Honest Abe Lincoln, the Great Emancipator said, "you can fool some of the people some of the time, all the people some of the time, but you can't fool all the people all of the time."

Unless costs of governments are curtailed, we will find that Young America will be asking
this question in a few years,
"What have our elders been doing to us?"

Thank you, Mr. Editor for your valuable space.

LEE CARVER KITSON

SUPPORTS GOV. HERTER
Editor, Newton Graphic:

Governor Herter's message
which he delivered at the opening of the General Court last Wednesday was in every respect a statesmanlike document. I wish my constituents to know that I stand squarely back of every bit of it and intend to do my humble part toward the accomplishment of his program.

His proposal to reduce the tax on earned income by 25 percent will return to the taxpayers the surplus saved by economy and good management of the state's business
last year. That is all our financial obligations allow us to refund. Irresponsible "Tub-thumpers" may shout for more,
but they are only deceiving the people.

With characteristic courage
the Governor attacks the problem of juvenile delinquency.
The proposed system of full time juvenile courts seems to be a long needed step in the right direction.

The projects still needed to complete the Master Highway Plan developed by Governor Bradford in 1948 amounts to about $300 million. Governor Herter wisely recommends spacing them out over six years at the rate of $50 million
a year, making it unnecessary to raise all the funds at any one time.

I have long believed that we should improve the facilities of our University of Massachusetts, which is truly a great college of the people, and I am glad to see that the Governor includes that in his recommendations.

The reform of the Civil Service law recommended by him
will prevent a recurrence of such situations as the one which
at present vexes our local government. Certainly it is a sound proposition that the appointing authority, whether state or municipal, should possess the same right of appeal to the courts which the individual has.

The good work done last year
to create in the Commonwealth
a more favorable climate for business and industry will be enhanced this year. In short,
we should all be thankful that
the strong hand of Christian A.
Herter is still at the helm.

No Comment

The recommendations of the Eisenhower administration for amending Taft-Hartley have divided Capitol Hill thinking
into three groups.

First, the Eisenhower Republicans applaud wholeheartedly the changes which are proposed.

Second, the New-Fair Deal
Democrats, echoing the sentiments of the big labor bosses,
say—to use the words of John L. Lewis—that the proposed revisions are "piddling" and do not go far enough.

Then, third, there is the Southern Conservative Democratic group, supported by a number of what can best be described as Old Line Republicans, which contends that the suggested amendments would weaken the law materially.

With this division of thought prevailing in Congress, it is impossible to make predictions,
for either of two things could happen:

1—The Eisenhower group could be supported, for purely political reasons, by the New-Fair Deal group. In this event the President's recommendations would be approved or—

2—The New-Fair Deal group could join for purely political reasons, with the Southern Conservative Democrats and oppose the Eisenhower recommendations and thereby defeat
the proposed Taft-Hartley revisions.

Now, just to make the picture
a little more confused, there are members of all three groups
who feel that some of the Eisenhower proposals are good, that some are bad and that, if Taft-Hartley is to be revised, a number of changes not proposed by the administration should be made.

Out of all this confusion,
however, there were a number of members of Congress who hold that the President's recommendations failed to cover
many changes in Taft-Hartley proposed by both business and agricultural witnesses at least year's hearings by the Senate and House Labor Committees.

For instance, this group contends that the President's recommendations on secondary boycotts weaken the enforcement provisions while the preponderance of testimony favored a strengthening. Specifically, the recommendation to eliminate the mandatory injunction is cited as a weakening provision.

A comparison of the Eisenhower administration's recommendations with testimony presented by business witnesses to the Congressional Committees stacks up this way:

1—To go into detail on secondary boycotts, there were 92
business witnesses who discussed this subject. All opposed any weakening of the present provision. It was the contention of more than half of these 92 witnesses that the area of prohibited activity in the conduct of a secondary boycott should be enlarged.

2—National emergency strikes: Business testimony to Congressional Committees since
the Labor-Management Conference of 1945 has been against the use of fact-finding panels to make recommendations. The business position has been that recommendations by such panels are in fact mandatory—
as public opinion is likely to force management to accept whatever recommendations are proposed. The business view is that this is nothing more than compulsory arbitration in camouflage. In the steel con-trovercy of two years ago, the Truman Administration cir-cumvented the Taft-Hartley emergency provisions and was thereby able to let a fact-finding panel make recommendations for settlement of the dispute... the result was...

A strike in the whole steel industry... Then seizure of the steel properties by the President (under alleged inherent powers in the Constitution)... and eventually a Supreme Court decision that the President had illegally seized the properties as he had no such inherent powers.

3—But business testimony to the Congressional Committees
last year was even stronger on another subject. This was the need for clarification of the authority of the federal government and of the states as to the handling of strikes and picketing. The business viewpoint was overwhelming that the states should have undisputed authority to regulate strikes and picketing. The Eisenhower recommendations cover only state "emergencies endangering
the health and safety of their citizens." The broader subject of state jurisdiction in labor-management relations
was left for further study.
This was particularly displeasing to Southern Conservative Democrats and a number of Republicans generally sympathetic to Mr. Eisenhower's program.

New Hampshire became a province of itself in 1776 by the order of the King of England
which was preceded by a decree of the English courts to the effect that Massachusetts had no right to extend its jurisdiction over New Hampshire.

AUBURNDALE BRANCH LIBRARY

A handsome oil painting of two lovely children commands one's attention, immediately on entering the Children's Room of the Auburndale Branch Library. A very young, shy little girl reaches for her brother's sleeve, to reassure herself of a friendly presence,
while she faces the artist.
Brother, standing close, sturdy and protective, has an expression of inner strength and confidence in meeting the new and somewhat bewildering experience of this portrait study.

The boy, Frederick Plummer,
grew up to be the major benefactor of this Library, and he donated the Annie Plummer Corey Children's Room in memory of his sister in 1947.

Over a carved fireplace mantel is the motto, "Given in Love by the Children of Today
for the Children of Tomorrow"

in recognition of a gift of $385
pennies collected by students of the Burr and the Williams
schools. Thus their contribution was added to the funds of the citizens of Auburndale
for the erection of this fine library. The City of Newton converted the basement into a Library Hall with a seating capacity of 150 persons, and 73
meetings, educational, cultural and civic have been held in this assembly room.

Mrs. Heller, the librarian, stands behind a circulation
desk of striking attraction.
The Reading Room has a maximum of natural light, and some novel movable electric fixtures
over the bookcases.

Beyond a magnificent window on the south is a large Non-Fiction Section. My eyes read, Village Greens in New England—Through Lands of the Bible—Our Way Down East—Key to Japan—The English Lake District—Westward the Course—Head-Hunting in the Solomon Islands.

This last, I thought an intriguing title, and thumbed the pages to find that the staff of this expedition was simply two young women—one a portrait artist who wanted to paint
primitive peoples, and her companion (referred to as "Handyman") whose sole equipment
was a ukelele to entertain any models who grew restive or savage. The author was as adept with her pen as with her paints. She spoke of two young Malaitians "bursting at the seams with about 18 years apiece." And another time, in response to her handyman's assistance, she says of the model, "His tough face relaxed and took on that expression of pleased idleness which identifies the amateur musician the world over. That was the face
I was looking for."

The High School Section yielded, "Man's Great Adventure," a book of history, with the stupendous pronoun-cement, "Time is—Man Marches On! Your ancestors once were young—just the age that you are." A graph of war was marked, "Pathfinder from the Great Pyramid to the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier."

Mrs. Hall is the Children's Librarian. She was occupied in checking out eight books
for a teen-ager who had just returned eight and felt it was a comfortable load to carry
home to read during the week.

Where is the Auburndale Library? It's quite far out, beyond the business section of the village, set in a leisurely park of its own. And if you're in no hurry, you may want to pile your borrowed books beside you and drive a few blocks
further to the very boundary of Newton. There you can watch the Charles River make some pretty curves as it meanders over to its Weston banks.

The Governor's Day

By HELEN HALL MAHONEY

Boston newspapers had better watch out 'cause a new newspaper's coming to Town—
and is going to sell for only two cents a copy! The paper is going to be called the BEA-CON HILL BULLETIN and we got the scoop on its inauguration from the First and Third Reporter who came up to the State House to try to get a "lead" article from Governor Herter. The editor, Hugh McConaughy, was unable to come because he had a newspaper route which he had to tend to. The two reporters, 12-year-old Vincent Agostino and Craig Courtney of Garden street, Boston, were quite jubilant over achieving their objective of seeing the Governor and getting their story since skeptical members of their staff predicted that it couldn't be done. (Evidently, they didn't know about our Press Conferences.) The first edition of the BEACON HILL BULLETIN will
"hit the street" some time
this week if their minister's mimeograph (on which they are banking) works O.K.

Governor and Mrs. Herter attended a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Volpe recently. Being scheduled to attend the Greek Dance Festival that evening, the Chief Executive donned overshoes, hat and coat, and left the party. Later, Commissioner Charles Greenough of the Metropolitan District Commission, decided to leave, but alas,
his coat had vanished, and worse still, the keys to his car
were in the missing garment
... Eventually, some kindly soul drove him home, loosely
attired in the Governor's coat,
and the next day an amicable exchange was made.

Mr. John Teger of the Big Brother Association of 41
Mount Vernon street, Boston,
was in the office recently.
That group and the Jewish Big Brother Association are doing a wonderful job. Each member makes a special pal of a fatherless boy, takes him to ball games, gives him advice—in other words, acts as would a father to the boy.

"The two groups are taking care of about 150 boys but we haven't even scratched the surface of what could be done if only more men would become
'Big Brothers.' And the men would enjoy it, too. It's an extremely satisfying experience," said Mr. Teger.

Evidently, we are going to have plenty of feminine influence on Student Government Day since many of the selected officials are girls, including the substitutes for President of the Senate, Speaker of the House of Representatives,
State Treasurer, and one Governor's Counsellor. The student "Governor," Eugene Del-lea of Williams High School, Stockbridge, said that he was not ready to disclose his legislative plans yet—in fact, didn't know what they were, as at this point he hadn't yet recovered from the excitement of discovering that he had won the highest office.

Governor Herter recently attended the Boston Naval Shipyard Lunch honoring Employment of the Physically Handicapped. Captain Gold has devoted a tremendous amount of his time to rehabilitating the handicapped. He is soon to retire and is planning to return to a small farm in Maryland.
In his talk, the Governor remarked that Captain Gold was entering his new field of labor, handicapped, and that he, the Governor, had been giving the Captain some vocational rehabilitation of what not to do
in farming since he modestly
admitted that he was an expert on that subject.

The Weston Rotary Club received a letter from Governor Herter congratulating them upon their recent accomplishments.

Taxpayers' Open 1954 Home Rule Campaign

The Newton Taxpayers' Association this year filed two bills and the Massachusetts Taxpayers' Federation filed one bill dealing with the "home rule" problem, announced Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., Executive Director of the Newton Taxpayers' Association this week.

Newtonians have been made well aware of the saying that "cities and towns are creatures of the State" by actions of the Civil Service and Alcoholic Beverages Commissions during the past few months, and we taxpayers support the efforts of the Governor and the Mayor to restrict them as well as the legislature in local cases, he said.

The Federation's bill, H 1449

is the most important of the Taxpayers' bills, stated Muther, because it asks for a legislative amendment to the state Constitution limiting the authority of the General Court by prohibiting the enactment of special local bills concerning a city or town without the consent of the municipality concerned except in cases of emergency when the Governor may call for quick legislative action.

At present a municipality must argue its case before a legislative committee, said Muther, and then representatives from all over the state, not familiar with the local situation, and willing to do a local group, a minor favor, vote on the special local bill. The log rolling potential of handling small special bills on such a basis has proven to be enormous. A somewhat similar bill was defeated in 1953 by groups of municipal employees who like to retain their opportunity to by-pass their local governments. Muther noted that a recent nearby instance of this class of legislation occurred in the neighboring city of Waltham where a bill was filed to give life tenure to the city clerk there.

The bills of the Newton Taxpayers' Association, continued Muther, deal more with the financial mechanics of municipal life. H 1587 provides that the "cherry sheet" estimates of payments to be made by the state to the cities be broken down for more clarity into their various classifications, and H 1588 provides for earlier and more accurate distribution of the state collected income tax. Taxpayers will recall that confusion in the State House regarding these accounts has resulted in Newton's losing about $70,000 in distributions in 1953 which we hope will be made up in 1954, he said.

The Mayor's proposal to give cities a right of appeal equal to that of their employees before the Civil Service Commission, the Taxpayers' Federation bill to limit special local legislation to that approved locally except in emergencies, and the Newton Association's bills to provide better and quicker accounting, all deserve the active support of citizens and taxpayers in the city, Muther concluded.

SPORTS

Continuing their game-by-game improvement, Newton High skaters racked up victory number four over defending co-champion Arlington High Saturday afternoon to take over undisputed possession of second place in the Greater Boston Interscholastic League. . . . The 3-1 nod kept Newton on the heels of unbeaten Belmont as the league-leading sextet whipped Medford 4-0. Newton, which lost by a single goal to Belmont in the second round of play, now looms as the only team which can possibly top the speedy, high-scoring Belmont squad. . . . Starting the season rated as one of the middle teams in the GBI, the Orange and Black skaters developed under the tutelage of Jack Hall into a fast-moving, accurate-shooting, hard-fighting outfit. Its slow start of only a tie in the first two games may cost the Orange and Black a chance to overcome the Belmontians. . . . Even if—and probably when—Newton brings Belmont's unbeaten string to an end in the GBI championship playoffs, the Orange and Black would still trail the leaders by a single point. Belmont must lose or tie one of its next four games to give Newton a mathematical chance for the title.

Showing more speed than in any previous game, Newton outtraced Arlington in a game that kept the spectators on their feet continually. For the second game in a row, the Orange and Black had a vast territorial edge in play, yet the score failed to reflect this margin. . . . Newton got off on the right foot at 2:07 of the opening stanza when Freddy Dow got credit for a highly-disputed goal.

A passout by Kenny Hays was converted by Dow into a score from about 10 feet out, but Arlington protested vigorously that the puck had skidded into the net off a skate, which is illegal in schoolboy hockey. As usual, the referees won this dispute, and the lead stood. . . . Arlington got several rushes off to good starts, but Capt. Jimmy Wiper made short work of the attackers with a pair of bone-crushing blocks that sent Arlington skaters sprawling across the ice. . . . Jimmy, by the way, after turning in a stellar 60-minute performance on the gridiron all season, now is a 30-minute man (three 10-minute periods) on skates. Paul Fitzgerald and Billy Reilly paired with Jimmy to repulse virtually all Arlington's offensive attempts. This was easily Newton's strongest defensive showing of the year, even better than the shutout registered the week before. . . . Throughout the first and second periods, Newton had a decisive edge in play, grabbing a 2-0 lead when diminutive Paul Ryan blasted home a lightning-like shot from the side of the cage after taking a pass from Kenney Kees.

Arlington had a full head of steam as the third period opened, however, and appeared to have the edge over a weary Newton. Arlington moved within a goal of a tie at 1:54 following a scramble in front of the cage. Goalie Tucker McLellan went down to block one shot, but the rebound flew onto the stick of an uncovered Spy Ponder who flicked it over the prostrate goalie.

This tally marked the end of Arlington, as Newton resumed its former tempo and controlled the rest of the game. Art DeStefano, who will surely become known as "Mr. Clutch" in Newton sports annals if he continues his sparkling performances, sewed it up at 5:44 with a seering-eye shot into a four-inch gap by the goalie's right side. Art's sharpshooting feat followed blocked shots off the sticks of Wiper and Hays. . . . Returning to the iron-bound

Orange and Black defense, both Wiper and Fitzgerald stole practically sure goals from Arlington. Each was caught on the wrong end of a two-on-one break, but in each case the defenseman was able to bat the puck to the sideboards and delay the play until help arrived. . . . Tomorrow (Friday) night Newton meets Melrose in the last encounter of the regular season. The following week, the GBI playoffs will begin. In the playoffs, the four top and four bottom teams meet in round-robin fashion. This will give the Orange and Black a chance to avenge the 5-4 loss at the hands of Belmont.

The Newton High basketballers saw their three-game streak in the Suburban League halted by a surprisingly-strong Watertown five at the latter's gym Tuesday afternoon. The Orange and Black got off to a miserable start, trailing 6-1 in the opening minutes as nobody could hit the basket on either foul or floor shots. . . . Newton spurted ahead briefly by pouring in seven quick points, but Watertown tied it up at the end of the first period and held the lead from then on.

Before succumbing by a 45-41 count, Newton drew from an early seven-point deficit to only one behind the aroused Arsenal Towners. But Watertown proved more accurate and steadier when the chips were down and pulled ahead for the victory. . . . This was supposed to be a fairly easy victory for the Newton cagers, who apparently "found themselves" after their in-and-out pre-league showings. The Orange and Black had plenty of chances to win, but sloppy ball-handling and inaccurate shooting hurt their chances. . . . This could easily have been victory number four. Newton had no luck at all, however, with shots bouncing the wrong way all afternoon. Several times the Orange and Black lost the ball on rebounds when two Newton men battled each other, and a number of passes wound up in the wrong hands. . . . Little wonder that coach Reggie Smith nearly shouted himself hoarse from the bench, for this is a team that could take most of the Suburban League teams if it didn't beat itself with inconsistent play. A safe prediction is: when Watertown plays in the Newton High gym, the Arsenal Towners will find themselves on the wrong end of the familiar refrain, "Come into my parlor, said the spider to the fly. . . ."

"Is India The Voice of Asia?" Topic of Avery Lecture Jan. 27

On Wednesday, January 27, at 10:30 a.m. in the Community Playhouse in Wellesley Hills, Miss Eunice Harriet Avery will talk on India. This lecture like all the others in the series is open to the public with tickets available at the door.

The question "Is India the Voice of Asia?" is most timely and thought provoking. With Mme. Pandit the President of the Assembly of the United Nations and the Indians in charge of the unrepatriated prisoners of war in Korea, we have come to realize more clearly that India is becoming one of the most influential nations in the world. We look at the vast continent of Asia with its hundreds of millions of people and wonder just how we are to manage to find a common denominator of respect, understanding, and cooperation.

Miss Avery will discuss some of these problems. She will speak of the control of the Khyber Pass in Pakistan and the Kashmir situation. As China is building two roads into Tibet which will both open new routes for visitors to India, Miss Avery will analyze some of the effects on Chinese-Indian relations. What has Panmunjon taught India about communist techniques and what has it taught the rest of the world about India?

Reservations for the small luncheon held regularly at the Wellesley Inn following the lectures may be made by calling Mrs. Edwin Kreig.

Rabbi Rothman Draws Large Attendance

Rabbi Murray I. Rothman, spiritual leader of Temple Shalom, continues to draw capacity attendance at Sabbath Service. To add to the interest and understanding of the service, Rabbi Rothman introduced a pre-service session at 7:45 p.m., in the form of an old-fashioned "Hymn-Sing." At this pre-service session the rabbi will give the backgrounds and meanings of the responses, and Mr. Siff, choir director, choir members and organist, will be on hand to assist musically.

At the regular service which begins at 8:15 p.m., Rabbi Rothman will take as his theme: "Do We Still Believe in Miracles?"

The Supper Club's first meeting will take place at the temple Sunday evening, January 24, at 7:00 p.m. After a social supper get-together, the group will hear Rabbi Rothman discuss Jewish Customs and Ceremonies under the group's theme of "Let's Talk It Over With the Rabbi."

Lions Club Hears Salesmanship Talk By B.U. Instructor

Bill Crean, former vice-president of the Lacy Sales Institute and instructor of salesmen at the Boston University Business School, spoke on "Better Salesmanship" last Thursday at a meeting of the Newton Lions Club.

Mr. Crean, who has trained over 1000 salesmen at Boston University, discussed the three types of salesmen and the qualities that make a good salesman. A salesman himself for more than 20 years, he is now an executive with a Boston insurance firm.

The next meeting of the Newton Lions Club will be at the Newton Y. M. C. A. next Thursday, January 28. Several new members will be inducted at this time.

Lena R. Jacobs

Mrs. Lena (Rockwell) Jacobs, 83, of 450 Winchester street, Newton Highlands, died January 6. She was the widow of Stephen B. Jacobs. She was a member of the Fedette All-Women's Orchestra, the first of its kind in New England, and was the first female saxophonist in this country. Mrs. Jacobs had toured the country as saxophone soloist under many noted conductors.

She leaves a son, Howard R., well-known orchestra leader and organist; a daughter, Mrs. Arthur Mullen, Sr.; a sister, eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Funeral services were held January 9 at the Eaton Funeral Home, Needham with interment following in Brookdale Cemetery, Dedham.

"Earn and Give" Prizes Are Awarded at Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Meeting

At the regular annual meeting of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association, held at Allen-Riddle Hall at the Hospital on Tuesday, January 19, at 10:30 a.m., Mrs. George Prather, chairman of Ways and Means Committee of the "Earn and Give" project, announced this year's prize winners.

The program opened with choral selections presented by "The Nightingales" Nurses' Club of the School of Nurses, who were introduced by Miss Myrtice L. Fuller. Mr. Charles M. Cutler, president of the Hospital, extended a word of greeting to the ladies of the Aid. Dr. T. Stewart Hamilton spoke briefly and a gift was presented to Mrs. Hamilton on behalf of the Hospital Aid.

At the regular business meeting combined reports of the various activities of the Aid were presented by the secretary, except for the Coffee and Gift Shop reports which were respectively presented by Mrs. Walter L. McGill and Mrs. Francis F. Munroe. Miss Maida Flanders gave the treasurer's report, and Mrs. E. Stanley Hobbs, Jr., reported on volunteer activities.

Mrs. Gilman Conant, of Wellesley Hills, reported for the Junior Aid. Mrs. George Prather announced the following prize-winners in the "Earn and Give" project, and stated that the total gross of $3,103.30 had been raised by the project, which netted $2,973.80. There were 295 contributors, of whom 80 were members either of the Executive Committee or of the Board of Directors. The Hospital Aid has a paid membership in excess of 1750 women. Donations amounting to $1,080 were received as follows: one of $200; one of $100; ten of $50; one of $30; and ten of $25.

Judges for the project were Dr. Hamilton and Miss Fuller. The prize for the most money earned was won by Mrs. M. M. W. Dennison of 132 Farlow road, Newton, who made a hooked rug which was sold in Evanston, Illinois, through the Hospital Aid Gift Shop of Evanston. The second largest amount of money was raised by Mrs. Anton Fried of 15 Bonad road, West Newton, who gave two showings at her home of colored slides of her trip to the Near East, at which she took up silver collections. Honorable mention in this division went to Mrs. Paul Babson of Wellesley, who sold hand painted pearl buttons.

The first prize in the Group Project Division went to Mrs. Martin T. Luthy of 20 Stony Brae road, Newton Highlands; Mrs. Herbert G. Dunphy of 20 Cushing road, Newton Highlands; and Mrs. Ward I. Cornell of 1471 Center street, Newton Highlands, for their "Newton Highlands Workshop Bridge" which netted $106.10. There were two second prizes in this division since the projects were so very much alike, and they went to Mrs. Charles M. Cutler of 74 Fountain street, West Newton, and Mrs. David W. Tibbott of 20 Sylvan avenue, West Newton, for their Silver Coffee; and to Mrs. George Fernald of 61 Milford street, West Newton, Mrs. Arthur Jones and Mrs. William Jones of 58 Winthrop street, West Newton, for their Silver Coffee "Know Your Neighbor."

The first prize for the most original project went to Mrs. Harold R. Keller of 37 Sheffield road, Newtonville, who made and sold "Patients' Pastime Puzzles," and who sold date books. Second prize in this division went to Mrs. Gordon B. Gifford of 5 Winnetaska road, Waban, who collected and sold second-hand men's suits. Mrs. Babson presented to Mrs. Riley Hampton an orchid corsage for selecting the most appropriate name for the new publication of the Hospital Aid, which, following Mrs. Hampton's suggestion, will henceforth be known as "The New-Well News."

Mrs. Paul T. Babson of Wellesley presented her report as president, in which she made reference to the fact that the Hospital Aid had won first prize for its presentation to the American Hospital Association convention in San Francisco on the activities of the Aid during Hospital Week last May. She mentioned the fact that the portrait of Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson will be hung in the Nurses' Home, and that a fund in her memory will be set aside for scholarship assistance to student nurses who need financial aid after starting their training.

Mrs. E. K. Mentzer, chairman of the Nominating Committee, presented her report which nominated Mrs. Donald L. Gibbs of Newton as corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Arthur Davis, Mrs. William B. Plummer as new members for the executive committee. Re-elected for a second term to the executive committee were Mrs. Clarence C. Colby, Mrs. Maurice W. Dennison, and Mrs. Howard L. Rich of Newton; Mrs. Grosvenor D. Marcy of Newton Highlands; Mrs. Alvah O. Ring of Newton Lower Falls; Mrs. Riley J. Hampton of Newtonville; Mrs. Gordon B. Gifford and Mrs. John H. Underhill of Waban; Mrs. Elton G. Cushman, Mrs. Winthrop G. Dow, Mrs. Edward T. Garland, and Mrs. Roger E. Hall New directors for 1954 included Mrs. Wilfred Chagnon of Newton; Mrs. Edward F. Roberts and Mrs. John R. Fitzpatrick of Newton Upper Falls; Mrs. George W. Hinman and Mrs. Chester S. Merrill of Newtonville; Mrs. George W. McCreery and Mrs. Alex J. MacFarland of Oak Hill; and Mrs. Louis F. Pilcher of West Newton. Mrs. D. Brewer Eddy of Newtonville was made an Honorary Director.

Mrs. Babson then introduced Mrs. F. Mar-sena Butts, program chairman, who, in turn, introduced Miss Abbie Dunks, director of the Boston Dispensary and president-elect of the Massachusetts Hospital Association, who spoke on "Administrator-Auxiliary Relationships."

The coffee-hour was in charge of Mrs. Worthing West, who was assisted by Mrs. George C. Prather and Mrs. George P. Hall. Mrs. D. Brewer Eddy, Mrs. Robert Studley, Mrs. Ellsworth Tracy and Miss Ethel Woodbury, whose mother was a charter member of the Aid, served as pourers.

At G.O.P. Political School Preparing For 1954 Elections

Wilfred Chagnon and Mrs. William R. Mattson of Newton are district directors for a G. O. P. "School of Politics" project which started recently under the sponsorship of the Republican State Committee.

The third meeting of the "school" will be Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Natick High School Auditorium. Subsequent meetings will be January 26, February 2 and February 9 at the same location.

The main purpose of the school is to develop a cadre of some 3000 Republican workers throughout the state who, upon graduation, possess the tools to sell the G.O.P. to the public in the 1954 statewide, congressional and local elections.

Newton Jaycees Honor Soldier's Medal Recipient

Pfc. Robert Mesmer of 18 Gould road, Waban, who has been awarded the Soldier's Medal for heroism during the great Pusan fire, was honored Tuesday at the monthly meeting of the Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Waban youth, discharged two weeks ago from the Army, won the medal for saving a vital Army building from catching fire during the gigantic blaze which nearly wiped Pusan off the map.

For two and one-half hours, Pfc. Mesmer and two other men battled sparks, flying debris and broken electric cables while other buildings burned around it. The Soldier's Medal is the highest non-combat award for heroism.

Carleton P. Merrill, president of the "Jaycees," stated that the action of Bob Mesmer stands as an outstanding example of bravery on the young men of Newton. A guest speaker at the meeting was Probation Officer Kenneth E. Prior, former Newton alderman.

Rev. F. L. Knapp to Speak at Council of Churches Meeting

The Rev. Forrest L. Knapp, executive secretary of the Massachusetts Council of Churches, will be the guest speaker at the Mid-Winter Meeting of the Newton Council of Churches which will be held at the Y.M.C.A. Monday at 6:30 p.m. Dr. Knapp's subject will be "What Is Our Total Ministry?" Delegates and ministers of the Protestant churches of Newton will represent their congregations, and other interested citizens will be guests of the executive board of the Council.

REV. F. L. KNAPP

Dr. Knapp, a Congregational minister who is a specialist in religious education, became the head of the Massachusetts Council of Churches in September of 1953 after fourteen years as general secretary of the World Council of Christian Education. As secretary of the latter group, he travelled extensively to more than 40 countries in the Near East, Africa, Asia, and Latin America in the interests of promoting interdenominational cooperation among Protestant and Orthodox groups.

He was a delegate to the first assembly of the World Council of Churches at Amsterdam in 1948. He is also an author of many articles, and has published two books, "Leadership Education in the Church" and "Next Steps in Latin America." He has been a member of the Foreign Missions Conference of North America, composed of representatives of 60 denominational missionary boards, which is now a part of the National Council of Churches. As the leader of the 51-year-old Massachusetts Council of Churches, Dr. Knapp has opportunity to carry his ideas of Christian unity to 1800 churches from Cape Cod to the Berkshires and to their nearly 1,500,000 communicants.

Mr. Robert Mitchell, president of the Newton Council of Churches, will preside at the brief business meeting preceding the program. Seated at the head table will be members of the Executive Board, including the following: Mrs. Raymond Green and Mr. H. Dowell Jones, vice-presidents; the Rev. Sidney Adams, executive secretary; Mr. Eason Fitch, treasurer; Mr. E. Tyler Parkhurst, recording secretary; Mr. Chester Borden, chairman of the United Church C. C. C. v. s.; Mr. Henry Webster, chairman of the committee on Religious Education; Mrs. E. Tyler Parkhurst, president of the Newton Council of Church Women; Mr. Alex Miller, representative of the Y.M.C.A., and Dr. Thaddeus Krush, chairman of the committee on Civic Affairs.

Boston Attorney Speaks Tomorrow At Newton Church

William S. Kenney of Boston, prominent attorney and recognized as a Massachusetts authority on criminal law, will speak before the Men's Club of the Newton Methodist Church tomorrow (Friday) at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting is open to the public, and Newton citizens are urged to attend. Atty. Kenney has been interested in furthering criminal justice in the Massachusetts courts. Only last month Boston newspapers favorably commented editorially on his proposals, and his views have been widely circulated through the various legal periodicals. He has also had considerable experience in the field of military justice.

He will speak on the various types of criminal detection now in use, including the lie detector and its use in the courts. He will also tell of some of the problems confronting those accused of crime. A question and answer period will follow his talk.

The Methodist Church is located on Centre street, at the corner of Wesley street, in Newton.

Presenting the 1954 CADILLAC

Styled to be Copied for Years to Come...

...and as Thrilling to Drive as to See!

The new "Standard of the World" is now on display in our showroom. It is not just a new model, but a wholly restyled and re-engineered Cadillac—new from its more massive grille to its more distinctive rear deck.

It is lower and longer in silhouette... more modern and graceful in its body lines... and with greater majesty and dignity in every detail. Beyond question, it is destined to influence the design of motor cars for years to come.

Matching this greater exterior beauty are Cadillac's luxurious new interiors—more generously proportioned and more beautifully appointed than ever before... and executed in a dazzling array of gorgeous new fabrics and leathers.

And, what is even more remarkable, this wonderful new Cadillac is as thrilling to drive as it is to see!

A great new 230-horsepower engine has added new power and responsiveness. A vastly improved Hydra-Matic Drive provides even greater smoothness and flexibility. Advanced Cadillac Power Steering, now standard equipment on every model, brings with it a whole new concept of steering and handling ease. And new Cadillac Power

Braking* has introduced wonderful new motoring safety and convenience.

This greater Cadillac beauty—and this finer Cadillac performance—are available for 1954 in three brilliant new series of motor cars... the remarkable Series 62, the distinguished Fleetwood Series 60 Special and the magnificent Fleetwood Series 75. And, of course, there is also the supremely beautiful Cadillac Eldorado.

These inspiring creations are in our showroom now—awaiting your critical inspection. We cordially invite you to see and drive them at your earliest opportunity.

*Optional at extra cost.

Emerson College Women's Com. Sponsor Annual Luncheon to Benefit Clinic

Many of our fine humanitarian services have been successful because they have been sponsored by those affiliated with the theatre. Theatre folk have the capacity for understanding because of their great emotional range. This is the secret of the success of the group sponsoring the Emerson College humanitarian project — the Samuel D. Robbins

Speech Clinic. The Emerson College Women's Committee is headed by Gertrude Binley Kay, who as Gertrude Binley was a great star of the theatre. She was a leading lady for Charles Frohman, both in New York and the coast. She also played leads with Nance O'Neill at Daly's Famous Theatre in New York, with B. F. Keith in Boston, and with John Craig at the internationally known Castle Square Theatre. She studied with Stanislavsky on the continent and after many successful years in the theatre turned to "the theatre of the university." She is now chairman of the Drama Department of Emerson College. The chairman of the Annual Luncheon of this group, Ruth Southwick Maxfield, is the daughter of a gentleman who reigned long as the American Dean of Shakespearean Interpretation — The late Dr. Henry Lawrence Southwick. She is chairman of the English Department of Emerson College. This fine combination has helped the Emerson College Women's Committee to rapid success in two short seasons.

The chief fund-raising function of the committee is an Annual Luncheon and program book. The entire proceeds go to the support of the Samuel D. Robbins Speech Clinic, 145 Beacon street, Boston, where children and adults are given professional instruction and advice on all types of speech handicaps. Formulation of plans for the luncheon will take place on Saturday, January 23, at 1:45 p.m. at the Sky Room, 100 Memorial Drive, Cambridge. A special feature attraction of the afternoon will be Jack Stein, famous make-up artist, speaking on "The Truth About Make-Up."

Hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Ruth S. Maxfield, Mrs. Charles E. Batchelder of Waban, Mrs. Gertrude B. Kay, Miss Elsie Riddell, Mrs. Horace Reynolds, Mrs. John Shields and Miss Mary Walsh.

Warren PTA

Plans are being made for a meeting of the Warren Junior High School P.T.A. on Wednesday, February 3, at 8 o'clock. The program committee is very happy to have secured the services of Mr. Franklin P. Hawkes, Director, Fair Educational Practices, Commonwealth of Massachusetts Department of Education as the speaker of the evening. His subject will be "Freedom of Educational Opportunity." Mr. Hawkes, because of his extensive training and rich experience in the educational field is highly qualified to speak on subjects of educational significance, and both parents and teachers are looking forward with interest to this mid-winter meeting.

Mr. Hawkes has been a teacher and administrator in the public schools of Massachusetts for many years, and is well known in educational circles as an authority in his field. A large attendance is expected at this meeting on February 3rd.

Temple Shalom Program Supper

This Sunday evening, January 24th at 7:00 p.m. will usher in a new adult education program for husbands and wives, sponsored by the Sisterhood of Temple Shalom of Newton. Supper will be served at a very nominal cost, followed by an informal discussion entitled "Let's Talk It Over With the Rabbi." Rabbi Rothman, the new spiritual leader of the Temple will lead the group, and he plans to center the discussion around Jewish customs and ceremonies.

The response from the congregation has been most gratifying to the committee, headed by Mrs. Frank Kaplan. The supper club will meet the 4th Sunday of each month, with an informative and stimulating program. Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Milton Rosenthal, and Mrs. Max Bott is in charge of hospitality, assisted by Mrs. Harold Levine and Mrs. Herman Jacobs.

Cabot School PTA

The next meeting of the Cabot School PTA will be held next Monday, January 25 at 7:45 p.m. in the school auditorium. Dr. Edward Landy, Director of Counseling Services, Newton Public Schools, will lead a Panel Discussion on "How We Meet the Special Needs of Individual Children," assisted by Miss Maynard, Miss Austin, Mrs. Pynchon, Miss Kennedy. This should be a most informative discussion as Dr. Landy and his colleagues are well trained in their special fields.

Heath, Mrs. Albert E. Holdridge, Mrs. Laurence C. Jones, Mrs. R. W. McKenzie, Mrs. Florence I. Miller, Mrs. James G. Patterson, Mrs. Gregory J. Samoylenko, Mrs. Albert Studer, Mrs. Charles C. Wilson, Mrs. Raymond W. Woolson and Mrs. Harold F. Young.

First Unitarian Society, Couples Club to Hold Winter Carnival

A Winter Carnival to benefit the church building fund will be sponsored by the Couples Club of the First Unitarian Society in Newton all day Saturday, January 30, from noon luncheon through a buffet supper in the evening, at the West Newton Unitarian parish house.

In addition to a food table, candy booth and novelty table, there will be special attractions for children, including a grab bag stand, taffy apple stand, balloon vendor and coke bar, also booths of skill, archery, music, bakers and a carnival atmosphere.

Maynard Sears will provide a unique feature as a knife sharpener, and housewives are invited to bring all the knives from their kitchens to be sharpened.

Under the general chairmanship of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Thompson, presidents of the Couples Club, the following booths and committee chairmen have been announced:

Luncheon, Mrs. Hans Waine; buffet supper, Mrs. L. Fabian Bachrach, Jr.; food table, Mrs. Maynard Sears; candy booth, Mrs. John Ogden Fisher; coke stand, Mrs. Robert H. Cobb; taffy apple stand, Mrs. Lowell V. Coulter; grab bags, Mrs. Henry Whitmore, Jr.; balloon vendor, Mrs. Gordon B. Gupta; knife sharpener, Maynard Sears; archery, Robert H. Cobb; novelty table, Mrs. Edwin D. Smith.

There will be games for youngsters under ten years old. Games of skill for the young people will include dart throw, wheel of fortune, ball toss and pok-toss.

N.C. Woman's Club

The American Home Committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club held their monthly meeting Monday, Jan. 18, at the clubhouse in Newton Centre.

Luncheon was served at 12:30 with Mrs. Maurice Hargreaves as hostess, assisted by her committee — Mrs. A. R. Leahy, Mrs. R. C. Burgdorf, Mrs. John P. E. Dempsey, Mrs. Florence Dowling, Mrs. Lester Menkes, Mrs. Thomas Duffy and Mrs. O. P. Carter.

A short business meeting followed the luncheon with Mrs. Lester Menkes presiding.

At two o'clock, Mr. Melvin H. Ligums, B.S., L.L.B., Lecturer from the Home Life Insurance Company of New York, gave a very interesting and informative talk on "What every woman should know concerning social security, pensions and estate planning."

Food Consultant To Address Whiting Chapter

"Food Hints for Better Living" will be featured at the next meeting of the Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D.A.R., at the Newton Highlands Workshop on Tuesday, January 26, 1954, when Mr. Lorne W. Brownell, Food Consultant of the S. S. Pierce Co., will be the guest speaker. Mrs. Hilmyer G. Senning, State D.A.R. Membership chairman, will also address the members.

Chairmen for the Coffee Hour at 1 p.m. preceding the meeting will be Mrs. Walter F. Parker and Mrs. Helen A. Miller, assisted by Miss Jennie G. Moody, Mrs. Carol Olson, Mrs. Raymond J. Phelon, Mrs. Esmond S. Rice, Mrs. Francis B. Riley, Mrs. Charles W. Rowell and Mrs. Frederic I. Spinney. Mrs. Edward J. Stone and Mrs. Sterling G. Thomas will serve as social chairman for the afternoon. Members may bring guests.

Countryside Plans First Birthday

Plans for the celebration of the first birthday of Countryside School on Tuesday, February 2, are being completed by the Executive Board of the Countryside School P.T.A. Two parties will be held on that day. The party for Countryside pupils will begin at 1:30 in the afternoon and will feature a surprise form of entertainment in the auditorium to be followed by refreshments consisting of birthday cake and ice cream.

At 8 o'clock in the evening the party for adults will begin. A Record Hop is planned with continuous dancing in the gym; a full length feature film will be shown in the auditorium; and refreshments will be served.

The Committee in charge of the Birthday Party includes: Mrs. Arnold Peterson, Children's Party; Mrs. Edward H. Horowitz, Adult Party, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Leon Fentin and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Alpert and Mrs. William E. Lowery, refreshments.

Parents and neighbors of Countryside are cordially invited to attend what promises to be a pleasant and highly entertaining evening.

"There is an endless amount of grumbling over the high cost of living. There should be an equal amount over the high cost of government." — Independent, Milan, Ill.

Temple Reyim P.T.A. Announces Speaker for Jan. 25th Meeting

The Temple Reyim Parent Teacher's Association is happy to announce that the speaker for their January 25 meeting at 8 o'clock will be Rabbi Maurice L. Zigmund, and his subject, "The Significance of Jewish Education Today."

Rabbi Zigmund is New England Regional Director for B'nai B'rith Hillside Foundations; is Director of Hillside House at Cambridge for Harvard, Radcliffe and Lesley Colleges and is Assistant Professor of Anthropology at Yale University. He is Associate Rabbi at Temple Israel, Boston.

Since Rabbi Zigmund is noted for his ability to illuminate the problems of the day, all parents of students at Temple Reyim Religious School look forward with great anticipation to his message.

Miss Adaire Schwartz will give a brief talk on her classroom activities with second-graders.

The meetings will open with selections of Hebrew Songs by the Junior Chorus to permit the teen-agers to participate in this memorable evening.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club of Newton held a meeting at the Himmelfeld Club on Wednesday January 20. Mrs. Joe W. Gerity was the speaker, and delivered her paper on "The Period of the Revolutionary War."

On January 27, Miss Elizabeth Fuller will give her paper on "Mankind in Motion," a study of the early period of immigration in America.

Hostesses for the January 27 meeting will be Mrs. Stephen C. Currier and Mrs. Ivan J. Geiger.

Newell Club

Mrs. Edward F. Timmins will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Newell Club to be held at the home of Mrs. Stanley E. Clark, 53 Woodlawn avenue, Wellesley Hills, on January 25 at 2 p.m. Her subject will be "Jewelry of Olden Days." Mrs. Timmins will be presented by the program chairman, Mrs. Henry C. Jones Jr., and Mrs. Edward A. Green, president of the Newell Club will preside.

Tea will be served following the lecture by Mrs. Clark, assisted by Mrs. Herbert C. Fischer, Mrs. Harold E. Magnuson and Mrs. Henry S. Cross.

RABBI M. L. ZIGMOND

"There is now a pretty fair prospect that... Congress will vote to kill off postal savings over a period of years and thereby setting something of a mark in history, for it is seldom that a governmental function is actually brought to an end." — Commercial and Financial Chronicle.

Dump—

25, 1940, promising to halt the disposal of combustible materials in dump. Mr. Mattson declared he had seen several similar promises from Watertown, but there was no improvement in conditions.

During 1953, he continued, there were 35 fires at the dump. In about half of these, Newton fire fighting equipment was called out to protect homes on the Newton side of the river.

Mr. Mattson's resolution stated that "refuse from this dump is encroaching on and contaminating the Charles River" and that it "has been constantly used for 25 years, is now so filled beyond its normal capacity that the dumping of any additional combustible or other material therein would increase the fire and health hazard."

The resolution affirmed Mr. Mattson's contention that "the only possible solution is the complete discontinuance of the dump."

The lone objection to this resolve, which was passed on a voice vote, was registered by Alderman Joseph B. Davis, who pointed out that Newton's own Pine street dump was about as objectionable to its neighbors as was the Watertown dump to Newtonville residents.

The original resolution offered by the Newtonville alderman included a paragraph approving a bill pending in the legislature which would give the State Department of Public Health the power to close down dumps.

However, this clause was deleted by the aldermen who felt it was going against "home rule" to give any state agency more power.

Alderman Earle D. Wood termed the approval as "leading with our chin. We in Newton may be somewhat vulnerable to attack on our own Pine street dump."

Alderman Davis agreed that steps would probably be taken by residents near the Newton dump, and intimated they might have a chance of success if the State Department of Public Health had this additional power.

In addition to the resolution, Mr. Mattson and a group of Newtonville citizens are seeking closure of the Watertown dump through court action.

An odd quirk in the city's ordinances was disclosed by Alderman Leo S. Cannon, who explained that there is no legal basis at present for banning parking at bus stops. He called for an ordinance revision to cover this loophole, and a resolution was passed 19-0 for a survey of the bus stop locations.

According to Mr. Cannon, anyone who receives a ticket for parking in an area marked off for buses could "beat the rap" in court by pointing out the omission of penalties in the city ordinances.

Mr. Cannon also suggested a change in regulations covering taxicabs. In an effort to improve service, he recommended the placing of hours of operation on licenses and suggested "open stands" in some business areas which could be used by any Newton taxis.

After he stated it was a violation of local rules for outside taxis to pick up passengers in Newton, Wendell R. Bauckman, president of the board, raised an objection. "I can see nothing wrong with a citizen of Newton hailing a cab passing by when our own taxis have fallen down, as they have in my estimation," he explained. "Time has been kept" when it was difficult for Oak Hill residents to get taxis at night from Newton Centre as the cabs in that area left the streets at an early hour.

Some spaces set aside for taxis are in operation only a part of the day, Mr. Cannon said, and Mr. Wood suggested that different cab firms "double up" on the available spaces. Alderman Davis, who is chairman of the franchises and licenses committee, said a survey of Newton taxi locations will be undertaken shortly.

Director—

and know that they will come to feel for him the same respect and warm affection that he leaves with his many friends."

Prior to his services as a Director of the Malden Hospital, Mr. Brines was for two years Director of the Central Maine General Hospital in Lewiston, Me. Before that he was Chief, Hospital Section, War Production Board in Washington, D. C., on leave of absence from the Pittsfield General Hospital where he had been for three years Associate Director. Mr. Brines had spent a year prior to that as Assistant Administrator.

As a sales representative for Johnson & Johnson Company, Mr. Brines worked for three years in the Eastern New York and Western New England areas servicing the accounts in the hospital division.

Mr. Brines is a graduate of Brown and was teaching Fellow at Rutgers University. He attended preparatory school at the Peddie School in Hightstown, N. J.

Married to Jean McClures Brines; the couple have three children, James aged 11, a daughter, Kincaid aged 8, and Duncan aged 6. Mr. and Mrs. Brines are at Holt road in Andover, Massachusetts, and have a five-acre farm. Mr. Brines has a major hobby working on his farm property. The Brines plan to live either in Newton or Wellesley as soon as they are able to locate a new residence.

A member of the Brown Club, the Rotary Club of Malden, and the Hospital Superintendents' Club, Mr. Brines is also a Director of the Malden Chapter of the American Red Cross, and has been active in local health programs such as the March of Dimes and the T.B. association.

Professionally, Mr. Brines is a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, a Director of the Massachusetts Hospital Service, Inc., (Blue Cross) and its chairman of the Council of Blue Cross Affairs. He has been for two years delegate from Massachusetts to the American Hospital Association's convention. He is active in the New England Hospital Assembly.

Mr. Brines will assume his duties at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital on the first of March. It is planned that Dr. Hamilton will start at Hartford on February 1st. In the months interim period both men will devote part of their time to the direction of the affairs of the Newton-Wellesley. Said Mr. Cutler, "We are sure that we will be able to work out an arrangement which will insure continuity of direction during this indoctrination period."

Cars—

hoped that such action will not be necessary. To plow around cars means the plow must return to the area which adds to the already heavy expense involved.

Many trash and rubbish containers were found in the snow in the path of the plows and in the middle of sidewalks. If they are placed on the edge of the street or sidewalks it would facilitate proper plowing.

Owners or occupants of buildings or lots of land in business districts, or the owners or occupants of the building the use of which is the same as if it were in a business district are required by ordinance to remove snow from sidewalks abutting such properties within twenty-four hours after snow ceases to fall. This ordinance will be strictly enforced. If these sidewalks could be kept reasonably clear during the progress of the storm it would aid considerably in providing convenience and safety for pedestrians.

In many cases snow shovelled from private property was dropped in larger quantities on the sidewalks. This made it difficult or impossible for the plow to break through and resulted in having the plow circumvent the area. In some instances snow was thrown in large mounds into the center of already plowed streets, making it very dangerous for motorists, especially at night. If the snow must be thrown on to the streets, it should be spread out or better still pushed to the edge of the street.

The City is well aware of the desire of its people to have a good job of snow removal accomplished as quickly as possible during and after a storm. City officials and workers are trying to do just such a job. With the full and considerate assistance of all the citizens the job, both on streets and sidewalks can be accomplished more efficiently.

Grollman—

he served in congregations in Ohio and West Virginia. Rabbi Grollman has contributed articles to many magazines, and has collaborated on a book entitled "American Jewish History."

Accident—

avoiding something or standing on the sidewalk as his car went off by itself.

Still on your feet and breathing? That's only half the report. Now you have to fill in the other side.

Pull out your compass and, on a map that resembles a join-the-dotted-lines-and-see-the-picture puzzle, show the accident. Landmarks, pedestrians, railroad tracks and other landmarks are to be sketched in.

After passing this artistry test, the person filling out the report speeds through a number of "check one" listings on road character, road surface, road conditions, traffic control, locality, light, weather and road lanes.

Witnesses may then be listed and, as the coup de grace, the poor operator has to describe "what" happen" in his own words.

Finally, as the befogged driver staggers from the report, the police officer who has the unenviable task of investigating the accident has to go through the same routine for his own report.

Lucky indeed is the motorist who can go through 1954 accident-free. As for the others, look out for the men in the white suits!

Polio—

son might be that mothers particularly realize the importance of the 1954 March of Dimes because funds raised this year will be used to support a gigantic nationwide field trial of a new vaccine which many scientists believe will be the answer in the long war against polio.

These tests, together with the expanded use of the temporary protection, gamma globulin, will cost the National Foundation $26,500,000 this year. This sum, in addition to the regularly and urgently needed March of Dimes contributions for the Foundation's year-round programs of patient-care, professional education and research.

"Light the Way to Victory is the slogan that Mothers' Marchers are using this year," she said. "Victory against polio cannot be won unless every one digs deep in his or her pocketbook. This can be the greatest year in history in the fight against polio. We can't afford to fall short of our goal."

ter and to participate in our share of the National programs. If the people of Newton will give in Newton and will give as much as last year, I am sure we shall have a successful campaign. With the faithful volunteer co-operation of division leaders, village chairmen, captains, solicitors and other Red Cross workers and the loyal support of Newton people, the March campaign for members and funds will reach its goal."

Nutrition Center To Hold Annual Meeting Jan. 27

Representatives of many Newton Health and Welfare organizations have accepted invitations to attend the Annual Meeting of the Newton Nutrition Center to be held on January 27th at the Second Congregational Church in West Newton.

The timely subject Diabetes—A Community Challenge will be discussed by the guest speaker, Mrs. Elizabeth K. Caso, Nutritionist with the Diabetes Section, United States Public Health Service. The booklet Meal Planning, widely used to help diabetics plan their meals was largely the work of Mrs. Caso. She is also on the faculty of the Harvard School of Public Health and it was in this capacity that she was consultant to the Newton Nutrition Center for several years.

The luncheon to be served at 12:15 p.m. will be prepared by Mrs. John Leonard and Mrs. Luke Dohanian of Second Church. A short business meeting will follow at which time the Board of Directors will vote on officers and new members for 1954.

Any interested persons in the community are cordially invited to attend. Telephone reservations will be accepted up to noon on January 25th at BI 4-4912.

Distinctive Films To Be Presented

Of special interest to moviegoers in this area is the announcement of Manager Harold Gordon, of the Central Square Theatre in Waltham, that beginning this Monday, his house is being converted to a showcase for the exclusive presentation of unusual and distinctive film productions. The move comes, in response to the requests of local film patrons seeking a conveniently located neighborhood theatre where they might regularly obtain the best in foreign films as well as American made productions of unusual merit.

The intimate atmosphere of the well appointed Central Square makes this theatre ideal for the presentation of this type offering.

To inaugurate his new policy Manager Harold Gordon has booked an imposing lineup of topflight foreign imports and high quality American made productions.

In Violin Recital At Brown Univ.

Daniel Abbott, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Abbott of 161 Walnut street, Newtonville, gave a violin recital Friday evening at Brown university.

A graduate of Newton high school, Abbott is a senior and candidate for the bachelor of arts degree in music at Brown. He is a concert master of the Brown university orchestra, recipient of the Helen Wheelwright award in Music, and president of Delta Upsilon, his fraternity.

Promoted by B&A

Thomas F. Coplinger of 38 Salisbury road, Newton, has been appointed assistant to the general superintendent of the Boston and Albany Railroad. He formerly served in the engineering department of the railroad.

Foot of Snow Covers Nobscot For Annual Winter Camporee

Nobscot Reservation, blanketed under a good foot of snow, presented challenging camping conditions for Norumbega Council's annual Winter Camporee this past weekend. As the snowfall ended at check-in time on Saturday noon, the Scouts were given a good opportunity to pit their camping skills against real winter weather.

Over 180 Scouts and Explorer Scouts participated in the camping contest. They were divided into 29 Scout Patrols and 4 Explorer Crews. Each of these units was "responsible" for feeding and "bunking" an adult supervisor.

Each patrol and crew was judged on how well its Scouts prepared for and actually camped in the winter weather. Special attention of the judges was given to packs, clothing, camping equipment, food planning and cooking, cleanliness, sanitation, organization and general ability to make a practical and comfortable camp.

Under the leadership of Chief Judge Leigh Packer, the following adult Scouters rated the Patrols: Felix Knauth, Bill Williams, Dick Pearce, Jim Campbell, Warren Manhard, II, Frank Kennedy, Amos Kent, Bob Sands, Bill Ripley, Marsden Boden, Leigh Stanton, Jim Cobb, John Scott, J. Milton Bradley, Rocco Antonellis, Gale Harper, Albert Hegnauer, Bob Wilk, Roy Clark, George Shannon, Tom Doyle and Scoutmaster Henry White.

Saturday evening, a campfire was held in Legion Cabin. "Soupy" Campbell was Master of Ceremonies. It was a strictly fun night for both the competitor Scouts and their adult judges. Scout's own religious services were held on Sunday morning.

"Curt" Forbes and the Camping Committee did an excellent job in organizing and running this most successful camporee. More than 50 adults volunteered their time for the weekend. Each had an appreciative word for George Thompson, his assistant Jack Starkweather and members of the Order of the Arrow.

Friday night, Norumbega Council will hold its mid-winter Court of Honor at the new Wellesley Junior High School. All Scouts, Scouters and the public are invited to this ceremony.

It is expected that several local boys will be awarded Eagle Scout badges. Results of the judging at the recent Camporee may also be made known at this Court.

Central to Spend $115 Million To Keep Tracks in Tiptop Shape

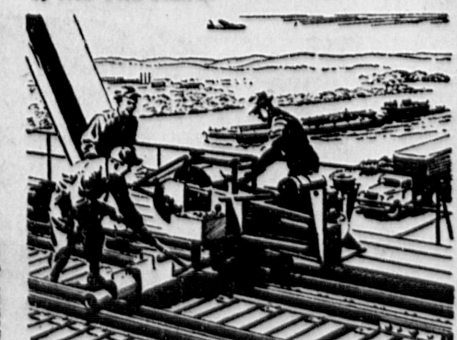

1. NEW RAIL BY THE MILE, more than 76,000 tons of it, will go down along the famous Water Level Route in 1954. And that's just one item in New York Central's program for improving its all-weather steel highway. A program that will total over $115,000,000 this year!

2. MACHINES MAKE DOLLARS DO MORE. This one picks up, cleans and replaces rock ballast under a mile of track in less than an hour. It saves days of old-time handwork. And it assures you a clean, well drained, easy-riding roadbed when you ship or travel by New York Central.

3. MACHINES MAKE BETTER JOBS, TOO. Pulling out 1,000 ties was once a slow, back-breaking job. Today, two men with this power puller can pluck out an eight-foot, 200-pound tie in seconds. This year, Central is investing $2,000,000 in such efficient machines that make work easier.

4. YET YOU PAY NO TAXES on all this, as you must for tax-supported airways, waterways, and highways used by big, inter-city trucks. Only your Railroad builds, maintains, and pays taxes on its roadway. Yes, top transportation that pays its own way is the CENTRAL IDEA!

SELF-CHARGING NEUTRONIC PLATE

LIFE-TIME

Battery Actually Lasts the LIFE OF YOUR CAR!

Does your Profession or Occupation call for promptness in getting somewhere? An exhausted Auto Battery may cause much annoyance and some financial loss. You will avoid such situations if you will take our advice and equip your car with this SELF-CHARGING, LIFE-TIME BATTERY. Now, should you want to get THE LAST KICK out of your present battery, avoid trouble by getting our battery in the trunk of your car. IT WILL NOT RUN DOWN BUT WILL BE AT FULL STRENGTH WHEN YOU WANT IT. What about cost? The usual battery which is put in all used cars at the time of sale costs around $8.49. It is guaranteed for 1 year only and many do not last that long. On a yearly basis our battery costs you only $4.99, and it is UNCONDITIONALLY GUARANTEED FOR THE FIRST year and the usual guarantee for 6 more years. Remember these points which are exclusive in our battery. (1.) SELF-CHARGING, NEUTRONIC PLATES, (2.) CATALYTIC CASE, (3.) FIBERGLASS INSULATION, (4.) EVERLASTING SEPARATORS. Do not wait till your battery fails. BE SAFE — ORDER A BATTERY TO FIT YOUR CAR TODAY.

Father's Day

As a young Frenchman pushed his son's carriage down the street, the youngest howled with rage. "Please, Bernard, control yourself," the father said quietly. "Easy there, Bernard, keep calm!"

"Congratulations, monsieur," said a woman who had been watching. "You know just how to speak to infants - calmly and gently." Then, leaning over the carriage, she said, "So the little fellow's named Bernard?"

"No, madame," corrected the father. "He's named Andre. I'm Bernard." - Reader's Digest

Richard Allman, fabulous six-year old kid, could read at three and write at four, says Arthur Gordon in the February Reader's Digest. When Richard's mother first took him shopping he amazed the supermarket clerk by figuring the sales tax on a list of purchases before the clerk could.

POLITICAL OVERTONES

Whitmore Sides With Opponents to Governor's MTA Bill... Loyalty to Herter Gives Way to Mayoralty Obligations...

Conscientious Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., of Newton, who last year was one of Governor Herter's first lieutenants on Beacon Hill, recently found it necessary to line up with other city and town officials against the Governor's MTA bill.

On the surface at least, there appeared to be a conflict between the long-range interests of the city of Newton and Whitmore's loyalty to the Governor. There was no hesitancy on Whitmore's part. As Mayor of Newton he recorded himself against the measure sponsored by the man for whom he worked so industriously in 1953.

The incident took place in the office of Boston's Mayor John B. Hynes, when Whitmore attended the first meeting of the MTA Advisory Board comprised of the officials of the 14 cities and towns in the transit district.

Actually, the disagreement over the MTA bill is not a serious one. It can be resolved with minor compromises, and Whitmore and the other Mayors, City Managers and Selectmen are apprehensive as to what the effect of the Governor's bill might have at some future date, when Mr. Herter is no longer Governor of Massachusetts and a different board of trustees are directing the MTA.

Human Relations Committee Elects Dr. Krush Chairman

Dr. Thaddeus Krush was elected chairman and Mrs. John C. McClintock secretary at the first meeting last week of the seven-member Human Relations Committee.

Other members of the group, all appointed by former Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood, are John Ahern, Dr. Frances Bonner, Stanley S. Levenberg, Constantine Lupo and John B. Rubenstein.

Dr. Krush emphasized that the purpose of the Human Relations Committee is set forth in the ordinance: "The purpose of the human relations committee shall be to promote understanding and amicable relations between persons and groups, juvenile and adult, in the city and to advise and assist other agencies, both public and private, concerned with such matters."

The next meeting will be Thursday, February 4. During the next weeks, committee members will review material compiled by the Human Relations Committee of the Community Council. This group was forced last year at the request of Mayor Lockwood to evaluate tensions in Newton and make recommendations.

It was the recommendation of this group that a Human Relations Committee for Newton be officially established as part of the city government. On November 2, the Board of Aldermen passed an ordinance as a result of this recommendation.

Communications to the Human Relations Committee of Newton should be directed to Dr. Thaddeus Krush, chairman of the Human Relations Committee, City Hall, Newton, Massachusetts.

Only Three Days Left to Help Aid Polio Prevention Drive

With only three more days left in the annual March of Dimes, State Advisor Thomas Stotler issued a last-minute appeal today to those who have not already given, urging them to recognize that 1954 is perhaps the most important year in the fight against polio.

"It is important," he declared, "for everyone to realize the personal significance of the current March of Dimes for $75,000,000 and why this year's campaign seeks to raise fifty per cent more than last year.

"A whole new program—polio prevention—is being launched by the National Foundation for

Plan Chest X-Ray Program For All Newton Teachers

An initial planning committee meeting for a chest X-ray survey of Newton teachers was held last week at Newton City Hall. The survey, planned for March, will be a cooperative venture of the Newton Health Department, Newton School Department, and Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association, whose part in this program is financed by the sale of Christmas Seals.

Representatives from the co-operating agencies who met were Dr. Ernest Morris, health officer, and Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, supervisor of nursing, representing the Newton Health Department; Charles

Newton Graphic-Boston Gas Party to Be In Masonic Hall, Newtonville

MISS SUSAN MACK

Women attending the big Boston Gas-Newton Graphic free cooking party have lots of surprises in store. The lecture-demonstration, to be held Wednesday afternoon, February 10 at Masonic Hall, Newtonville avenue, Newtonville will also give Newton ladies the opportunity to present their cooking problems to the experts during a question period after the demonstration. Planning the new features are the home economists from Boston Gas, who will also preside over the cooking demonstrations.

In addition to the new cooking helps and food ideas, many valuable prizes and all food used in the demonstration, will be given away to lucky ladies attending the sessions.

Miss Susan Mack, head of the Home Service Department of Boston Gas and her staff of culinary experts, are no strangers to Greater Boston women. They talk to some 60,000 women every year at cooking schools, women's clubs, civic groups and in customers' homes. In the Bos-

Hospital Coffee, Gift Shops Make Record Contribution

As a result of a record volume of customers at the coffee and gift shops at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital during the past year, the executive committee of these activities has been able to vote a contribution of $8000 from its profits to the Hospital Aid, according to a report made recently by Mrs. Robert H. Smith of Wellesley, secretary of the committee.

Mrs. Smith also reported during the meeting which was held Monday, January 18 at 1:30 p.m. at the hospital, that 114,545 food customers were served at the coffee shop during 1953 — an increase of approximately 15,000 over the previous year. The $8000 contribution is the largest annual donation ever to be made by this group.

Reporting with Mrs. Smith was Miss Florence E. Dodge, treasurer. Mrs. Francis F. Munroe reported a gross profit of $6,898.81 for the gift shop, of which a substantial portion was represented by the "Hospital Service Cart."

The Coffee and Gift Shop was established eleven years ago as a service to the Hospital and is run by an executive committee of sixteen under the chairmanship of Mrs. Walter L. McGill; a staff of nine paid workers and about one hundred active volunteers — all well-known Newton and Wellesley women and students from some of the local schools

Hochberg Says G.O.P. Proposal Is Violation

Two divergent views were expressed this week relative to the proposed Congressional Redistricting plan now under consideration by the Massachusetts Legislature. On the one side Representative George Rawson (R) of this city contends "it is rather amusing to hear the Democrats cry 'steal'" while Alvin S. Hochberg who will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the House of Representatives in the special election in March states that "this plan is a flagrant violation of fair play."

In summarizing the argument to date, Representative Rawson, in a statement issued this week says:

"It is rather amusing to hear the Democrats cry 'steal'. In 1951, when their party controlled the House and held the Governorship they filed three bills to provide for redistricting, in their way of course. The bills were reported favorably by the Election Laws Committee in spite of my opposition and dissent by all the Republicans. The bills 'died' in the Joint Committee on Rules. At the time their plan to use redistricting to their party advantage was well known. In fact a leading Democrat stated that he could re-draw the Mass. districts so that there would not be a single Republican District. With full knowledge of him, he probably could! In states where his party have carried 'redistricting' they have 'gerrymandered' to their hearts content.

"When our commission began work we set aside a day on which we invited all of our 14 Congressmen to appear before us and present their ideas to us. Only three appeared, Congressman Curtis, Goodwin and Lane. Speaker Martin who was abroad was represented by his secretary. The others did not thus honor us or assist us in any way. I believe it was Cicero who said, 'Silence gives consent.'

"The large section comprising the four western districts, Berkshire, Franklin, Hampshire, Hampden, Worcester and western Middlesex counties, was carried by Eisenhower by over 78,000, and by Governor Herter by over 50,000 at the last state election but its congressional delegation consists of one Republican, Haselton and three Democrats, Boland, Philbin and Donohue. Under the plan recommended by our commission the ratio would probably be 3 to 1 Republican. What is unfair about that. One

Named to 290 Year Old First Church

REV. N. M. GUPTILL
Rev. Nathanael M. Guptill Accepts Call

Rev. Nathanael M. Guptill has accepted the call of the 290 year old First Church in Newton (Congregational) to become its minister, succeeding Rev. M. Russell Boynton, D.D., who died last September.

Mr. Guptill is currently Field Work Director and Assistant Professor of Church Administration at the Andover Newton Theological School in Newton Centre. He will continue in this capacity until the end of the school year but will also fill the pulpit of the First Church each Sunday until going on a full time basis. Thereafter he will maintain his close association with Andover Newton.

Mr. Guptill was born in 1917 in Deer Isle, Maine, in a Congregational Parsonage. He is the son of the late Rev. Orville J. Guptill who for many years was Superintendent of the Maine Seacoast Missionary Society with headquarters in Bar Harbor, Maine.

Rev. Nathanael M. Guptill graduated from Colby College, A.B., in 1939, and from Andover Newton Theological School, B.D. (cum laude) in 1943. While in college and Seminary he served the Riverside Congregational Church, Vassalboro, Maine, the First Congregational Church in Salem, N.H., and the First Congregational Church in Rowley, Mass., in that order. He was ordained in Rowley in March, 1943, by the Essex North Association of Congregational Christian Churches and Ministers.

Report Seeks Move From Rented Store

Transfer of the Nonantum Branch Library, which is now located in a rented store, to the present Nonantum Fire Station once the Nonantum and Newtonville Fire Stations are consolidated, was suggested in the annual report this week by Judge Thomas Weston, president of the board of trustees of the Newton Free Library.

Judge Weston explained that the move would place the library opposite the Magni Coletti Memorial Park. "For several years now," he stated, "the trustees have been concerned as to a new Branch Library building for Nonantum, replacing the present rented store quarters. This is a section where recreational, cultural and educational facilities should be held at a high level."

The report was made to Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr. at the annual meeting Friday of the Library Board. Judge Weston was elected president of the board, E. Graham Bates was named treasurer and

13 Newton Boys Inducted Into Armed Forces

Eighteen Newton boys left this city last Friday morning for induction into the armed forces and previous to their departure were given a send-off by the Newton Veterans Organizations under the direction of William J. Maloney, chairman of the Newton Veterans' Council.

Fred W. Sawyer, PC of George E. Carson Post, AL, acted as master of ceremonies with

Stuart Spaulding, Ward 2 Alderman representing Mayor Howard Whitmore. Representing the clergy was Rev. Arthur H. Block, pastor of the Newton Centre Lutheran Church, who advised the group as to their religious obligations while in the service.

William F. Halliday, Jr., PC of Newton Post 48, AL, representing the American Red Cross, cited the services of this organization to all service men while Edward E. Cunningham, State Supervisor of Veteran Services, defined the privileges attained by those entering the service.

The roll was called by Miss Marion Armstrong, clerk of Selective Service Board 117 and coffee and doughnuts were served by the Red Cross under the supervision of Miss Mary Furlong and Mrs. Walter Hood.

Also introduced by Sawyer were the following:—Elmer H. King, Commander of Thos. Burnett Camp USWV; Joseph Greco of Nonantum Post 440, AL; J. Joseph Ward, PC of Newton Post 48, AL; Charles DiMuzio, Commander and John Carroll, SVC, both of George Carson Post, AL, and Charles Duke and Peter Kelly, both of Newton Post 48, AL.

One of the group, Werner Fornos, is the former German refugee who came to this country as a stowaway in 1950 and was saved from being sent back to Germany by a batch of telegrams and letters to Washington.

Those who were inducted included Francis A. Tanner, 139 Woodward street; Werner Fornos, 32 Newtonville avenue;

Robert E. Schlossberg, 50 Chilton road, Weston; Richard O'Dowd, 17 Winthrop avenue, Newton; Donald H. Magaw, 23 Bridges avenue, Newtonville; John E. Lee, 224 Brook street, Framingham; Paul E. Hauser, Main street, Amherst, N. H.; Herbert Hart, 60 Sutton place South, Apt. 7C, New York City; Albert Amadei, Jr., 98 Washington street, Newton; George F. Cahill, 74 Manet road, Chestnut Hill; Thomas J. Carson, 302 Langley road, Newton Centre.

Frederick J. Fawcett 2nd, 34 Hyde street, Newton; Daniel K. Griffin, 20 Waterston road, Newton; Marshall K. Schreter, 25 Philmore road, Newton; Robert L. Frazier, 7 River avenue, Newton Upper Falls; Anthony J. Kelly, 24 Lincoln street, Newton Highlands; and Richard D. Lempiński, 12 Elliot place, Newton Upper Falls.

Following the send-off ceremony, the boys entrained at Newtonville for the Boston Army Base from where they were sent to Fort Dix in New Jersey for assignment.

Highlands Men's Club Plans Ladies Night February 2

The Men's Club of Newton Highlands announces its annual Ladies' Night on Tuesday, February 2, at 7 p.m. in the Newton Highlands Congregational Church.

The evening will start with dinner and entertainment, to be followed by dancing to the music of Salvy Cavichio and his orchestra, featuring his rhythmic xylophone and accordion, which were such a hit last year that the club membership demanded a return engagement.

Refreshments will be served during dancing intermission.

Safety Council and the Newton Recreation Department. (Graphic photo by Gordon R. Wilk)

Frog Man Swims in 7-Degree Cold for Rescue Exhibition

Featuring a swim in the frigid waters by a Navy "frog man," a demonstration of rescue techniques for persons breaking through thin ice was staged in numbing, seven-degree weather Saturday morning at Crystal Lake, Newton Highlands.

Lt. James F. Cahill, a former hockey and football letterman both at Boston College and Holy Cross, opened the demonstration by chopping a hole in the eight-inch ice and retrieving a weighted dummy in 30 feet of water. Swimming under the ice with Aqua-Lung equipment, the frog man searched for five minutes before tying a line to the dummy.

The program and arrangements for the demonstrations were planned and directed by School Safety Officer Charles E. Feeley, and Water Safety Officer and First-Aid Instructor of the Newton Police, Gilbert J. Champagne, who had enlisted the aid of four (4) Newton Police Officers to effect the individual rescues. The officers assisting: (Boards) Officer Fred Fraini; (Ring Buoy) Officer George Longbottom; (Anchor Man on Skates for Human Chain) Richard Nugent; and (Ladder Rescue) John Rousseau.

The types of ice rescue shown were:

#1—Ring Buoy for Ice Rescues, where the victim must remain at some distance from the rescuer, because of the weakened condition of the ice, a Ring Buoy with a line is most useful. It can be scaled along the ice to a victim with remarkable accuracy.

#2—A Plank or Board type of rescue is usually a one man operation. Two planks or boards as of great length as possible are used. The rescuer lies on one plank, and pushes the other ahead, and then worms his way ahead to the second plank, and draws (it) the first plank alongside and then forward, to the victim. The return trip is made in the same manner, with the rescuer and victim creeping from plank to plank.

#3—Human Chain. The Human Chain type is used by four or five strong individuals who approach as close as possible distributing their weight as much as possible and getting down to a "prone position" on the ice, and then wiggling their way towards the victim.

The first man grabs the victim, and the men behind grab a skate or a foot of the rescuer and continue this operation until the victim has been pulled free.

#4—Ladder and Rope. The ladder should be 14'-0" to 18'-0" in length, and extended to the victim into the water, who pulls on the ladder, and the rescuers pull ladder and victim out.

#5—Inflated Spare Tire. The spare tire fully mounted can be pushed, rolled, or slid to the victim in the water, which would support him until his rescue can be completed, by one of the previous mentioned methods. In clear water, the victim supported by the tire might kick himself to shore.

The demonstration, given in the midst of a driving wind and snow flurries, was under the auspices of Chief Philip Purcell of the Newton Police Department, who is chairman of the safety committee of the Massachusetts Chiefs of Police Association. The series of rescues were set up by Safety Officers Gilbert J. Champagne and Charles E. Feeley.

Julia S. Bierman

Memorial services for Mrs. Julia S. Bierman, 71, of 1845 Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, who died January 9, were held January 12 at her home. Mrs. Bierman had been a resident of Auburndale since 1939, when her husband, Clarence H. Bierman, was transferred from the U.S. Public Health Hospital in Ft. Worth, Texas, to the Chelsea Marine Hospital. She had been active in many community affairs, including the Auburndale Woman's Club, Auburndale Review Club, Audubon Society and the Red Cross. She was a member of the Altar Guild at Church of the Messiah, Auburndale, and was a former president of the Woman's Guild. Besides her husband, Mrs. Bierman leaves four daughters, Mrs. Daniel Hopper and Mrs. Paul Klauer of Boston, Mrs. Edward Jackson of Peoria, Ill., and Miss Barbara Bierman of Washington, D.C.

Skid Row Film To Be Shown February 3

Authentic scenes from Chicago's Skid Row are featured in "The Street," new color documentary film which will be shown at The Second Baptist Church, Chestnut and Ellis Streets, Newton Upper Falls, on February 3, at 8:00 p.m.

The film audience will see how Skid Row alcoholics drink wood alcohol by squeezing the liquid through stale bread to strain out the poison.

They will see scenes of the "bottle gang," whose members rendezvous in an alley to share a bottle of cheap wine and spin tall tales.

"The Street" is based on an actual case history from the files of the Pacific Garden Mission, who are sponsoring the new film, according to Superintendent Harry Saulnier. It tells the story of a youthful alcoholic who turns to God out of the depths of spiritual and physical need.

Mrs. F. Blanchard

Falling in health since the death of her husband nine years ago, Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard died suddenly Friday at the Sears Manor Nursing Home. A native of Everett until her marriage; she came to Newton about 50 years ago. She was a member of the Central Congregational Church, the West Newton Woman's Club, the Daughters of Massachusetts and Women's Republican Club. She leaves a niece, Mrs. George F. Fowle of Wellesley, and two nephews, Donald and Murray Townsend of Bergenfield, N. J.

Ida M. Stewart

Funeral services for Ida M. Stewart, widow of Robert B. Stewart of 24 Margaret road, Newton Highlands, were held January 11 at St. Paul's Episcopal Church. Burial followed in Cedar Grove Cemetery, Dorchester. Mrs. Stewart, who died January 7, leaves two daughters, Miss Hilda Stewart and Miss Isabella Stewart of Newton Highlands.

Carol Anne Rowe

Carol Anne Rowe, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Rowe of 34 Walnut street, Needham, died January 20 at the Children's Hospital, Boston, after a short illness. She was a student at Needham Junior High School. Private funeral services were conducted January 22 at the Evangelical Congregational Church, Needham, with interment in Henniker, N.H. Besides her parents, she leaves three brothers, Nicholas, Jeffrey and Garret; her grandmother, Mrs. J. M. Andrews of Newtonville; and her paternal grandfather, Carl F. Rowe of Minnesota.

Dr. Landy Speaks To Emerson P.T.A.

Dr. Edward Landy, head of counseling services for the Newton School Department, was guest speaker last week at a meeting of the Emerson School Parent-Teacher Association.

A film loaned by the Massachusetts Mental Health Society entitled "Meeting the Emotional Needs of Children" was shown. A question and answer period followed an explanation of the film by Dr. Landy.

Dr. Landy stressed the importance of emotional functioning in the normal child and of the part parents, home, teachers and classroom play in helping young children to become well-adjusted adults.

The business meeting was conducted by William Hogan, president of the P.T.A. Refreshments were served during the social hour by Mrs. James Robinson and her committee.

February To Be For Daughters And Fathers

The February meeting of Our Lady's Holy Name Society will be most unique. This month has been set aside as Fathers and Daughters Month, and the members of the society accompanied by their daughters will attend the eight o'clock Mass on Sunday, February 14, to be followed by a Communion Breakfast in the High School Hall. The Holy Name Choir will furnish the musical portion of the program, under the direction of Miss Florence Herlihy, organist.

Another feature will be of unusual interest is the selection of the speaker to address the meeting. It will be the first time that a woman will be the principal speaker.

Mother St. Urban, Director of the Convent of Good Shepherd in Boston has been invited to attend and has accepted the invitation. Mother St. Urban was born in Sligo, Ireland and received her early education from the Ursuline Sisters in that country. At the age of 12 she came to the United States and took up residence in New York City, attending the public schools. Upon graduation from Wadleigh High School she furthered her studies along commercial lines at Columbia University.

Upon graduation from Columbia University she entered the business world becoming

MOTHER ST. URBAN

secretary to the Manager of the Syndicate Department of the well-known Conde Nast Publishing Company. After following a business career for the next two years Mother St. Urban entered the Convent of the Good Shepherd in 1922 and trained for work in Social Service, geared mainly towards the rehabilitation of delinquent girls. After having served for many years at Springfield, Mass. and Providence, R. I., she was appointed Superior of the Convent located in Albany, N. Y., and in 1949 was assigned to her present position in Boston.

Mother St. Urban is well-known in her chosen field and is a most interesting speaker, and Fr. Peter Brudzinski, Spiritual Director and Charles Scipione, Jr., President of the Society feel that they are most fortunate in having her present at the meeting. It is expected that an unusually large number of men will be in attendance with their daughters.

In Advertising Fraternity

Paul R. Albertson, a senior at Babson Institute of Business Administration, in Wellesley, was recently elected to membership in Alpha Delta Sigma, the national professional advertising fraternity, and has been formally initiated by the local college chapter. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Albertson of 86 Stuart road, Newton Center.

To Celebrate President's Holiday

Newton College of the Sacred Heart has begun the second semester of the academic year with the annual retreat, to be given by Reverend Herbert de Souza, S.J., of Fordham University, from Tuesday to Friday of this week. On the following Tuesday, February 2nd, students will celebrate the annual President's Holiday, in honor of Mother Eleanor S. Kenny RSCJ, president of the college since its foundation in 1946 and now in charge of the expansion program which will begin with the completion this spring of the academic building at a cost of one million dollars.

The holiday will begin with a Missa Cantata at nine o'clock, followed by the presentation of a play after which the students will present good wishes to Mother Kenny. The play, on the life of St. Francis, will include in its cast Jean-Marie Curran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Curran of Ardsley Park, Irvington-on-Hudson, New York; Mary Leigh Madden, daughter of Mrs. Alfred L. Madden of South Allen street, Albany, New York; Mary Winslow, daughter of Mrs. Randolph Winslow of 3106 P street, N.W., Washington, D.C.; Evelyn Higgins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Higgins of 963 Centre street, Newton Centre, Massachusetts; and Constance Hanley, daughter of Mrs. Francis I. Hanley of 788 River-side Drive, New York City.

In the evening the students and their guests will attend a concert by Miss Mary Van Vleck of the college music faculty, and Miss Jacqueline Miller of Boston, both holders of diplomas from the Plus XII Institute of Fine Arts in Florence, Italy; Miss Van Vleck in piano, and Miss Miller in voice.

Square Dance Saturday to Aid Exchange

The first of three events to be held for the purpose of raising funds to defray the expenses of the Newton High School exchange students for their trip to Hershey, Pa. and Cleveland, Ohio, and also for the entertainment of the students from the Hershey High School and Cleveland High School when they come to Newton is a square dance to be held at the Normandy Ballroom Saturday, at 8 p.m.

It has been announced by the Committee for the square dance that there will be a limited number of tickets sold at the door. The committee has obtained the services of Albert Haynes and his five-piece orchestra for this dance. Mr. Haynes has a national reputation for calling at square dances. Box lunches will be auctioned off at 10 p.m.

Dates have been set for the other two events which will be a Rummage Sale to be held at the Newton High School on Saturday, February 20, and a Pops Musicale to be held on Saturday, March 6, at the Normandy Ballroom which has been donated by Mr. and Mrs. Gill. Details of these events will be announced later.

The Hershey High School students will arrive in Newton on March 21 and the Cleveland High School students will arrive in Newton on April 4. The Newton High School students will leave Boston for both Hershey and Cleveland on April 19.

Newton Cub Pack Elects Officers

Ralph Angier was elected cubmaster of Pack 22 of the Newton Cub Scouts recently at the annual meeting held in the Hunnewell Club, Newton.

Also elected were Robert Lee, Philip Nawfel and Archibald Feinberg, assistant cubmasters; Dwight S. Simpson, chairman; Benjamin Shattuck, vice-chairman; Kenneth Gleason, treasurer; Mrs. Duncan Edmonds, secretary; Mrs. Alexander Pratt, awards and decorations chairman; Mrs. Vinton T. Butterfield, program chairman; and Mrs. Robert Bolan and Mrs. Arthur Karol, den mother recruiters. Mrs. Rudolph Michelson was appointed telephone captain.

Those present applauded the work of Edwin Shifman during his recently-completed term as pack chairman.

Promoted in Hobart AFOTC

Robert C. Stewart of 36 Walter street, Newton Centre, has been promoted to cadet major in the Hobart College Air Force ROTC. Stewart, a senior at Hobart, is a member of the Schola Cantorum, Band, and Theta Delta Chi fraternity. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Stewart.

NY Mutual Honor Goes to Newtonian

Morris Greenspan of Newton, a representative of The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, has earned membership in his company's Top Club.

The honor organization is composed of the company's top-ranking underwriters throughout the country. The company said Mr. Greenspan's high ranking resulted from an outstanding record of service and production in both life and accident and sickness insurance.

Clothes, bric-a-brac, furniture and miscellaneous articles will be on sale. Mrs. Frederick Hawkins, Mrs. Alex R. Miller, Mrs. Frank Simmons, Mrs. Edmund Miller, Mrs. George Strandberg, Mrs. Hans Fischer, Mrs. Ben Shattuck, Mrs. Raymond Garon, Mrs. Everett Olds and Mrs. William Diman are on the committee for the affair.

St. Philip Neri Guild Luncheon

Dr. Francis J. Maguire of Waban will be the principal speaker Feb. 3 for the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Day Luncheon at 12:30 p.m. in the St. Philip Neri Church Auditorium. The three churches in Waban and chairmen sponsoring the day are Mrs. Marcel Durot, Chairman of St. Philip Neri Church; Mrs. Gordon B. Gifford, Chairman of the Church of Good Shepherd and Mrs. Raymond W. Blaisdell, Chairman of the Union Church.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club of Newton will meet at the Hunnewell Club on Wednesday, Feb. 3 at 10 a.m.

The program speaker, provided by the Civics Committee will be Mrs. Genevieve Oncley, member of the Newton School Committee. Hostesses for the day will be Mrs. Stephen Currier and Mrs. Ivan J. Geiger.

Mrs. Philip Fishbane, Lewis F. Perry, Mr. and Mrs. David Stone, Dr. and Mrs. John H. Knowles, Mrs. Mary L. Turner and David H. Jacobs, all of Chestnut Hill, recently became members of the Museum of Science in Boston.

NUF Woman's Club 35th Birthday

Mrs. Edward F. Roberts, president, will preside at the club birthday celebration on Monday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the Emerson School. Drama Chairman, Mrs. Richard F. York, will introduce a program of dramatic sketches entitled, "Mr. and Mrs."

Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. John H. Springham and pourers are Mrs. William Melea and Mrs. Raymond Capobianco.

All-Newton Music School

About five hundred people attended the Family Dance Evening sponsored by the Parents' Association of the All-Newton Music School held at the Normandy Ballroom of Norumbega Park last Friday evening, January 22. It was an evening of fun for children and parents as both groups participated in Square Dances, Mexican Hat Dance, Bunny Hop, and both received lessons in the art of the Mambo from Dick Champagne.

Malcolm McKenzie of West Newton was the lucky winner of the door prize—a large basket of fruit.

The money raised from this dance is to be used for scholarships for students at the All-Newton Music School, and to augment the Building Fund.

Light Your Porch Tonight

Success of the March of Dimes will be up to the Mothers Thursday, Mrs. Frederick J. Mahony of the Newton Mothers' March on Polio declared yesterday.Promptly at 7:00 p.m. this evening people all over Newton are asked to turn on porch lights to have mothers call.
Apartment house occupants are urged to tie a handkerchief on their door knob if they wish the canvasser to call.A throng of mothers and fathers who are wearing "tonight I am a mother"
cards, possibly 500 strong, will begin a one-hour canvass of houses and apartments that represent the drive's last chance of going over the top.To assure victory more women are needed. People are ready and willing to give for such a noble cause but we must have volunteers to do the collecting. Will Newton mothers who wish to help in this one-hour canvass get in touch promptly
with Mrs. Mahony, Bristol road, West Newton, Bigelow 4-3390."This is quite literally a very crucial time in the history of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis," Mrs.
Mahony declared. "A vaccine that promises to end the menace of polio will be tested on nearly 1,000,000 children throughout the nation."Newton Mother's March Committee is headed by Mrs. Mahony. Newton committee members are: Newton Upper Falls, Mrs. Daniel F. Coakley; Newton Lower
Falls, Mrs. Joseph H. Doyle; Newton

No Deals With Traitors

When Benedict Arnold induced General Washington to give him command of the vital stronghold of West Point so that he might betray it to the enemy during the Revolutionary War, he set a pattern for traitors.Now a New Jersey court has ruled that calling an American a Communist is libelous because it's equivalent to calling him a traitor—a Benedict Arnold. The court ruling, however, was hardly necessary to make that point clear when the daily press
is full of stories of Communists stealing our defense secrets for Russia—even atomic secrets which may send millions of Americans to a dreadful death.Under these circumstances, it should be obvious that Communists must not be allowed to hold office in unions. The law already provides that union officials cannot use the facilities of the National Labor Relations Board until they have made affidavit that they are not Communists,
but that is not enough. The Communists have demonstrated again and again that they are as shrewd as Benedict Arnold in laying plans for treason. If it suits their purpose, they have no hesitation about making false affidavits.Businessmen should not be required to deal with a Communist-dominated union.
And it should not be necessary for them to decide which unions are Communist-dominated and which are not. That is a job for the police, the FBI, and other governmental agencies.That's why industry favors the bill to strengthen the facilities of the Department of Justice and other executive agencies charged with ridding unions of Communists and Communist agents. The bill should be passed at the coming session of Congress. No modern Benedict Arnold should be allowed to betray either his fellow-employees or his employer.

Political Overtones

The proposal to which Whitmore and the other officials of the communities in the MTA district object would transfer the roads fixed charges, amounting to just under $6,000,000, from the transit system onto the cities and towns as a permanent assessment.This would be merely a bookkeeping transaction since the cities and towns already are paying close to $9,000,000 annually, and if the Governor's plan worked out they would be assessed approximately $3,000,000 less than at present, resulting in a saving in their tax levies.

The local officials object to the permanent aspect of this proposition, feeling that they would virtually surrender any hope whatever that the MTA ever will be self-supporting.As far as anyone can peer into the future, there isn't any real hope that the MTA ever will be able to pay its own way, but the officials aren't ready to concede that to be a fact and don't want to commit their communities to paying $6,000,000 a year to the cost of running the MTA for the next 66 years.One thing Mr. Whitmore must have discovered at his first meeting of the MTA Advisory Board is that nobody wants to pick up the tab for the road's staggering
deficit.The property owners don't want to continue paying it. The riders don't want to pay higher fares. The Mayors are opposed to both higher fares and payment from their tax levies. They'd like to subsidize the road from the gasoline tax except that such a step is unconstitutional at the present time, and the legislators from other section of the State probably wouldn't agree to such a move even if it could legally be made.The only thing that can be done at the moment is to effect a compromise between Governor Herter and the city and town
officials and make the necessary minor revisions in his bill so that the $6,000,000
would be assessed only "temporarily" against the cities and towns rather than permanently. The difference will exist more in theory than in fact, but it will assuage the objection of the local authorities.The proposal for curbing the use of comic books in election campaigns is not only sensible but necessary to halt a practice that has assumed vicious proportions.
One political columnist has offered a protest that the suggested restriction on the use of comic books for campaign purposes would be a violation of the freedom of the press. His reasoning seems not only illogical but even on the ridiculous side.Comic books were used in the 1950 campaign to assail the late Lieutenant Governor Arthur W. Coolidge and again in 1950 to attack Governor Herter.Not only are the rules of good taste and decency invariably violated by the persons who put out the comic books,
but the facts usually are distorted to present a completely false impression.The bill presented to the Legislature would prohibit the distribution of the comic books unless the consent of the candidate to be aided was obtained.Hitherto, the comic books have been published by some political group or labor organization, and the candidate they were intended indirectly to assist could disclaim any responsibility for them.We hope that political campaigning in Massachusetts has not sunk to the point where we can't dispense with comic books which contain savagely subtle attacks that a candidate would not make in public.Vice-President Nixon last week was designated "Salesman of the Year" by the Los Angeles Sales Executive Club for
"selling the United States to the people of the world" on his recent round-the-world trip.

Rumor Has It That Dever Will Not Run . . .

Democratic leaders in attendance at the Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner were in disagreement as to the meaning behind the remarks of ex-Governor Dever when he said he would not use an affair of that time to announce his political intentions.Many of the party chieftains got the impression that Dever has decided to undertake a political comeback next autumn
and that he will announce his candidacy either for Governor of the U. S. Senate
early in February.That, however, is contrary to information this writer has received from extremely reliable sources.The present impression of persons extremely close to Mr. Dever is that he will not be a candidate for any office
next fall but will remain at his law practice and will assume a prominent role in the Democratic party and campaign
very actively for the Democratic State ticket.If that is so, it means that there will be free-for-all battles for the Democratic nominations for Governor, U. S. Senator, Lieutenant Governor and Attorney General.Mr. Dever would still retain a great deal of influence in Democratic councils
but not nearly as much as if he were to be a candidate himself for high office.It means also that the Democratic office-seekers probably will not attach too much importance to the Democratic State Convention next June and that those passed over by the convention will carry their fight to the voters in the September primary.Two Democrats now being mentioned as possible candidates for Governor are Robert F. Murphy of Malden, the Democratic leader in the House of Representatives, and Patrick J. Sonny
McDonough of Dorchester, the only Democrat in the Governor's Council.Murphy is one of the veteran members of the House and a party wheelhorse. Mc-Donough is serving his eighth year in the Executive Council and was in charge of the recent Jackson-Jefferson dinner.Other possibilities, of course, are State Treasurer Foster Furcolo, who is certain to run for either Governor or the Senate;
Sheriff Howard Fitzpatrick of Middlesex County, who has his eye on the gubernatorial nomination; Congressman Philip J.
Phibbin, who would like to step up and run
for the Senate; and ex-Mayor James M.
Curley, who declares that he is definitely a candidate for the Senate.The political firing will begin just as soon as Mr. Dever discloses what he intends to do and whether or not he will be a candidate.

Report-

Harold A. Wooster, librarian and secretary.Mr. Wooster explained that a study will be undertaken this year "of the organization and functioning of the library departments and services. A point of special pressure is the expansion of the schools has stretched the resources of the Newton Free Library to the breaking point. We are concerned with maintaining the professional standards of the library staff and in securing strong replacements as retirements and changes occur."The report also recommended
"an improved entrance and exit" to the Main Library building from Elmwood street, Newton, "as it is clearly evident that the 80-year location of the Main Library will be its location for many years." Judge Weston said the work should be accomplished "at modest expense."In his report to the board, Librarian Harold Wooster expressed concern over weakening of the library staff. "In proper honesty," he said, "it has been necessary to state in recent annual reports that this library has been suffering a bleeding process in which we have lost strong members of the staff to other libraries or through retirement or resignations, and have had great difficulty in trying to secure equivalent replacements. This institution is passing through a period of staff rebuilding where it is essential for the future strength of the library that changes shall provide advancement, not retreat, in staff strength.""A survey of the library classification plan in terms of present minimums, maximums,
of annual increments and opportunities for advancement is most important as it is in the other professional services of the city. Consideration must be given to the need for additional full-time staff members."Explaining the extent of library services during the past year, Mr. Wooster reported that 435,376 adult books and 312, 363 juvenile volumes were taken out by borrowers, for a total circulation of 747,739
books. Adult circulation dropped by 5,253 books, but juvenile circulation increased 8,898 volumes over the previous year."Statistically, the Newton Free Library is the fourth public library in Massachusetts in the total of its annual circulation and among the first four libraries in this respect in cities of comparable size in the United States," the librarian stated.Mr. Wooster estimated that the present $228,176 budget
should be increased by 50 cents per capita or a total of $40,000 "to meet the requirements of the above-average, superior service which the Newton Free Library is providing." He pointed out that the percentage of the budget spent for staff services "is well below
the national average of cities
the size of Newton."Speaking of the purposes of the library, Mr. Wooster said,
"During the year 1953, the matter of 'freedom to read' received much national attention and deservedly so. We also should be concerned with the number of our citizens who exercise the freedom not to read and acquires only superficial knowledge on matters which concern them deeply and where an informed citizenry is essential to national strength and welfare.""The book collection is one of the great essentials of the library; the arrangement, selection, listing, its availability,
are major library responsibilities.
The Newton Free Library book collection is well over a quarter of a million volumes or some three volumes for every man, woman and child in the city."In conclusion, Mr. Wooster stated, "While there is the occasional disheartening experience of discipline problems of thoughtless use and abuse of library facilities, almost all library users show their interest
in, and appreciation of, public library services. Working withsuch library patrons is the greatest satisfaction in the library profession.""The city library today is an essential institution in our American way of life. Plans are now under consideration
for strengthening, improving and extending the use of Newton Free Library facilities in the year which lies ahead."

Polio-

Infantile Paralysis. The program encompasses both the trial vaccine, in which we place
such hope, and stepped-up quantities of gamma globulin. This new phase of the fight against polio will need more than $25, 000,000 alone in 1954, and this is only part of the story, one third to be exact."In addition to the new prevention program, March of Dimes funds are urgently needed, he said, to pay for the continuing
three programs of patient-care,
research and professional education."Operation of these three programs took upwards of $50, 000,000 last year," he stated,
"including $29,000,000 for patient aid, and we must anticipate obligations of equal proportions in the months that lie ahead.""Here is another way of expressing the increased need. If you normally have given $2 to the March of Dimes, your contribution helped to pay the hospital bills for local polio patients, helped train the physical therapists who attended them,
and helped finance the scientific research that not only improved the patient's chances for recovery but also sought to protect us all from ever getting polio. This year, still another dollar is needed to help finance
the new polio prevention program.""Because 1954 offers us the greatest hope in history in the fight against polio, I urge everyone who has not already done so to mail a contribution today to Polio in care of the local postmaster. Make it generous."

Annual Music Sabbath to Be Observed Fri.

Annual Jewish Music Sabbath will be observed at Temple Emanuel, Newton Centre,
at its late Friday evening Service January 29, beginning at 8:15 p.m.Cantor Gabriel Hochberg, assisted by the Temple Emanuel choir under the direction of Mr.
Louis E. Siagel, and accompanied at the organ by Mr. Arthur Fultz, will introduce liturgical selections by five Jewish composers of Synagogal music.
Selections to be chanted by Cantor and Choir will be: Tzadik Katamor, by Louis Lewandowski; Hashkiveinu, by A.
Dunayewsky; Ahavas Olom, by

might well say that the Commission offered the people what they voted for most recently.

"The Democrats are also wailing that if the plan is adopted, the Republicans will lose the 1954 election. If they really believe that, then why are they wailing.

"It is my personal belief that we have set up four sure Democratic districts, the third (Philbin), the seventh (Land), the eleventh (O'Neill), and the twelfth (McCormack), and one sure Republican district, the ninth (Nicholson). The remaining nine or fighting districts. If the Republican party is to carry those districts it must in every case nominate strong candidates and work to elect them. Nomination of weak candidates or failure to get out the vote on election day can lose any of them.

"After an exhaustive study of the facts and figures involved, including what redistricting practice is here and in other states I believe that our commission has been fair and that future results will justify our recommendations."

According to Hochberg, however, "this plan is a flagrant violation of fair play and, if successful, will literally disenfranchise hundreds of thousands of voters in the state because it will deprive them of true representation in our national legislative body. If this is not corruption, what is?"

Hochberg continued by saying that "the present lineup of eight Republicans and six Democrats is already disproportionate to the political makeup of the state in which Republicans and Democrats are fairly evenly divided. The new plan would result in a proportion of 10 Republicans to four Democrats and is political dynamite which the Republicans would do well to handle with care.

Hochberg pointed out that "even Republican Representatives appeared at the State House hearing on January 21 to protest this gerrymandering, one of them stating that it is 'a betrayal of the good people who put our party in office.' This Representative is now in hot water with his own party for his attempt to call a foul."

Mr. Hochberg concluded by pointing out that "the new first district under the Republican plan would stretch 60 miles from Fitchburg to the New York state line, and the third district, which defies description, has been variously called a mutilated swastika, an octopus, a republiwazi, and a gimme-ander."

Rev. Cupitt-

From 1943 until 1951 he served as Pastor of the First Congregational Church in South Portland, Maine. While he was there the church increased its membership from 213 to more than 1,000, and its budget from $3,500 to $25,000. In addition a large Parish House was added to the meetinghouse at a cost of more than $65,000. Mr. Cupitt organized the men of the church in a "Fishermen's Club" for visitation evangelism whose activities figured largely in the rapid growth of the church.

Besides his duties as Pastor, Mr. Cupitt served the State of Maine as Chaplain of its School for Boys and Chairman of the State Parole for several years. He has also served as President of the Portland Seamen's Friend Society and President of the South Portland Lions Club.

In the larger fellowship of the church he has been a member of the Board of Directors of the Congregational Christian Conference of Maine, Chairman of the Nominating Committee of the General Council of Congregational Churches, and Staff Correspondent for the Christian Century.

On August 1, 1951, he became Field Work Director at the Andover Newton Theological School. In this capacity he has had charge of "on the job training" of 150 young ministers by supervision of their work in churches and by classes in Church Administration and Federal Leadership.

Mr. Cupitt will be the 14th minister of the First Church which was established in 1664 and for many years served as the only meeting house for the town of Newton. Today this historic old church, situated at the corner of Centre and Homer streets in Newton Centre, has a total membership of 1200 and serves a parish of more than 2000.

A 64-year-old machinist in Pittsburgh recently received $500 for making a suggestion through which his factory was able to further improve its operation. By winning the award he also demonstrated the truth of the adage that "you're never too old to learn."

Mrs. George H. Lusk Named To Head Residential Division In 1954 Red Cross Fund Campaign

Elliot Church of Newton. On Sunday, the Junior, Junior High and High School Departments of the Church School will meet at 9:30 a.m., and the Nursery, Kindergarten and Primary Departments at 10:45 a.m. The Morning Service of Worship with sermon by the minister, Dr. Ray A. Eusden, will also be at 10:45. The John Elliot Fellowship will meet at 5 p.m. and the Young People's Fellowship at 7 p.m. On Tuesday, the Board of Religious Education will meet at 7:45 p.m. Wednesday is Woman's Association Day. There will be a noon luncheon, with Mrs. William B. Ayres and Mrs. Robert C. Lee acting as hostesses. The business meeting and program will follow immediately. Mrs. Earl W. Douglas will speak on "New Horizons, A Message from St. Andrew's." The Carol and Youth Choir will rehearse at 3:30 p.m. and the Church Choir at 7:30 p.m.

Don't worry about the job you don't like — somebody else will soon have it — Sydele Quarterly.

Mrs. George H. Lusk of Newton has been appointed chairman of the Residential Division of the 1954 Newton Red Cross Fund campaign, according to a recent announcement by Edward C. Michaud, fund chairman.

At a recent meeting of Village chairmen and vice-chairmen held at the Chapter House, Mr. Michaud outlined plans for the March campaign to raise $94,400. Each Village chairman is now busy organizing her volunteer group of vice-chairmen, captains and solicitors.

Residential chairmen are as follows: Auburndale, Charles R. Shipley, Jr.; Chestnut Hill, Mrs. Bartlett Harwood, Jr.; Newton, Mrs. Earl C. Mitchell and Mrs. Henry L. Johnson, Jr.; Newton Centre, Mrs. James D. Blackall; Newton Highlands, Mrs. Kenneth J. Waite; Newton Lower Falls, Mrs. Gerald J. Crowley; Newton Upper Falls, Mrs. Ralph W. ## Active in United World Federalists

The United World Federalists, pledged to support Secretary Dulles' demand for UN Charter Revision next year, today announced the sponsors for its dinner meeting at Harvard Club of Boston on February 2.

From Newton, the UWF has among its sponsors Dr. Sam Hedrick, 288 Parker street, Newton Centre; Mrs. J. D. Jamieson, 93 Homer street, Newton Centre; Richard J. Mintz, 50 Beaumont avenue, Newtonville; Mr. and Mrs. Edward V. Hickey, 215 Temple street, West Newton; and Mr. and Mrs. Lucius E. Thayer, 27 Estabrook road, Newtonville.

The speaker of the evening will be Pierce Butler, Jr., Chairman of UWF's National Executive Council, who will outline the world's opportunity to establish enforceable world law on disarmament within the framework of the United Na-

Contributions to Red Feather Campaign Here This Year Greater Than Ever Before

The final Campaign report of the 1954 Red Feather Campaign in Newton issued this week shows total subscriptions of $301,052. This compares with $300,080 raised in the 1953 campaign.

Copies of this report are being sent this week to the 2,369 members of the Campaign organization in Newton by David Berkman, Campaign Chairman. In a letter of thanks to workers accompanying this report, attention is called to the fact that the total number of givers this year, 22,428, is the largest in Newton Campaign history, and Chairman Berkman gives credit to the workers for its success and expresses sincere thanks for the fine spirit and co-operation shown by all associated with the Campaign.

The Manufacturing Division, Frank G. Webster Chairman, and the Women's Mercantile, Mrs. Dorothy H. Reed Chairman, were in a virtual tie as leaders in the Campaign, each division having raised 97 per cent of its goal. The Men's Mercantile, Eugene A. Cronin Chairman, raised 95.9 per cent; the Residential Division, Henry J. Wilson Chairman, raised 92.6 per cent; Public Schools Division, Frank Zervas Chairman, raised 92 per cent; Advance Gifts Division, Bartlett Harwood, Jr., Chairman, raised 91.1 per cent and the Municipal Division, Chief Philip Purcell Chairman, 88.8 per cent.

The top groups in the Women's Mercantile Division were Auburndale, Mrs. Ulmont S. Jones Chairman, with 102 per cent; Newton-Wellesley Hospital, Mrs. Milton Grayson Chairman, 100.6 per cent; Private Schools, Mrs. Glenn O'Rourke Chairman, 100.4 per cent; Newton Highlands, Mrs. Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., Chairman, 100 per cent; and Clubs & Societies, Mrs. G. Gale Harper Chairman, 98.6 per cent.

The leaders in the Men's Mercantile Division were Automobiles, William Maher, Chairman, 116.3 per cent; Banks, Charles E. Smith Chairman, 95.2 per cent; Special Accounts, Thomas J. Lyons Chairman, 94.7 per cent; and Bank Employees, John J. White Chairman, 94.6 per cent.

In the Residential Division Chestnut Hill, Morton S. Grossman Chairman, led with 100.3 per cent, closely followed by Newton Lower Falls, Carl E. Peterson Chairman, with 100.1 per cent. Other leaders were Waban, Edward A. Green Chairman, 97.4 per cent; Oak Hill, James H. Zimmer Chairman, 95.4 per cent and Auburndale, Frederic D. Tower Chairman, 95.1 per cent.

In the Advance Gifts Division Chestnut Hill, William M. Cutler Chairman, led with 94.2 per cent followed by Newtonville, Winslow C. Auryanssen Chairman, 93.6 per cent; Newton, Dr. Thaddeus P. Krush Chairman, 92.4 per cent; Waban, Clarence I. Drayton, Jr. Chairman, 91.5 per cent; West Newton, Rev. John Ogden Fisher, Chairman, 91.1 per cent and Oak Hill, Mrs. Victor F. Horst Chairman, 90.9 per cent.

The Advance Gifts Division leads in subscriptions received with $117,594. The amounts raised by the other divisions are: Residential Division, $99,099; Manufacturing Division, $46,977; Mercantile Men's Division, $12,088; Mercantile Women's Division, $10,648; Special Division, $7,286; Public Schools, $4,785 and Municipal Division, $2,575.

Now On Display — The Finest Buy for '54 The Completely New Star Chief Pontiac!

CREATED TO CLOSE THE GAP BETWEEN LUXURY AND LOW COST

The finest buy for '54. That's a large statement — but you can quickly prove it. Just take the Star Chief for a drive and park it next to today's costliest car.

Compare dimensions. That extra length that gives a fine car its distinguished silhouette and the extra riding ease — the Star Chief has it, too! In fact, few cars at any price match its 214 inches over-all!

Then check interiors. The Star Chief, too, provides the finest fabrics and leathers. You'll drive this Pontiac with greater pride than any car you have ever owned. And that pride will include its performance. This is the most powerful Pontiac ever built — and still a wonder for economy!

It's a lot of car, this Star Chief — in fact, the most car its price ever purchased. And that price is so easy that you can own it whatever your buying plans. Come in and let us prove it.

Sisterhood of Temple Emanuel To Observe Jewish Music Month

The Sisterhood of Temple Emanuel will dedicate their next meeting, which takes place on Wednesday, February 3, at 12:30 p.m. in the temple vestry, to the observance of Jewish Music Month. The sisterhood choral group, directed by Cantor Gabriel Hochberg, will present a musical comedy entitled, "Twas a Frame-up—We Protest!" Mrs. David Short, president of the sisterhood, will preside at the meeting, at which time an original oil painting will be given to Temple Emanuel in honor of Mrs. Harry Parritz, past president of the organization for the last three years. At this time, the Sisterhood will also present the proceeds from their annual donor luncheon to the Temple Building Fund. Mr. Joseph Greenbaum, president of Temple Emanuel, will accept the painting and the check. Hostess for the afternoon will be Mrs. Samuel Broomfield, and the opening prayer will be read by Mrs. Paul Wallens, Mrs. Frank Breznick and Mrs. George Orenberg will pour at the coffee hour which precedes the meeting. All Sisterhood members and friends are invited to attend.

The Board of Directors of the Temple Emanuel Sisterhood held its meeting on January 17 at the temple, with Mrs. David Short, presiding. Reports on the results of the donor luncheon and program book were given by Mrs. Maurice Helfant and Mrs. Lewis Sherman. A request for drivers for the Golden Age Club Meetings was urgently made by Mrs. Dora Fine, chairman of the group, in her report. Mrs. David Short, president, received many volunteers to help on the Mothers' March of Dimes in the current polio drive. Members were invited to join the lecture series and study groups which are being formed by Mrs. Harry Erlich and Mrs. Morris Danovitch. Mrs. Frank Metcalf outlined various plans for this year's Torah Fund.

and colleges, who run the soda fountain and serve as cashiers, waitresses and salespeople. The Volunteers are organized by Chairmen of the Day from the various Newton villages and Wellesley: Monday, Mrs. Henry T. Patch; Tuesday, Mrs. Morgan Campbell and Mrs. J. Herbert Young; Wednesday, Mrs. Frederick C. Wells and Mrs. Lewis S. Pilcher; Thursday, Mrs. William McCarthy; Friday, Mrs. Elton G. Cushman and Mrs. Winthrop Dow; Saturday, Mrs. Edwin F. Gibbs and Miss Helen B. Chase. The other members of the Executive Committee are: Miss Florence E. Dodge; Treasurer, Mrs. Maurice A. Longworth; Assistant Treasurer, Mrs. Ward Cornell; Finance Chairman, Mrs. Francis F. Munroe and Mrs. M. H. Talbot, Co-chairmen of the Gift Shop, Mrs. Robert H. Smith, Secretary, and Mrs. Paul T. Babson and Miss Maida Flanders, Ex-officio.

The Shop is located in an attractively re-decorated and air-conditioned room which was formerly an operating suite. It is connected with the main building, but completely removed from the hospital atmosphere. A varied menu of home-made specialties is served.

Most of the customers, nearly 10,000 a month, are hospital personnel, visitors to patients and local business people. The Volunteers accept no tips, but interested friends and customers occasionally make generous donations to the Shop.

There is a Gift Shop located in the Coffee Shop which specializes in unusual and distinctive gifts, many imported, most items priced from $1.00 to $5.00. The greeting card section, the gifts for babies and hospital patients and weddings are all outstanding.

The biggest news of the Gift Shop in 1953 was the "Hospital Service Cart" which alone grossed nearly $3000, an increase of $850 over 1952. The "Cart" is a mobile gift shop which a Volunteer takes on a daily tour of the Hospital. The members of the Committee assisting the two Gift Shop Chairmen are: Mrs. Paul Goddard, Mrs. Paul Ingraham, Mrs. Hugh Munro, and Mrs. Edward Sawyer.

The Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Coffee Shop is considered to be a model for similar projects throughout the country. The Chairmen and Managers of the Shop are most cooperative in advising other interested groups who want to establish shops in their local hospitals.

Miss Louise Lynch of Newton Wed to Ensign Joseph Conlon

A reception at the home of the bride's great-aunt, Miss Elizabeth A. Barry in Newton Centre, followed the marriage on Jan. 16, of Miss Louise Lynch, daughter of Mrs. Donald F. Lynch of 26 Lewis street, Newton, to Ensign Joseph F. Conlon, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Conlon of Boston.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Robert P. Barry, pastor of St. Clement's Church, Somerville, great-uncle of the bride, officiated at the 9 a.m. double ring ceremony at Our Lady's Church, Newton in a setting of white gladioli and snapdragons.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Charles Lynch, the bride wore a cream silk taffeta gown with a full train, an off the shoulder neckline, and a lace yoke embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. Her illusion veil was caught to a silk taffeta cloche cap with matching lace medallions and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of snapdragons, stephanotis and a white orchid.

The maid of honor, Miss Sarah Lee Whelan of Belmont, wore an emerald green faille gown with a bouffant skirt, and a hat of white flowers and ivy. White snapdragons and baby chrysanthemums made up her bouquet.

The bride's mother wore a street-length powder blue lace gown and a cloche hat. Pink camellias made up her corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a coffee lace street-length gown and a cocoa straw hat. Her corsage was of white camellias.

Mr. Franklin Conlon, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Mr. Leo Quinn and Mr. Gerald Quinn, cousin of the bride.

The bride was graduated from Newton High School and Newton College of the Sacred Heart. Ensign Conlon, a jet pilot in the Navy, was graduated from Porter Military Academy and Boston University. They will live in Pensacola, Fla., following a wedding trip to Jacksonville.

Newtonians

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. McCarthy of 52 Channing road, Newton Centre, celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary yesterday, Jan. 27th. They were married in the Church of Our Lady Help of Christians in Newton by Rev. James F. Kelly.

Mrs. McCarthy is the former Theresa J. Mahoney, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Mahoney of Newton and Mr. McCarthy is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John McCarthy of Newton. Both are life long residents of the Garden City and until his retirement in 1947, Mr. McCarthy was Superintendent of Streets for the city of Newton.

The couple have three children, C. Albert McCarthy of Beacon street, Clement McCarthy of Waltham and Miss Claire McCarthy of Newton Centre, and eight grandchildren.

Make Awards To Newton Scouts

"IT MEANT AS MUCH when I was an Eagle," explains Charles C. Hornbostel as he offers the congratulations of Norumbega Council's Advancement Committee to Bruce M. Dow of Troop 9 who attained the coveted Eagle rank, and Victor I. Anapolle, Troop 27, who received the Eagle Bronze Palm at Norumbega's mid-winter Court of Honor last Friday evening.

One Newton Scout attained Eagle rank and another received the Eagle Bronze Palm at Norumbega Council's mid-winter Court of Honor held last Friday evening in Wellesley's Junior High School auditorium. The new Eagle Scout is Bruce M. Dow of Troop 9. Bruce is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dow. He has been an Assistant Patrol Leader, Patrol Leader, Senior Patrol Leader and is now a Junior Assistant Scoutmaster. An active Scout he has spent four summers at Camp Quinapoxet in West Rindge, New Hampshire, been in six Camporees at the Nobscot Reservation and participated in a "wilderness" canoe trip.

Victor I. Anapolle, already an Eagle Scout, was presented the Eagle Bronze Palm. Victor is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Louis Anapolle. He has become a Nobscot Guide and in recent years has spent three seasons at Camp Quinapoxet and participated in four Camporees. In his Troop he has been a Patrol Leader and a Den Chief.

Two additional Newton Scouts were given the Emergency Service Award. They were Mark Peterson of Troop 19 and Agri Kainaj of Troop 49. These boys are now especially well qualified to help out in disaster work.

Winners of the recent Winter Camporee at Nobscot were also announced at the Court of Honor. The Flaming Arrow Patrol from Newton's Troop 19 recorded a perfect score to win in the cabin camping class. Members of this Patrol are: Edward Gittins, Patrol Leader; Robert Pearson, Carl Uehlein, Samuel Apple, James Voss, Harvey Struthers, James Perkin, Carl Marran and Stephen Platt.

Those Newton Patrols to receive an "A" rating for the Camporee were: Hawk Patrol of Troop 7C, Wolf Patrol of Troop 9 and the Lion Patrol of Troop 19.

Other awards to Newton Scouts went to 1 Life Scout, 3 Star Scouts, 14 First Class Scouts and 44 Second Class Scouts. These were:

Life Scout—Bennet Serkin of Troop 19.
Star Scout—Leonard S. Shaw of Troop 10; Allen Newcomb of Troop 14; and Allan Warsaw of Troop 17.

First Class Scout—Alan Rogers, Gregory Harris, Rupert Carven, and William Christmas of Troop 10; William Jalliet, and Brian O'Connor of Troop 21; Marvin Weinast of Troop 16; Ralph Boudreau, Francis Copan, Robert Copan, Kenneth Lappin, Robert Melanson, Russell Morrell, and Albert Alexander of Troop 3.

Second Class Scout—Paul B. Burns, Howard Eisen, Peter Hamilton and Robert G. Stuart of Troop 27; Michael First, Edward Grossman, Howard Gorney and Stephen Silverman of Troop 72; Thomas M. Harper of Troop 10; Richard Siegel of Troop 14; Peter Guber, Herbert Hurlich, William Lerner, Edward Goldstein, Richard Goldstein, Harry Spear, David Starr, Stanley Goldberg, Harvey Cream, Larry Falk, Howard Schneider, Myron Seligman, Robert Cahners, Herbert Howard, and Larry Rittenberg of Troop 17; Nathan Custer, Thomas Gately, David Katz, Robert Russell, and Mark Walsh of Troop 16; Albert Alexander, Robert Copan, Nicholas Greco, Kenneth Lappin, Nicholas Lupo, Robert Melanson, Russell Morrell, Donald Vachon and Anthony Scattreto of Troop 3; John Swanton of Troop 22; Daniel Ellis, John Moore, Martin Skinner and Richard Schlesinger of Troop 7C.

Color Guard for the Court was provided by seven scout stepping Explorer Scouts from Explorer Post 81. Some most enjoyable musical selections were rendered by the Wellesley High School Band under the direction of Mr. Raymond Leech.

More than 40,000 young Americans have come of age in the last 18 years; at the present rate of growth, our country will have more than 300,000,000 people in it by 1999.

SPORTS

Number five in a row was racked up by the Newton High skaters Friday night as the Orange and Black sextet walloped Melrose 6-1 in the most impressive game by the locals to date. Freddy Dow took the scoring honors by pumping home three goals — one a period — but this was strictly a team period. . . . It was almost a football game on ice as the Newton forwards and defensemen charged over the Melrose red line like a horde of hungry fullbacks. The Red Raiders, who hoped to vault into second place over Newton, had their speedy attack blunted by a firm defense and a crushing offense which kept the puck in the Melrose end throughout the game. . . . Newton's steadfast defense showed at its best in the third period when, with the Orange and Black leading 5-0, penalties banished two Newton skaters from the ice. Ordinarily when a team has a two-man advantage, the goalie is in for a rough time, but not a single shot was made on Tom McLellan during the one-minute disadvantage. . . . Chief damage to the Melrose attack during the penalty periods was done by center Art DeStefano, who broke up several rushes by stealing the puck in mid-ice and stick-handling prettily to waste time. He even got a shot on the Melrose goalie as he completely disorganized the Red Raiders.

Dow picked up his first goal at 2:15 of the opening period as Newton forced the play into the Melrose end. He picked up a rebound of a long shot by Capt. Jimmy Wiper and slammed it home from about seven feet out. . . . Number two for Dow came on the end of a pass from DeStefano at 7:13 of the middle stanza, and the same combination clicked for the fifth Newton tally at 2:30 of the final period.

The game was close, despite a definite territorial edge enjoyed by the Orange and Black skaters, through the halfway point of the encounter. Then Gerry Sullivan, who was playing his second game after returning to the eligibility list, fired home from close up a Bill Reilly, DeStefano combination pass. . . . Gerry was skating at the time in the place of Dow as coach Jack Hall tried a little experimenting. His return to the ice is a welcome sight to Newton rooters since it gives the Orange and Black a strong second line which is a strong scoring threat. Gerry is also the fastest skater in the Newton lineup. . . . After Sullivan's tally at 6:38, Dow netted his second goal at 7:13, and little Paul Ryan — who kept Newton in the GBI running at the opening of the season — blasted in another short one 43 seconds later. This three-goal barrage blew Melrose out of the game, leaving spectators wondering how high Newton could go if it kept the pressure on. . . . The final goal was by Billy Reilly at 6:13 of the final period. Melrose spoiled Newton's shutout in a scramble 41 seconds later as the Orange and Black third line made one of its infrequent appearances while the Melrose first-stringers remained on their skates.

One of the sidelights of the romp was a near apoplexy by Capt. Wiper at the end of the second period. A penalty was called on Kenny Hays during a savage charge on the Melrose cage, and Jimmy felt his teammate was being unjustly punished since a Melrose skater had raised his stick first. . . . Words followed by the excitable Jimmy, turning the referees face a bright purple. DeStefano, always as cool as the ice he skates on, took the role of peacemaker and calmed Jimmy down to prevent a more serious argument.

The round-robin part of the GBI season opens Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Arena, with the last two sessions the following Friday night, February 5, and Saturday afternoon, February 13. Newton will meet unbeaten Belmont in the final game with a good chance to snap Belmont's bid for an unblemished season's record. . . . The Orange and Black's only hope for a piece of the G.B.I. title is for third-place Cambridge Latin or fourth-place Melrose to knock off the leaders or at least tie them, while Newton must remain on top in the three games. . . . Brookline gained revenge for its one-point gridiron loss to Newton on Thanksgiving Day by dropping the Orange and Black in the Newton gym in an incredible game. Brookline took the lead early in the second period after an 8-8 deadlock and ran out in front 44-34 by the time the third period ended. . . . Then Newton came to life when an all-court press jolted the poise of the Wealthy Towners, surging to a 50-50 tie with a minute and five seconds left on the clock. Instead of freezing the ball until the final seconds and then shooting, Newton tried a long set which nearly clicked. A rebound attempt was also off the rim and Brookline took over.

What followed must have been one of the most fantastic shots ever witnessed at the Newton High court. Brookline dribbled and passed the ball far from shooting distance to eat up the remaining time. With only five seconds left, Brookline left forward Jim DeWire dribbled into the right corner, desperately seeking an opening to pass toward the hoop. . . . Blocked off from the center of the court, DeWire blindly let loose with a hook shot from the second row of seats. The ball arched straight through the basket without nudging the rim, and time expired before Newton could pass the ball in from out-of-bounds.

Stage Magic Show At Weeks Jr. High To Assist School

The fourth annual magic show of the Presto Club was presented yesterday (Wednesday) in the auditorium of the Weeks Junior High School as a club project to raise funds for a microphone stand and an ultra-violet lens for the school. The club also hoped to raise enough from its program to enable the members to see the annual Society of American Magicians Show in Boston this May. Guest performer was Eric Brown of Milton, a 17-year-old senior in Milton Academy and a member of the Society of American Magicians. He has appeared on television and is assistant to the noted magician, Fu Ling.

Other members of the club aiding with the production were Alan Riggs, Richard Givon, Bill Lowery, Norman Bernson, Clinton Pollack, Charles Paulino, Roderick Beach, Eugene Schwab, Bob Siegel, Kenneth Hahlow, Myron Seligman, Jeff Lindeman, Arthur Pearlstein, Melvin Nurenberg, Joe Felton, Barry Sidel and Dick Cohen.

The sponsor of the Presto Club is Herbert B. Downs, graphic arts instructor at the school and acting president of the Boston Assembly of the Society of American Magicians.

Hold Mid-Winter Meeting Feb. 3

February 3 at 8 o'clock the mid-winter meeting of the Warren Junior High School will be held at the school auditorium. Parents, teachers and pupils will all have a share in the evening's program. The school band will play a few selections at the beginning of the evening. A representative of the student body will express the appreciation which the school feels for the Assembly programs provided by the PTA this year, and the cheer leader groups will demonstrate their skill in leading a cheer.

Interest centers chiefly however, on the speaker of the evening, Mr. Franklin P. Hawkes, outstanding educator in Massachusetts and a man who has had extensive experience in the schools of this state. He is highly qualified to speak on his subject, "Freedom of Educational Opportunity."

The Thrift Shop will be open from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. 25 percent and 50 percent mark-downs and wonderful teenage bargains will be in effect.

To Attend Institute

Two staff members of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association will attend an Institute on Emotional Factors in Tuberculosis today (Thursday) at the Mason Memorial Building in Boston. Miss Ruth Raphael, executive director, and Mrs. Therese D'Abre, health educator, will participate in a program designed to promote better understanding of the emotional problems of the tuberculosis patient and his family.

Want Ad For Wife Brings 50 Replies; Widower Marries One Of Them

"But when Harvey met Misie Smith he knew that he had found the woman he wanted to marry. Misie was young. She lived nearby and was easily accessible. She liked him. He liked her. He was sorry already that he had even sent another prospective wife in West Virginia money to visit him.

"Harvey could have married into some money. There were women, he said, with cars and farms and houses who wanted to marry him. Misie Smith doesn't have such things.

"But of course, that doesn't matter much. Harvey is not a poor man. He has a five-room house in Newport worth about $5,000, he estimates. He has one-half acre of land, planted with potatoes, corn, and beans. He has a big stock of canned goods. He has a smoke house with three big hams.

"And Harvey has an income of more than $300 a month. He earns one dollar per hour working on neighborhood farms. He also gets a government check every month because his only son, by his second wife's former marriage, was killed in the war."
